GILDED DOME TOTTERS.

John D. Works Is "in Bad."

Hiram the First Goes Up in the Air When He Hears of Attack on Pet.

Senator-elect's Letter Opposing Recall of Judges Is Awful Blow.

Insurgents at Capital, From Johnson Down, Frenzied by "Ingratitude."

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The gilded dome of the Capitol tottered today. Underneath it the Governor, the Senate and the Assembly struggled piously to keep the lid on the insanity that sought to vent itself against Senator-elect John D. Works, former Councilman of Los Angeles, because of his recall heresy.

Had Henry been here it is possible the dome would have been blown to Xipus or Imperial by this time. Nothing is more sacred in the Capitol than the omnivorous recall as instituted by Hiram the First. Hence the unexpected departure of Works from the ranks of the unlimited recalists by writing to Charles S. Wheeler in opposition to including judges in the recall almost produced "progressive chaos" here today.

DEARER THAN WORKS.

To understand Works's crime against "progress" it must be understood that the recall was more of a reform issue in the last campaign than was Works; that it is much nearer to the heart of the Governor than is Works; that it is in charge of Senator Lee Gates, who got out of the Senatorial race and let Works run for the primary nomination and then got out of his way here when the Legislature met, at the behest of Lissner; that Gates and Johnson are now facing a crisis because of this recall thing and that every other part and parcel of the "progressive" machine has been brought into action for it.

The spectacle of Works in such a crisis pouring a flank fire into Gates and Johnson is too much for the "progressive" Legislature. On all sides Works's action is branded as perfidy and "ingratitude."

It is the last word that tells the story. Works was not wanted by the Legislature for Senator. It obeyed Lissner's dictation in the name of progressiveness. There was a splendid chance to pass Works and Spalding by and dress Gates in the toga. But Lissner demanded of Gates that he suppress the movement. Gates did it. Then he did more. He made the speech nominating Works. It was heroic immolation.

And to glorify the former Councilman of Los Angeles members of the Legislature disobeyed the plain import

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The will of Dr. Crippen, who was hanged on November 23, last, for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, was probated today. It is a brief document and gives all his property to Ethel Leneve, the girl who fled to Canada with him after the murder. She is made the sole executrix. The will was made in prison on November 8, 1910, and was witnessed by two of the wardens. The gross amount of the estate was placed at $1341.63.

RACE PROBLEM JOLTS SENATE.

Bourbons Fussed by Root's Speech.

Commonplace Debate Regarding Direct Election Lifted Into Sensation.

Lynching, Peonage and Negro Disfranchisement Cited Against Plan.

Asserts Nation Must Cling to Right to Supervise the Polling in South.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Through the injection of the race question into the hitherto comparatively commonplace discussion in the Senate of the resolution providing for the election of Senators by direct vote, Senator Root of New York and Senator Bacon of Georgia today lifted that controversy to a plane of almost sensational interest.

The incident arose in connection with extended remarks made by Mr. Root in opposition to the Borah resolution. The New York Senator said the national government could not afford to barter away the privileges of supervising Senatorial elections in the South, if needs should arise for such supervision.

Also, in speaking of the observance of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution, he said that from time to time "things happen" in the Southern States which should not be permitted and which should be corrected, if not by the States themselves, then by the national government.

The declaration caused a visible stir on the Democratic side of the chamber. It at once became manifest that if anything was lacking to insure opposition by the southern Senators to the resolution, it had been supplied by Mr. Root.

BACON TAKES IT UP.

Senator Borah, who has charge of the measure, charged that the race question had been dragged into the case for the purpose of alienating the minority. When Mr. Root concluded his speech, about 3 o'clock, he left the chamber. Mr. Bacon immediately expressed a desire for specifications regarding the things which the New York Senator had said "happened in the South" which ought to call for Federal intervention, but the demand did not reach Mr. Root until after Senator Beveridge had made a formal reply to the New York Senator's speech and the Senate was prepared to adjourn.

Just before 5 o'clock Mr. Bacon revived the southern question. Repeating the remarks of the New Yorker, Mr. Bacon addressed himself directly to Mr. Root and asked:

"What are the things to which the Senator refers?"

Mr. Root's response was in nowise evasive or indirect. Recalling the substance of his previous remarks, he said that he had had reference to the voluntary surrender by the government of the power to enforce the protection of the suffrage privileges of the southern negro.

Facing Senator Bacon and speaking with great deliberation, Mr. Root enumerated the peonage system, the lynching of negroes and the disfranchisement provisions, such as the "grandfather clause" in the Constitutions of many southern States, as some of the things calculated to deprive the black man of that equal protection which the Constitution guarantees.

ROOT'S CONCLUSION.

"The people of the United States are willing to fold their hands and wish the southern people 'godspeed' in working out their delicate problem so long as they do so in kindness, but if there should be such oppression as to call for the exercise of the power of the United States to enforce the amendments, that power will be exercised, and it ought to be."

Mr. Bacon replied that such questions as lynching and peonage were in nowise cognate to the subject under consideration. He accounted for lynchings on the ground of the severe provocation, which he said, deprived men of their reason and made demons of them. He found one cause for them in the scarcity of population, and to show that this crime is confined to no one part of the country, he said there had been a lynching in New York in which the victim was burned to death. As for the charge of peonage, he declared there was no practice in the South worthy of that name.

Indicating doubt as to Mr. Root having had such offenses in mind, Mr. Bacon said he was sure the New York Senator was really inveighing against supposed offenses against the franchise.

"Am I correct?" questioned Mr. Bacon.

"Perfectly," responded Mr. Root. Then he added:

"If the Constitution should be so amended as to provide for the election of Senators by direct vote of the people, the national government must retain the power to make these elections free and unhampered. Without this privilege the government of the United States surrenders the power of its own preservation."

"Does the Senator contend for the power of Congress to annul laws now on the statute books of the States, such as the grandfather clause?" asked Mr. Bacon.

"Without the slightest doubt," said the New York Senator.

"Well," returned the Georgian, "the Senator has certainly put us on notice."

"I meant to put you and also the country on notice," replied Mr. Root, speaking with force.

Mr. Bacon said that to change the manner of election of Senators without giving the States control was a grave risk. Speaking of the past experiences of the South, he said:

"If the southern people had not contended heroically against conditions which confronted them, civilization would have been destroyed in the South and it would have been but a short time before it would have been destroyed in the entire nation."

After a few remarks by Senator Fletcher of Florida regarding the so-called peonage system of the South, the incident closed for the day

PLAN WEDDING, BRIDE ABSENT.

Parents of Dorothy Arnold Engage Rooms There for Conference.

Youth Admits Marriage Is Imminent But Girl Is Still Missing.

Reporters Besiege Families in Hotel; Process-server Is Thwarted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Griscom, Jr., of Pittsburgh, who announced in New York yesterday that Miss Dorothy Arnold was alive and would be found in a few days, arrived here unexpectedly tonight after his father and the father of the missing girl had held a conference in New York.

It is believed here that his purpose in coming to this city is to meet Miss Arnold.

That there may be a wedding here, if one has not already taken place, was indicated by the arrival tonight of the young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Griscom. The party have a suite at the Chalfonte.

It was reported here tonight that Miss Arnold's father and one of her brothers had engaged rooms at a hotel here for tomorrow and that Mrs. Arnold would come here immediately after her arrival from Europe tomorrow. That a conference in which the prospective marriage will figure is expected here, is admitted by the younger Mr. Griscom.

"About the reported marriage," he said to reporters, "I will have something to say tomorrow and desire to talk to some one who will give me a square deal. I will think it over and may write a statement."

REPORTERS BESIEGE GRISCOM IN HOTEL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Feb. 10.—George S. Griscom, Jr., of Pittsburgh, whose name has been linked with the disappearance of Miss Dorothy Arnold of New York, reached here at 8:20 tonight from New York.

He went at once to the Chalfonte Hotel, followed by almost a score of newspapermen, many of whom had accompanied Mr. Griscom from New York.

He refused to discuss the Arnold case in any manner whatsoever. He said:

"I have nothing whatever to do with the Arnold case, and have no connection with it. I am down here on private business."

Asked how long he expected to remain at the shore, Mr. Griscom replied:

"That depends on how long it will require me to transact the business that brought me here."

It was suggested to Griscom that a rumor was current that he had come to this city to be married to the missing New York girl. In reply he said:

"I have already stated that I am not here in connection with Miss Arnold. Further than that, I will not discuss any mission here."

GRISCOM'S BAGGAGE IS ATTACHED FOR DEBT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Without his luggage, which had been seized in debt proceedings, George S. Griscom, Jr., hurriedly left New York for Atlantic City at 3:02 o'clock this afternoon. He had arrived from Italy only last night with the expressed purpose of aiding in the search for Dorothy Arnold, who, he was confident, is alive.

While his father was engaged in a series of conferences with the Arnold family and counsel today, the son stayed with his mother in their rooms at an apartment hotel all forenoon, practically in a state of seige. The hotel, had at the request of the Griscoms, denied any communication with them by newspaper reporters. Meanwhile, a process server waited in the hotel corridor. He represented a Fifth avenue haberdasher, with a claim of $250 for goods said to have been purchased by Griscom five years ago.

Abandoning hope of serving the papers on Griscom in person, a blanket attachment was placed on all his baggage and he made the trip to Philadelphia with only the clothes he wore except a few necessities bought on the way to the station.

Father and son left the hotel in a taxicab together. They dashed from the building, slammed the taxicab door and whisked away to the Pennsylvania station, where the younger man sought police protection from persistent reporters.

The father returned to the hotel after seeing his son off, but refused to talk either of his son's affairs or of the conference which the father had had with the Arnolds. The conference lasted three hours.

"So far as I know," said Francis R. Garvan, counsel for the family, after the conference, "the case stands just where it did the day Dorothy disappeared."

Asked point-blank: "Will your son marry Miss Arnold?" the elder Griscom replied:

"I know of no wedding."

John W. Arnold, a brother of Dorothy, said after the conference today that from now on the family would act without the aid and advice of lawyers. He would not say whether this move means that the family was certain of her whereabouts.

UNIONISTS AIM JAB AT COURTS.

Member Introduces Bill to Cut Injunction.

Would Set Aside Remedy in Labor Riots.

Judiciary Committee Gets Anarchistic Measure.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The apex of unionite audacity was reached today when Assemblyman Ryan of San Francisco introduced for John I. Nolan on behalf of the labor trust, a bill to revolutionize the use of the injunction in labor disputes.

The measure is regarded as the most pernicious and subversive ever offered the Legislature. It went in with the rush of bills today and it is to have the united support of the San Francisco labor trust in an effort to pass it within the next two weeks.

The bill did not have the good fortune to go to the Labor and Capital Committee, which has indorsed everything the labor lobby asked, but was sent to the Judiciary Committee, which is more conservative. Its two important sections provide:

THE RADICAL BILL.

"No restraining order or injunction shall be granted by any court of this State, or a judge or judges thereof, in any case between an employer or employee, or between employers and employees or between employees, or between persons employed and persons seeking employment or involving or growing out of a dispute concerning terms or conditions of employment, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property or to a property right of the party making the application, for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law; and such property or property right must be particularly described in the application, which must be in writing and sworn to by the applicant or by his, her or its agent or attorney. And for the purpose of this act no right to continue the relation of employer and employee, or to assume or create such relation with any particular person or persons, or at all, or to carry on business of any particular kind, or at any particular place or at all shall be construed, held, considered or treated as property or as constituting a property right.

DEFINES (?) CONSPIRACY.

"In cases in the courts of this State or coming before any judge or the judges thereof, no agreement between two or more persons concerning the terms or conditions of employment or the assumption or creation or termination of any relation between employer and employee, or concerning any act or thing to be done or not to be done with reference to or involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall constitute a conspiracy or other civil or criminal offense or be punished or prosecuted, or damages recovered upon as such, unless the act or thing agreed to be done or not to be done would be unlawful if done by a single individual; nor shall the entering into or carrying out of any such agreement be restrained or enjoined unless such act or thing agreed to be done would be subject to be restrained or enjoined under the provisions, limitations, and definitions in the first section of this act."

MONEY TO ADVERTISE STATE.

Senator Burnett Introduces Bill Appropriating $300,000 for Publicity Work in the East.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Burnett has proposed a measure providing for an appropriation of $300,000 for advertising the State's resources and "calling attention to its agricultural, horticultural and industrial advantages." The appropriation is to be divided equally between the next two years and is to be expended by the State Board of Examiners. The measure comes from the Industrial Committee of Richmond district, San Francisco, and has the indorsement of the San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento Chambers of Commerce.

It indicates that the effort of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, as represented in the Hurd bill providing for an appropriation of $100,000, is making progress rapidly, for both measures bill is considered preferable because it creates a commission to handle the foreign exhibits and publicity while the Burnett bill is content to make an appropriation.

The success of either measure in whole or in part, depends entirely on how the state finances appear at the end of the session, and the expectation is not reassuring. The new system of gaining state revenue is proving an obstacle to much of the progress that the Legislature would make along similiar lines.

REAPPORTIONMENT BILLS IN.

Senator Thompson Introduces Four "Dummy" Measures to Save Protest on Forty-Day Period.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Thompson, chairman of the Reapportionment Committee, today introduced four reapportionment measures. An inspection of them, however, shows that they are all "dummies," introduced to save a place on the files and to avoid the objections of one-fourth of the membership of the Senate to their introduction after the forty-day period. Senator Thompson says he will offer the real reapportionment measure later through amendments or by a committee substitute measure.

Assemblyman Randall introduced a constitutional amendment today by which there will be a new method of apportioning Assembly districts. It provides that each county shall have one Assemblyman, regardless of population and that counties having a population of more than 50,000 shall have one additional Assemblyman for each 50,000 or fraction. It also provides for an immediate reapportionment in case it is adopted, instead of making it without effect until 1921. Randall says the scheme operates to penalize the great centers of population, in order to prevent them from dominating legislation by giving territory, natural resources and interests representation as well as population.

Another constitutional amendment by Assemblyman Walsh proposes that the number of Assemblymen shall be three times that of the Senate, this making a Legislature with forty Senators and 120 Assemblymen.

TO CALL "PINCHOTISM" BLUFF.

Legislation Introduced in Both Houses Calculated to Bring the Entire Matter Before the Courts.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Legislation designed to force into the courts the policy of Pinchotism in dealing with the public lands of the West was introduced in both branches today by Senator Campbell of San Luis Obispo and Assemblyman Poisley of Red Bluff. The measures were prepared by Russell L. Dunn, a San Francisco engineer, and represent the demand of those who dispute the right of the government, through its so-called "conservation" policy, to withdraw the lands—principally oil and lumber men.

One measure is a constitutional amendment requiring county assessors to tax all lands held by the United States which have been withdrawn from entry. The other is a State law having the same effect.

Both measures were submitted to the Governor and his administrators for their action, but, as nothing had been done with them, Dunn came here today and secured their introduction.

They are tactical measures, for both would be in violation of the articles of admission of California to the Union. But the passage of either one and its attempted enforcement would immediately give the antagonists of Pinchotism a chance to get squarely before the Federal courts the question of the right of the Federal government to own land and lease it and become the beneficiary of the increment. In other words, the forces behind the measures believe that the government must dispose of the lands as the Constitution requires.

That it may not lease, rent or contract out of this land is the contention, and the action of withdrawing these lands and then leasing mineral, oil, forest, or other rights, is alleged to be a violation of the contract between California and the Federal government.

DOES JOHNSON RELENT?

Attitude of Executive on Measure to Legislate Officials Out of Jobs Shows Curry Is Favored.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assurance from executive channels tonight say that the Governor will not press the Estudillo bill to combine the Building Association Department with the Banking Department and that the Black measure providing for a bureau with a single head will go through with the "Big Stick" behind it.

Either measure would legislate Charles F. Curry and Jake Transue out of office as building and loan commissioners but the Black measure brings the faint hope that Curry may be named as the single head of the new bureau. Efforts are being made to affect this because of the work Curry did for Johnson in the campaign after the primaries.

That the Governor is not forgiving, however, is shown by the appearance today of a measure in the Assembly, introduced by Bohnett abolishing the State Board of Harbor Commissioners and creating a new one to be appointed by the Governor and removable at his pleasure. This is to clean up the San Francisco board which the Governor characterizes as "machine."

ANOTHER FREAK BILL.

HITS WAITRESSES HARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10...[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bill forbidding the employment of women in any place where liquors are sold was introduced by Assemblyman Gerdes today, after Senator Gates had refused to offer it in the upper house. It was presented by Mrs. Wayman of Los Angeles and others. Gates refused to introduce it because it would deprive all waitresses in the State of employment, as practically at the hoteds employ women in dining rooms where liquor is served with meals.

Harvard men in New York have received cards announcing the engagement of Percy G. Haughton of Boston, the coach of the Harvard football team during the last three years, to Mrs. Richard K. Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delano Whistler of Baltimore. The bride-to-be is a grandniece of the artist, James McNeil Whistler.

Voluminous.

ANGELENO INTRODUCES TWENTY MEASURES IN CALIFORNIA SENATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Hewitt finished his task on Los Angeles bills at 4 o'clock this morning, and today introduced twenty measures. He has about seventy bills which are intended to enlarge the efficiency of the municipal government in dealing with its big problems. In the work of shaping up the bills Hewitt has been assisted by City Attorney Shenk.

One measure is an act confirming the forfeiture of the Huntington fill at San Pedro to the city. This franchise was validated by the Legislature in 1907 on condition that the beneficiary begin work within one year. The act introduced today recites this failure to begin work and repeals the confirmation. This is intended to vest the city with absolute title to the area.

AFFECTS PUBLIC UTILITIES.

Another measure which has been urged by Lissner as chairman of the Board of Public Utilities empowers the municipality to provide for the interchange of service between public service corporations of the same class. This in effect will permit the city to require the two telephone systems to exchange service and also street railway companies to arrange for transfers to and from their lines. Hewitt introduced the bill with misgivings as to its constitutionality, which he will make the subject of further investigation.

BOILED HOG SWILL.

Another bill is destined to strike terror into the hearts of Vernon hog feeders and even to Garbage Contractor Alexander. It requires that all swill, before being fed to hogs, must first be cooked for at least thirty minutes at a temperature of 175 degs. The measure comes from Health Officer Powers and S. M. Haskins.

A constitutional amendment of Hewitt's provides that a municipality may prescribe the "terms and conditions" on which public service corporations may use the streets of a city.

At present such corporations may use them without permission and are accountable only for the restoration of the streets and damages. The amendment practically requires them to ask franchises.

SACRAMENTO.

PRECIOUS TRIO.

When the Legislature met Gov. Johnson made the I—R—R the first order of business in the inaugural address. He picked Gates to lead the fight for the precious trio. Gates swallowed the recall of the judiciary and went into battle. Now Works, the beneficiary of Lissner's whip, the Governor's trading of spoils, the Senate's and Assembly's plums and Gates's sacrifice and eloquence, turns on them all and uses his cudgel of sarcasm.

"Reform run mad." If the Legislature spoke its honest thought tonight it would admit contritely that "Reform had run mad" when works was chosen, even the Governor would admit that. What Heney would say ought not be printed.

Neither Senator Gates nor the Governor will discuss the Works letter. But each has put a rod in pickle. If there is any way on this earth to devise ways and means to apply the recall to Works it will be done. Senator Hurd is working on such a measure. In the meantime the "progressives" will ponder on the difference between a statesman of Flint's type and a common scold, possessing credentials from Lissner.

There is betting tonight that Works will read Lissner out of the "Progressive" party (as Works read Roosevelt out) and that he will call Gov. Johnson a demagogue before many moons.

MAELSTROM OF BILLS.

In a maelstrom of bills today the Legislature submerged itself and then went to bed tired out. This was the fortieth day of the session and after it passed no bill may be introduced without consent of three-fourths of members and the final rush required the Senate to hold a night session. In all 300 measures went in both houses.

The total in both houses for the forty days for all descriptions of measures is 2927, of these 2764 are for laws. The remainder are resolutions and constitutional amendments. The Senate has now 1231 bills on its files and the Assembly 1532. Both exceed the number of the last session on the fortieth day. Included in the flood today are many bills beside which a schoolboy's composition would be art. They are "Dummies," mere suggestions of bills filed in order to escape the three-fourths rule later on. They are not to be judged at face value as they are to be amended later on in committee.

This is the time to estimate how much longer the mill will grind. The administration hopes to get through by March 15, but appearances indicate that it will be nearer April 1. It is suggested by some of the old-time members, who have had to wait for the "Big Stick" measures to get through, that this will be an ideal date to adjourn. So far the session has been given in its lawmaking to advancing measures arrogating power to the Governor and punishing his political enemies. Of the forty bills passed most of them of importance are administration measures. There is still a list of 2700 bills to be passed on in the next forty days. What the outcome will be no one seem to know.

AVIATOR FLIES ABOVE JUAREZ.

GREETED BY CHEERS INSTEAD OF BULLETS.

Charles K. Hamilton Demonstrates Value of Aeroplane in Actual Warfare—American Soldier Takes Plunge Into Rio Grande to Avoid Sweeping Descent of Bird-Man.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles K. Hamilton, American aviator, made history today, when for the first time in the history of aviation, he flew over the city of Juarez, Mex., making an aerial reconnoissance of a fortified city from an aeroplane in time of actual warfare. Not only did Hamilton fly over Juarez, despite the alleged threats of the Federal troops to riddle his aeroplane if he should attempt to cross the boundary, but he circled over the barracks at a height of hardly 500 feet, as if inviting the very thing of which he had been warned.

The Federal soldiers were greatly excited by the strange spectacle and the roofs on which the regular guards are posted soon swarmed with troops and citizens, who after a brief minute of awed silence, sent up "vivas" and other cheers and words of encouragement to the aviator. On his way back up the river, Hamilton caused an American sentry to jump into the muddy waters of the Rio Grande by diving straight at him. The soldier, taken by surprise, plunged into the river, gun and all, emerging to shake his first at the aviator, who was then fully a quarter of a mile away.

Hamilton circled the American customhouse and returning to the field sailed around in the air for several minutes with Roland G. Garros, who had also flown across the Rio Grande, but had not attempted to go over Juarez.

HOUSE OF MYSTERY FOR SALE.

New York Mansion in Which Late Millionaire Maintained Ward, Is Put on Market.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The grey stone mansion at No. 660 Park avenue called by some "The House of Mystery," where for ten years Charles T. Yerkes maintained in years his ward, Miss Emily B. Grigsby, is to be sold. Miss Grigsby will make her home in London.

Hamilton Busby, Miss Grigsby's lawyer, told a reporter today that after the sale she would leave America and would buy in London a far finer house than the one Yerkes built for her.

"Miss Grigsby has put a big price on the Park avenue place," said Busby, "and intends to get it. It may take a long time, but she is willing to wait."

The house was deeded to his ward by Yerkes on March 18, 1898. It is a great pile of gray stone and has an imposing approach of two flights of steps that lead to a brass and iron covered vestibule. The house extends 100 feet along Park avenue and twenty feet on Sixty-seventh street. The interior is furnished with regal splendor.

MR. TAFT APPEALS TO AMERICAN FARMER ON RECIPROCITY ISSUE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLUMBUS (O.) Feb. 10.—Carrying forward his campaign for Canadian reciprocity, President Taft today made a direct appeal to the American farmer on that issue.

He declared that the impression that reciprocity with the Dominion of Canada would injure the farmer was without foundation, and by statistics he sought to lend actual proof to his assertions.

Mr. Taft declared without reservation that the reciprociey agreement with Canada would be a benefit rather than a detriment to the agricultural interests of this country.

FINDS BENEFIT IN UNITY.

As for himself, the President said that he felt that the undoubtedly general benefit of the pending agreement would entirely vindicate those who are responsible for it.

"The greatest reason for the adoption of the agreement," he argued, "is the fact that it will unite two countries with kindred people and lying together across a wide continent, in a commercial and social union to the great advantage of both.

"Such a result," added the President, "does not need to be justified by a nice balancing with a pecuniary profit to each."

Mr. Taft's address, the first of his present trip into the Middle West, was delivered at the National Corn Exposition in the auditorium at the State fair.

The auditorium which has a seating capacity of more than 4000 was crowded to overflowing. Mr. Taft's address was listened to apparently with the deepest interest and he was warmly applauded at intervals.

TO VISIT ILLINOIS.

President Taft will press his reciprocity campaign in Illinois tomorrow.

The President arrived here from Washington at 1:40 o'clock. He was met at the station by Gov. Harmon, a committee of citizens and a cavalry escort. After a brief parade through the city. Mr. Taft motored out to the fair grounds.

Owing to a severe cold and sore throat the President appealed to the auditorium for silence. The President brought his physician, Dr. J. J. Richardson of Washington, with him.

Mr. Taft left tonight for Champaign, Ill. He will be back in Washington Monday morning to remain until the end of the session of Congress.

LUMBERMAN TO FIGHT CANADIAN RECIPROCITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Washington lumber manufacturers are protesting against the proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada which, among other things, puts lumber on the free list and cuts down the duty on shingles from 50 to 30 cents per thousand.

One of the strongest advocates for the maintenance of the tariff on lumber is D. E. Skinner of San Francisco, president of the Port Blakeley Mill Company. Mr. Skinner has started for Washington to personally see President Taft and protest against the removal of the duty. Mr. Skinner claims that the removal of the duty will be a severe handicap to the mill men shipping to California and that the benefits of trade likely to develop as a result of the Panama exposition will be lost if the British Columbia manufacturers are permitted to dump their cheap lumber, carried in foreign bottoms, on the California market during the construction period of the exposition.

British Columbia lumber manufacturers are enthusiastic over the proposed reciprocity treaty and have withdrawn all opposition, according to John Hendry, vice-president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association. Mr. Hendry claims that shingles should also be placed on the free list. He stated, however, that the reduction from 50 to 30 cents per thousand would be a great gain to the Canadian industry.

A. D. McRae, managing director of the Canadian Western Lumber Company, owners of the second largest mill in the world at New Westminster, says:

"The British Columbia lumber interests would benefit greatly by the reductions made by the United States. The United States shipping regulations, requiring the use of United States bottoms, would give Canadians an advantage in the California market equal to $1 per thousand on lumber.

Fruit Growers Protest.

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 10.—A delegation of fruit and vegetable men from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, numbering 1500, waited on the Governor today protesting against reciprocity as it is proposed with the United States.

Solons Favor Reciprocity.

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 10.—As a result of a Democratic caucus of Wisconsin legislators last night a joint resolution was introduced in both houses today, favoring the immediate adoption of the proposed reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada.

Grange Opposes Treaty.

DES MOINES, Feb. 10.—A. B. Judson, master of the Iowa State Grange, sent out requests today that all members of the organization write or wire to their Congressmen to oppose the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

Canadian Endorsement.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—The Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, in convention at Regina, representing 9000 farmers adopted resolutions today unanimously indorsing the reciprocity agreement with the United States.

Iowans Oppose Proposed Pact.

DES MOINES (Iowa) Feb. 10.—The Farmers' Institute at Harlan today adopted resolutions against the Canadian agreement.

PORTUGAL PREPARES FOR FULL CHURCH AND STATE SEPARATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LISBON, Feb. 10.—The draft of the bill for the separation of church and State has been completed. It guarantees liberty of conscience, education and propaganda. The churches will be at the disposal of the clergy, the only stipulation being that the clergy be able to keep them up.

Bishop Joseph C. Hartzell of the American Methodist Episcopal Church, during his recent visit to Lisbon, forwarded to President Taft an account of an interview he had with Dr. Alfonso Costa, Portuguese Minister of Justice, on the subject of religion and education in Portugal and her colonies. A summary of this report follows:

Dr. Costa asked the bishop to explain to the people of the United States that the government of Portugal is not anti-religious but anti-Jesuit and anti-Reactionary."

Portugal, he said, purposed to give perfect liberty to all sects—Catholics, Protestants and Jews and even to those of no faith whatsoever.

The legislative assembly, he declared, would be asked to pass a law granting this liberty to all religious organizations based on the general respect for individual liberty. These organizations would be expected to furnish the government with rules and regulations, methods of work and information as to how funds would be raised, but in no case would they be allowed to levy taxes upon the people.

All contributions would be voluntary and there would be no subvention by the government. The whole question of separation of church and state, said Dr. Costa, had been carefully considered and it was planned that a decree of separation would be promulgated as soon as the public mind was prepared for this important change.

The minister expected to make a tour of the provinces giving the lectures so that the subject would be fully understood by the people.

"If the separation had come," said the minister, "within the first months of the republic, it might have had the appearance of a movement against religion and the religious spirit; coming now or within a few weeks, separation cannot be but the dispassionate acquiescence of people to liberty in religious matters."

GUARD OFFICERS LOSE JOBS.

Oklahoma's New Governor Comes to Conclusion There Are Too Many Gold Lace Positions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Adjutant-General Frank M. Canton announced yesterday that Col. Roy V. Hoffman, a major, three captains and five sergeants of the Oklahoma National Guard have been relieved from active duty by command of the Governor and the work on the State rifle range at Chandler has been turned over to the State Board of Affairs.

Col. Hoffman has had general charge of the work for some time under an executive order issued by Gov. Haskell. He has also been serving as District Judge during the same period.

The order resulted from a report made Wednesday by Gen. Canton to Gov. Cruce. What this report contained, except that it showed that so many officers were not necessary on the job, has not been made public.

TREASURE SHIP LOOTER CAUGHT.

Salt Lake Police Hold Suspect for San Francisco.

Think He Robbed Humboldt of Alaskan Bullion.

Secret Service Agents Hot on Trail for Months.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10.—Three days of investigation into the record of a prisoner now in the City Jail, who was arrested here on Monday last with his wife, have sufficed to convince the secret agents of the government that the man is not Charles McCabe, the name he gave the police, but is in reality C. A. Barrett, who has been sought for months by the Federal authorities as the plunderer of the packet of registered mail and gold bullion which was shipped from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Seattle, last August. The treasure stolen in transit amounted to $74,000.

The prisoner's wife was released yesterday by the police, an examination by the secret service agents failing to show she had any knowledge of McCabe's alleged connection with the robbery.

It was stated by the Federal agents today that, inasmuch as a part of the stolen bullion had been disposed of in California, they would arrange to have McCabe extradited to San Francisco at once. Whether any of the bullion has been recovered in this city the detectives refused to say.

The government detectives claim to have trailed Barrett through a dozen cities since last August. On February 1 they learned of the arrival of McCabe and his wife in Ogden. The pair were followed to Salt Lake by a secret service agent and a member of the local detective force. The couple, on arriving here, went to a rooming-house and there the detectives also made their residence. From an adjoining room, the movements of the pair were watched. A visit to their room while they were asleep netted the officers a fully loaded automatic revolver, an electric searchlight and $11 in money. The man gave his occupation as a cook.

The bullion stolen was a part of a shipment of $112,000 which was consigned to the mint at San Francisco. It was shipped from the Washington-Alaska Bank at Fairbanks, Alaska, in two strong boxes. The treasure was taken to Seattle by the steamer Humboldt. At San Francisco it was discovered that one of the boxes had been plundered. Registered mail to the value of $15,000 and $50,000 in gold bullion was reported missing.

FLIRTY WIFE GETS BIG SCARE.

Held Prisoner in Tailor Shop by Wrathy Husband Through Long Night Hours, Then Forgiven.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hearing that his wife, Mrs. Freda Heckeroth, was receiving attentions from Thomas Maiers, a local tailor, Thomas Heckeroth, railroad engineer, came from Deer Lodge, Mont.

On arrival, Heckeroth remained in hiding until in the evening and then followed Mrs. Heckeroth to Maiers's tailor shop. She was met by Maiers. After both had entered his shop, the wrathy husband rattled the door knob and pounded the door. Telling Mrs. Heckeroth to keep quiet, Maiers bolted the door on the inside and left. Up to this afternoon he has not been seen.

Mrs. Heckeroth spent the night in the tailor shop, while Heckeroth and a friend were hidden in a doorway across the street. At 5 o'clock Heckeroth abandoned his watch for Maiers and telephoned Maiers's house, whereupon one of Maiers's sons arrived, broke the padlock, opened the door and released Mrs. Heckeroth.

Mrs. Heckeroth was led to the entrance of the Fidelity building, where her husband confronted her. She fell upon her knees in the dark hallway, shielding her face with her hands and sobbing her regrets. Heckeroth called a taxicab and took her home.

WOLVES KILL OFF ALASKA DEER.

Ravaging Bands of Ferocious Beasts Threaten Lonely Prospectors and Fishermen.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ketchikan cablegrams say the decimation of the deer herds in Southeastern Alaska and the fear that these food animals will be entirely wiped out by the timber wolves, which, during the past two years, have increased in extraordinary numbers, has led to the signing of a petition asking Congress to pass a law providing for a bounty on wolves.

The petition will be forwarded to Gov. Clarke. A copy will be forwarded to Delegate James Wickersham, at Washington.

The wolves have increased in such alarming numbers that it is now unsafe to venture into the hills alone. Several people have disappeared in Southeastern Alaska recently, and it is common belief that they have become food for ravaging bands of these animals.

Large packs of wolves are reported in the vicinity of all outlying mining camps, and adjacent to the fishing villages along the coast. So greatly have the deer suffered from the attacks of the wolves that natives who usually have been able to shoot a deer almost anywhere along the seashore at this time of the year now scarcely ever see one.

ARIZONA LIKES CONSTITUTION.

ELECTION RESULTS IN VOTE OF APPROVAL.

Unusually Light Polling Reported, But Figures Indicate Balloting Three to One in Favor of Document With All its Fads and Fancies—Little Interest in Result.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Returns thus far received from the election indicate that the vote for the constitution is about 75 per cent. of the total number cast. About eleven thousand votes have been reported for ratification and about three thousand against, with possibly 2000 ballots yet to hear from. The ratio is expected to be about the same. That relatively little interest was taken in the election seems to be shown by the returns, for their total is to be compared with the Congressional election in 1908, when 27,676 votes were cast.

Out of a total registration of about 9000 in this county only about 3700 votes were cast. The great register is old, but the vote was light. Only one county in the Territory went against the Constitution, and that one a small subdivision of Apache normally Republican. Even Tucson, where the strong anti-constitutional forces had been at work in both parties, kept up the average vote in favor of the document.

It is now proposed to send a trainload of Arizonans to Washington to urge the final approval of the Constitution by the President and Congress, as representing the desire of three-fourths of the voters of Arizona.

HOSTILE INDIANS ON TRAIL.

Fears Entertained for Four Sheepmen of Reno, Missing for Some Time Past.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through the discovery that a party of nine Indians, known to be passed over the country which has desperate characters have recently swallowed up the four sheep men Cambron, Laxague, Indiano, and Erramuspe, it is feared by the friends of the missing men that they may have met with foul play.

Another theory, however, is advanced that may also account for the disappearance of the men. It is asserted that the men had another flock of sheep at Quinn River and that they may have gone to this point after finding the sheep on the ranges in the northern part of Washoe county in good condition.

The presence of the hostile Indians is taken as a bad sign, inasmuch as they have been reported as having been piling up stones and placing signs thereon warning people not to follow them on penalty of death. These Indians are said to have murdered a boy some time ago and the party may have been entrapped and killed.

The ten men who went in search of the missing men from Eagleville yesterday, will not return until Monday, unless something unlooked for develops, as they have at least fifty miles to cover before they can begin the search.

SACRAMENTO MAN DISAPPEARS.

Well-to-Do Pioneer Drops Mysteriously Out of Sight and Relatives Fear Foul Play.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Diedrich W. Eilers, a pioneer of Sacramento, has mysteriously disappeared. He was last seen by members of the household a week ago last Saturday, and, although an untiring search has been made for him since that time, no trace can be found.

Eilers, who was 80, left the house for a walk on Saturday, January 28. When he failed to return, a search was made. He was traced to Seventh and O streets, but there the trail was lost. It is feared someting has happened to him.

Theodore Eilers, a son, who resides in San Francisco, is in Sacramento looking for his father. He has asked the assistance of the District Attorney.

The missing man has lived in Sacramento many years and owns considerable property here. Years ago he conducted a grocery store. He is a member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows.

FRESNO HUBBY ADMITS CHASING; LETTERS WIN WIFE HER DIVORCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Letters, the important parts of which were typed with a red ribbon, were the exhibits in a divorce case in Judge Mogan's court yesterday, and the result was a decree of divorce granted to Zoe L. Dow against Roma E. Dow, superintendent of the Cudahy Packing Company in Fresno.

A letter written to the wife from Fresno, December 5, 1910, on blue paper, still further to enhance the color scheme, is as follows:

"Dear Zoe—If I can dodge a few creditors, will send you some money on Thursday. If you want to come down here, come on in the water's fine. You might find out a few things you don't know. I'm not sneaking around any back doors or crying in boxes. Publish what you please. I want no one to worry about me, so I try to keep in sight.

"I would worry nothing to get up and read every morning in the papers headlines in the papers as long as I have to live here this affair has been in the papers as long as [illegible] one of the most talked [illegible] in Fresno. The finish is only a matter of days, so I don't give a —— —— what they say or think. You ought to come. It would complete the picture and make a fine last act.

"Your press agents have given one little piece of news wrong—that is about my trying to get dope on you. Believe me, your movements are of no interest whatsoever to me. I don't care a —— —— what you do or where you go. ROMA."

Two women were mentioned in support of the plaintiff's charges—a Mrs. Willett and a Mrs. Belle Harriott, both of Fresno. Dow is said to have taken them to cafes. On November 11, 1910, he wrote Mrs. Dow to this effect:

"I am on the square with you, and tell you that I have been doing some chasing, but it has all been with one girl—Mrs. Willett, and she is a very nice little lady. We never went out and got drunk, made any rough house or raised any h— around town, or anywhere else. We would go out to dinner and then ride around, but there was never anything disgraceful done. Of course, there has been more or less talk, but no one saw us doing anything wrong."

The Dows were married at Los Angeles August 6, 1898. The decree carries an order for $35 a month alimony.

TANNER'S WIFE WINS DECREE.

Suisun, Cal., Woman Secures Legal Separation From Wealthy Husband and Is Granted Alimony.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SUISUN, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The sensational divorce suit of Jean McGreagor Kuhlman against Jacob Kuhlman, the wealthy Benicia tanner, ended yesterday in the granting of an interlocutory decree to Mrs. Kuhlman.

The case has been in the local and Appellate Courts for several months and the principal fight was made on property division and the amount of alimony. Mrs. Kuhlman sued for $300 a month. Th court allowed her $100 a month alimony and an additional $25 a month for care of the child. The property settlement was made out of court.

The suit was brought for cruelty and neglect. Kuhlman is one of the most prominent men in the county and a member of the Kuhlman-Zalz Tannery Company, with offices in San Francisco and works in Benicia.

An effort was made to compel Kuhlman to produce the books of the company in order to determine the extent of his fortune. He refused to show the books and contempt of court proceedings were instituted. It was this phase of the case that took it to the Appellate Court.

Medical Probation Officer of Los Angeles Juvenile Court Advances Theory on Incorrigibility.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That a large percentage of crimes committed by boys are the result of aching teeth, adenoids or other slight physical defects, is the opinion of Dr. John A. Collier, medical probation officer of the Los Angeles Juvenile Court.

In an article in the December bulletin of the State Board of Health, Dr. Collier says "the actions of every boy are due to impulses which arise from the brain and pass over the nerve fibres."

It is surprising how little parents know of their own children, and how many times they overlook the more common defects which, no doubt, contribute to the boy's insitability—the beginning of crime in boys.

"For instance, in impacted, decayed or aching teeth we have defects which produce marked irritability in a child and contribute to incorrigibility. So, in boys, today, we find the tendency to travel in the line of least resistance manifested in the form of truancies, incorrigibilities, frequent fights, desire for physical supremacy and the lowest department school marks of their lives."

Court Records Fail to Bear Out Maybelle Corey's Claim to Valuable Kern County Oil Lands.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement in New York by Mrs. Maybelle Gilman Corey that she, her brother and two sisters have suddenly fallen heirs to a newly discovered estate of $30,000,000 left by their late father, Charles H. Gilman of San Francisco, is not borne out by the records of the probate department here.

Charles H. Gilman's estate, as inventoried in the local court, has all been distributed.

Many years ago, while Charles H. Gilman was a merchant at Sacramento he obtained from the State a certificate for the purchase of certain lands in Kern county. Later Gilman did not consider the land worth the State's price and declined to keep up his payments and the certificate was forfeited.

Ten years after, oil was discovered on the land, title to which Gilman had permitted to lapse. He sued to restore title under the certificate, and when judgment went against him in the Superior Court, took an appeal to the District Appelate Court, where the lower judgment was sustained and Gilman declared to have no right or title to the property.

So it looks as though Corey was right when he told Maybelle she hadn't more than one chance in a million to get this fortune.

BANK EXAMINER IS DENOUNCED.

Serious Charges Brought Against Washington State Official at Mass Meeting Held in Vancouver.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER (Wash.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charges that State Bank Examiner Mohundro is incompetent and unfair, and that he is manipulating the affairs of the defunct Commercial Bank of Vancouver to suit himself alone, and not working in the interests of depositors, were made today by Attorney Milton Evans at a mass meeting of 300 working men and women, whose deposits were tied up by the closing of the bank's doors.

Mohundro's removal was strongly demanded. Attorney Evans also charged that the bank examiner had handled the affairs of the defunct Home Security and Savings Bank of Bellingham, Wash., until it fell with the very rottenness of it.

Evans announced to the depositors that a bill now pending in the Legislature, providing for the abolishment of receivers for defunct banks and placing the work in the hands of the State bank examiner, was prepared by Mohundro.

A resolution prepared by Attorney Stapleton and Attorney Evans to instruct Clark county's representative to oppose the proposed measure, was adopted.

ELOPERS' PARENTS OBDURATE.

Pretty Seattle Romance Finds Culmination in Runaway, Which Old Folks Take Badly to Heart.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A romance that began when the bride-elect found her hero under a disabled automobile by a dusty roadside last summer, culminated in the marriage at Victoria, B. C., last week of Miss Marjorie Hammond, formerly a junior at the Queen Anne High School, and Roy Gregg, late a student at the University of Washington. The affair leaked out today.

Defying the wishes of their parents, who are prominent people, they wedded, believing a telegram after the ceremony would square things. It did not, however. Mr. and Mrs. Gregg are now in Portland.

The story of the meeting is romantic. Miss Hammond was strolling along the road at the foot of Queen Anne Hill with her chum, Miss Eleanor Ellis, when they espied a big touring car halted. In the car were friends, and under the car was Gregg. Miss Hammond was introduced. Gregg, disheveled and grimy, was not in the mood for soft speech. He quit his tinkering, but was so embarrassed that he drove off without giving Miss Hammond and Miss Ellis a ride.

The acquaintance, however, ripened into love and "understanding," and they went to Victoria.

PACIFIC STEAMSHIP COMBINE.

Oriental Lines to Adopt Deferred Rebate System With Idea of Driving Tramp Vessels Out of Business.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TACOMA, Feb. 10.—The Mexico Maru, of the Osak Shoshen Kaisha, which arrived here today from the Orient, brings word that the Oriental Trans-Pacific conference bureau, comprising all the steamship lines plying between the Orient and the Pacific Coast will adopt a deferred rebate system on February 15, in an attempt to drive tramp steamers off the Pacific.

Five cents a hundred will be added to the regular rates, and this will be rebated at the end of a certain period to shippers using the Trans-Pacific conference lines exclusively.

The rebate applies to commodities from Japan to the United States. This may divert cargo going by the Suez route to the Pacific Coast. The rebate does not apply to westbound cargo.

EVEN WORKS OBJECTS.

OPPOSES RECALL OF JUDGES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Senator-elect John D. Works has written a letter to Charles S. Wheeler of this city in which he takes a strong position against the proposed legislation for the recall of judges. He says:

"I am glad you had the courage and good judgment to oppose the application of the recall of judges. The progressive Republicans could hardly make a worse mistake. It is reform run mad.

"The future of this country is greatly dependent upon a fearless and independent judiciary.

"The judge who will bow to his own feelings or to public clamor, often ill founded, will never be recalled, while the judge who does his duty will fall a victim to the public indignation based on wholly false ideas of the duty of a judge."

POISONED BY BAD MEAT.

LIVER EFFECTS WHOLE FAMILY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 10.—Mabel King, the 5-year-old daughter of Thomas King, is dead, and four other children and the parents are seriously ill as the result of eating liver for dinner last night, which the physician declares should not have been sold. Symptoms of ptomaine poisoning developed rapidly. Three physicians worked for many hours on the family, but were unable to save Mabel. It is believed the others will recover.

SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITION.

CALIFORNIANS PARTICIPATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 10. Scientists of the faculty of Stanford University will make up an expedition for which the government of Brazil has tendered the use of a gunboat in exploring the western part of the north coast of that country. The expedition will start April 15 and will be headed by Prof. J. C. Branner, with six assistants. The special object of the scientists is to determine how far the distribution of Brazilian fauna is influenced by the obstruction of the Amazon River.

BLIND EDITOR GUILTY.

CONVICTED OF LIBEL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Feb 10—H. C. Tuck, the blind editor of the World, a Socialist paper published here, was convicted in the Police Court yesterday of criminal libel against Captain of Detectives W. J. Petersen. The charge was based on the publication of a cartoon representing Petersen as responsible for the death of Lizzie Wolgethan, in the City Jail. The case will be appealed to the Superior Court.

"FRAT" HOUSE QUARANTINE.

STUDENT HAS SMALLPOX.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—The discovery of a case of smallpox in the Sigma Delta fraternity house at the University of Washington has resulted in the vaccination of all the men living in the house. The young man who is ill of the disease is a student in the forestry school and attended classes several days after becoming sick before his condition was discovered. The nature of his disease was learned Sunday and the city quarantine officer was called. The youth was hurriedly removed to the pest house and the fraternity house was thoroughly fumigated and all the students vaccinated.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Woman Dies From Burns.

VALLEJO (Cal.) Feb. 10.—Mrs Matilda Fooler died today of burns received last night when her dress caught fire from a coal oil stove near a couch where she lay asleep.

Bar Arms on Aliens.

OLYMPIA (Wash.) Feb 10—The Senate passed a bill today providing that aliens who carry fire arms must be licensed. The fee is fixed at $15. The bill is to prevent Japanese from having guns or rifles. No permit will be granted unless a resident consul vouches for the applicant.

Woman Dynamiter Jailed.

OAKLAND, Feb. 10—Mrs. Isabella Martin was taken to San Quentin prison this morning by deputy sheriffs to serve a life sentence for dynamiting the home of Judge Ogden of this city. The party left the jail at 9 o'clock after the woman had said goodbye to her son and her lawyer.

Organize to Promote Economy.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Feb. 10.—Greater economy in the administration of county affairs is the aim of an organization formed today, when a large number of Cochise county taxpayers met here today. A. P. Packard was named as president of the association, C. O. Ellis, secretary. A committee was named to arrange for permanent organization at a meeting in Bisbee next Friday.

AUTO AS TRAVELING BANK.

New Jersey Trust Company Will Scour Highways and Byways for Country Depositors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PATERSON (N. J.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This town is all worked up over a bank on wheels. One of the Paterson trust companies has equipped a steel-lined auto, somewhat along the lines of motors formerly used by the Night and Day Bank, New York, to gather up late cash receipts in the restaurant belt of Broadway, and is going to send it out in the country to catch wayside depositors.

The portable bank was on exhibition in front of the offices of the trust company today. Hundreds of interested persons viewed it. The car is fitted up with a desk and office equipment, including compartments for books, checks and papers. A solid steel safe is built in one corner. The body of the car is painted a steel color.

A small window guarded with heavy steel and brass bars and a liberal space for fire arms, will afford the clerks protection on their travels.

DEFENDS USE OF ALCOHOL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 10.—There was a diversion in the proceedings of the duma today, when J. Novitsky, the Vice-Minister of Finance, delivered a lengthy address, in which he defended the moderate use of alcohol. He said he based his argument on the results of investigations in America and elsewhere.

OF INTEREST TO LOS ANGELES.

Many Southern Politicians Visit State Capital in Connection With Pending Legislation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Percy H. Clark, chairman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Committee on Highways, and Carl C. McStay, one of the directors, are here looking after the policy to be adopted in using the $18,000,000 State highway fund. They have been assured by Chandler of Fresno, who is head of the Assembly Highway Committee, that the State Engineering Department will be made more efficient by the increase of the engineering board by three more members, making seven in all, and authority to place the highway work in the hands of a high-grade engineer. The measure will be made an amendment or substitute for the pending Chandler bill.

Sheriff Hammel of Los Angeles county is here conferring with members of the Los Angeles delegation in an effort to prevent any alteration in the salary and fees of his office. His success is doubtful, as members declare they regard the Sheriff as receiving compensation estimated to run from $30,000 to $50,000 a year, entirely out of proportion to his services, and a majority of them favor reduction, especially in the State fees.

Another visitor today is Thomas E. Gibbon, editor of the Los Angeles Herald. He says he came over looking for Walter Parker and Jere Burke. But if he did, he found only Hiram Johnson, Governor and stick wielder. Gibbon is credited with an honorable ambition to serve on one of the new commissions that are being created to fill Johnson's administration with patronage.

Assemblyman Butler of Los Angeles joined with Senator Hurd today in demanding the restoration of the old system of State revenue and taxation by introducing an amendment repealing the Curtin amendment (No. 1) and readopting the old provisions. He says he believes the people will want to restore the old system by the next election.

Assemblyman Randall introduced a bill today amending the park district assessment law to enable the condemnation of land for branch library sites through assessment districts. He also introduced a bill permitting districts to organize and assess property for tree planting and general cleaning up.

Senator Hewitt introduced a bill for two additional judges in Los Angeles county today to take the place of the Gates measure. It is reported here that E. J. Fleming and Frank S. Hutton are slated for the appointment to the new departments by the Governor.

SWEPT THROUGH MILL RACE.

Five-Year-Old Lad of Washington Town Has Marvelous Escape From Drowning.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ELLENSBURG (Wash.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Carried two blocks down a millrace and over a twenty-foot waterwheel yesterday little Wm. Bell, 5 years old, son of W. J. Bell, was picked up unconscious by Constable James F. Keenan and was resuscitated with great difficulty. That the little chap was not killed is considered marvelous, as the water strikes the wheel with great force.

The boy was swept for part of the distance through a covered flume. He had been playing with his comrades on a bridge over the stream at Sixth street and fell into the water.

His playmates had presence of mind enough to follow the fast moving and unconscious boy and gave the alarm.

Elks desiring to go with the Salt Lake bunch to Ontario on the excursion February 11th, should procure tickets from the committee at Angeles Hotel.

UNITED STATES ATTACKED.

Spanish Newspapers Express Business Since Spain Was Cleared of Destroying the Maine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADRID, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Newspapers here are printing the bitterest attacks on the United States since the publishing of an exoneration of Spain in connection with the Maine explosion. The Liberal warmly espouses a proposition made by Eduardo Martin that the statement of the North American Commission be translated into all the European languages and the Philippine patois tongue with an explanatory preface and that 2,000,000 copies be carefully distributed throughout the world to give the widest possible publicity to the injustice of the charges against Spain now withdrawn after thirteen years.

A Liberal has started a fund to defray the costs of this scheme and asks: "What is the Canalejas government about it that it fails to extract, by diplomacy or otherwise, an official retraction and publication of the findings of the commission?"

PAROLE FOLLOWS OPERATION.

New York Convict to Be Set Free After Surgeon's Knife Cures Criminal Tendencies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is expected that the State Parole Board at Dannemora Prison will soon parole Edward Gremmell, whose sentence was commuted by former Gov. Wh just before the close of his term, in order that an interesting experiment in surgery might me worked out to a conclusion. Gremmell is supposed to have been transformed from a criminal through operations which removed portions of the bone pressing on his brain, the outcome of a fractured skull.

If, after his parole, he commits a crime, no matter how trivial, he will be arrested again and compelled to serve out his term.

GIRL GOES WITH EARL.

New York Artist of "Soul Mate" Notoriety Returns to Castle in Countryside Is Agog.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MIDDLETOWN (N. Y.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ferdinand Earle, the affinity artist, returned to his castle at Monroe last night, accompanied from New York. A young woman accompanied him, but who she was is what the people of the village are anxious to know.

It is not believed that Earle wants to remain long at Monroe. He is not communicative, giving all to understand that he does not propose to have even the residents of Monroe know concerning his future plans, if he can help it.

OPPOSITION TO DIRECT VOTING.

Root of New York Stands for Present Methods.

Sees Danger Ahead if People Elect Senators.

Exhorts Upper House to Look Before Leaping.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Opposing all suggestion looking to a change in the manner of electing United States Senators, Mr. Root of New York addressed the Senate today on the resolution providing for direct vote by the people.

Mr. Root said he would not have Senators elected by direct vote, nor if they were so to be elected, would he have control of such elections transferred from Congress to the various State Legislatures. For Congress to abandon jurisdiction over Senatorial elections would be equivalent, he said, to the government surrendering its power to maintain itself.

Mr. Root found in the main proposition, that of changing the method of electing Senators, an effort to evade responsibility in the matter of government. Declaring the principal reason for the change to be the corruption of State Legislatures, he said that a more fundamental change should be made than was proposed. He would go to the root of the trouble by so purifying politics as to obtain better material in the Legislatures. If the people would look properly to the selection of legislative candidates, he was sure there would be comparatively little complaint concerning the election of Senators by legislative action, and he was sure in that event the agitation for direct election would gradually disappear.

CAUTION ADVISED.

The Senator advised great caution in amending the Constitution. He said he did not think it well the habit should be contracted.

"Reverence for that great instrument, the unwillingness to change it, the sentiment that has gathered around it, has constituted the stability of the people of this great nation," he said.

Admitting the expression of a popular wish for popular Senatorial elections, Mr. Root contended that the feeling was a mere assent—not a vigorous desire. Naturally, he thought, the electorate would accept any extension of the franchise.

The Senator suggested that the amendment should be changed to read: "Whereas, the people of the several States have been proved incompetent to select honest and faithful legislators in their own States,

"Resolved, that the Constitution be so amended as to relieve the people from the consequences of their interdependence by taking from the State Legislatures the power to choose Senators and vesting that power in the same incompetent hands."

The agitation in the present case was traced by the speaker to the popular distrust in representative government.

AT CRITICAL TIME.

"Strangely, this movement comes at a time when the development of the country makes it more and more necessary that we should depend upon representative government," he said. "The initiative, the referendum, the demand for popular elections, are expressions of a weakness of democracies."

Admitting this to be a period of readjustment in the Union, Mr. Root said that many experiments would be the result of this condition.

The country, he declared, had suffered more from too much than from too little legislation and predicted that the proposed change would have the effect of depriving the States of the service as Senators of many men of wisdom and experience who would not undertake the labor and inconvenience of a popular campaign.

"If," said Mr. Root, "bad men are sent to the Senate as sometimes they are, they find their level there—they find it in innocuous insignificance."

He gave it as his judgment that "The Senate has performed its duty loyally, faithfully and completely and has supplied to the history of the country a line of illustrious men and a record of achievement which furnish the most convincing proof that the world ever has had that popular government is a possibility among men."

BLOW AT THE NATION.

With Congress relieved of its supervisory power, the national government, he argued, would no longer have the power of self-preservation and self-perpetuation. He admitted that this provision in the Constitution had been the basis of the Federal election law, but he assured the Senate that the application of the law broke up a condition in New York, which made the election of Senators and Representatives the mere matter of the dictation of one man. Ballot box stuffing and repeating had been the order of the day, and they only were broken up by the application of the law. He would not willingly lose this protection.

The speaker sympathized with the southern people in the solution of the race problem, but was not willing to sacrifice the right of the Federal government to interfere anywhere if such interference should become necessary.

"Some things are done in parts of the South," said Mr. Root, "that the States ought not to permit and if they do permit them, the country must not, the minute they touch the Constitution."

MISTAKES OF THE NORTH.

He admitted that the North had made mistakes in regard to the race problem in the southern States. Quoting Senator Percy's declaration to the effect that the South could not afford to pay for popular elections the price of Federal control, Mr. Root closed by saying:

"I say with much earnestness to the Senator from Mississippi and his Democratic allies that the time has not come when the people of this nation are entering the market-place to buy the right to preserve and protect the national power under the Constitution."

Senator Beveridge made reply in detail to Mr. Root's arguments. No advance, the Indiana Senator said, had ever been undertaken that was not opposed by those who saw great danger in the change proposed. Much of this opposition came, he continued, from men of a sound type of mind, but he believed it to be due to fear, and he declared that no man could have been found who could so well gather together these forebodings as could the New York Senator.

Taking up Mr. Root's contention that the framers of the Constitution had made an effort to guard against the changes, Mr. Beveridge traced the apprehension of this point to observation of the history of democracies up to the time of the Constitutional convention. Previous to that period there had been no republic of extensive area or large population. The result of these conditions had been that the popular will could be easily influenced by popular oratory.

But such fluctuations as had been experienced in the ancient republics would be impossible in a nation of almost a hundred million and of such broad expanse as this, he said.

BEVERIDGE ANSWERS.

"Stability," he asserted, "is to be found only in the intelligence and patriotism of the people. If the people are capable of electing members of the Legislature, they are capable of electing Senators."

Referring to the fact that the Senate had been fashioned somewhat upon the English House of Lords, Mr. Beveridge said that that great prototype is rapidly losing its power. All the great English reformers had originally come into power through the vote of the people and the laws of the United Kingdom had long rested upon the wisdom, the courage and patriotism of the House of Commons.

Replying to one of Mr. Root's arguments, Mr. Beveridge said that the principal reasons why people stay away from the polls is because they have so little to do with the lawmaking and the election of officers by the State Legislatures. Wire pulling had disgusted them and it would go on until the popular demand should become irresistible.

"This is not fancy but another step in the onward march," he said. "It is a historic movement—no pendulum-swinging affair; no turning back. It has gone on since the Constitution was adopted and it will continue. The Constitution was made by the people for the people. The Senate is the servant of the people and it should not stand in the way of a change of the Constitution when the people want it changed."

PROBE INTO "IMMUNITY."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.—William Garen, formerly manager of a local theater, pleaded guilty in court today to embezzling $22,150 from the theater, and was sentenced to serve two years in prison. Later Judge Taylor permitted Garen to withdraw his plea, and announced his intention to investigate whether a promise of immunity from punishment was made to Garen to induce him to restore $14,000 of the alleged stolen money.

CINCINNATI INDICTMENTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—Indictments were returned by the grand jury today against Public Service Director Harry Sundmaker, City Engineer H. E. Shipley, and three contractors, August Henkel, Conrad Henkel and William Conrey. The charge is fraud in contracts permitting material to be used that differed from the specifications of the contracts.

BEGINS LIFE ANEW AT 107.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—With his fortune gone, but with his health good and his courage undaunted, Foster J. Foster, 107 years old, will begin life anew. Foster, the grandson of Red Jacket, chief of the Seneca Indians in New York in revolutionary periods, is here to take steps to make his last fight for a mining claim of which he says he was swindled. If he does not recover the claim, located in Montana, he asserts he will go into some business and start all over again. Foster says he was born in 1804, on what is now Seneca street in Buffalo, which at that time was an Indian village. For years Foster was a government scout and secret service agent.

PROGRESS IN BATHTUB CASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Feb. 10.—The demurrer entered by the individual defendants in the criminal suit of the government against the so-called bathtub trust, was overruled today in an opinion by Judge Dennison of Grand Rapids, which was filed in the Federal Court here. Attorneys for the defense announced that within a few days they would present another pleading.

DETECTIVE A PERJURER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Detective Patrick J. Keely was found guilty of perjury today by a jury in Judge Clark's court. His accuser was States Attorney Wayman and his offense was alleged to have occurred during the trial of Lee O'Neil Browne in which Keeley was assigned to protect H. J. C. Beckemeyer, the legislator who confessed he received money from Browne for his vote for William Lorimer as United States Senator. Keeley's testimony, which brought on the prosecution, was that Wayman had told him to "take Beckemeyer out and treat him right," which, he said, he thought meant to get the legislator drunk.

CALIFORNIAN TO SPEAK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) Feb. 10.—Tomorrow will be "Theodore Roosevelt day" in Grand Rapids. The occasion is the nineteenth annual banquet of the Lincoln Club. Roosevelt will be the chief speaker of the evening. His address will be on "Lincoln and Progressive Republicanism." Among the other addresses will be one on "Panama, the World's Naval Base," by Congressman Julius Kahn of California.

WILL AID INSURRECTOS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 10.—Antonio de Auauaje, Mexican editor and revolutionist, released from the Federal prison at Leavenworth yesterday, said while in Kansas City last night that he would start for Mexico today to aid the revolutionists.

HISTORIC LETTER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Executors of the Lambert Tree estate have presented to the Chicago Historical Society the original letter written by Abraham Lincoln to Stephen A. Douglas, accepting terms of a joint debate. The letter is dated Springfield, Ill., July 31, 1858, and on the back of it, in the handwriting of Douglas, is the acceptance of the terms.

MANY SEEK PAROLES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Feb. 10.—When the Board of Paroles for United States penitentiaries meets here today it will consider the applications of more than 300 convicts for freedom. With many of the applications letters and petitions have been filed. Among those asking for their liberty are several brokers, but the officials refuse to give their names, as a recent order of the Department of Justice forbids this.

ILLICIT LOVER KILLS HUSBAND.

Marysville Waitress Tries to Shield Paramour.

Tells Police She Fired Shot, But Later Confesses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. F. Bury was shot and instantly killed shortly after 3:30 o'clock this morning in front of the door to his wife's room, in the St. Nicholas building, by E. J. Watson, who was in the room. Watson and Mrs. Bury were arrested by Officer W. C. Burroughs, father of the woman, and Officer Sayles, who heard the shots.

Bury recently went to Point Richmond to enter the employ of the Standard Oil Company. His wife, who is employed in the Western Hotel as a waitress, remained here, where relatives reside. Bury came to Marysville yesterday and tried to induce his wife to go to Sacramento with him, but she said she could not go before the last car on the Northern electric line. He went to Sacramento with her promise to meet him there. During the day they had quarreled over Watson, and it is said that he made the remark that he would kill Watson and Mrs. Bury before morning.

Mrs. Bury failed to meet her husband in Sacramento, and Bury boarded the Oregon bExpress and came to Marysville, arriving about 3:30. He went immediately to the room of his wife, over the Rideout Bank. Here Mrs. Bury grappled with her husband at the door and kept him in the hallway for a moment. Her father, Officer Burroughs, passed on the sidewalk at the foot of the stairs, and the woman tried to hail him, but he did not hear, so she broke away from her husband and ran down the steps, intending to stop her father, but before she had reached the sidewalk two shots rang out and she ran back.

When the police reached the head of the stairs they found the lifeless body of Bury lying before the door to his wife's room. In the room were Mrs. Bury and Watson, Mrs. Bury had the weapon with which the shooting had been done, and when the officers arrived she claimed to have done the shooting. In this she was supported by Watson.

Both were arrested and taken to the city prison. Afterward the woman confessed to her father that the shooting was done by Watson, and told the whole story of the night's events.

YOUNG NEW YORKER FINDS WAY TO TAKE LIFE EASY.

Keeps Both Better Halves Working as Bread-Winners, While He Peels Potatoes and Tends Babies. Game Works All Right Until One Tires of Other's Presence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles A. Holz, a neatly attired, sandy-haired young man, qualified today as a member of the "Put Your Wives to Work Club," when he was arraigned before Magistrate Fitch, in the Long Island City Police Court.

According to Mrs. Catherine Holz, who had her husband dragged from home, where he was right in the midst of peeling potatoes and tending babies, the young man puts not only one, but two wives to work for him.

"And the other one," said Mrs. Holz, "has to live with us in the same flat. I work and she works. I have a boy and she has one, and both our children are living images of this man. The other woman has been living there for months. I could not stand it any longer and quit."

"How about this?" the court asked Holz.

"She's made it a little strong, Judge," replied Holz. "It's true I don't work, but then I was injured during the Spanish-American war and can't take up hard labor. I do a lot of work around the house, though—tending the babies and cooking the meals.

"It isn't true that I have two wives, Judge, for I've never married the other one."

Holz was held for further hearing under $300 bail.

Escaped Murderer Proves He Can "Come Back" by Surrendering to Serve Balance of His Sentence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Wallmeyer, who escaped from the Texas penitentiary ten years ago, after serving five years of a twenty-five-year sentence for having killed a man, surrendered to the authorities and reentered the prison at Tuntsville today to serve the remaining twenty years.

Wallmeyer was a traveling salesman, 22 years of age, and had a wife and two children, when in 1896 he shot and killed a farmer in Haskell county in a dispute over the sale of some land.

Learning the carpentering trade in prison, he followed this when he escaped, locating in Kansas City and later moving to Denver.

His two children died some months ago and about two months ago he lost his wife. Then he decided to give himself up and serve the remaining twenty years.

It is believed he will be pardoned soon.

ADMIT DAVILA IS BEATEN.

Representatives of Honduran Government at New Orleans See End of Present Regime.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representatives here of the Davila government of Honduras today admitted that Davila is beaten and that Manuel Bonilla, the revolutionary leader, will land on top in the Honduras war.

As a result the atmosphere around the Bonilla headquarters here is heavy-laden with gloom. The loss of all of the western harbors in Honduras has left the Davila officials without funds and the government is flat broke.

Even if the Bonilla forces do not fire another shot, it is admitted by the Davila officials here that the government will have to surrender in the course of time for it can not run without funds.

As the matter stands Bonilla can win by simply sitting down and starving Davila out.

Private advices by wireless telegraph from Honduras today reported that while Bonilla is observing the armistice by refraining from fighting, he is not permitting any grass to grow under his feet.

A column of his troops headed by American machine gunners is marching from Celba to Tegucigalpa. When the troops reach Tegucigalpa they will wait the outcome of the peace party at Puerta Cortez.

While the army from Celba is moving on Tegucigalpa, a large force of insurgents under Gen. Duron is encamped a few miles south of Tegucigalpa, having entered from the Nicaraugan side, some time ago. When the Celba army reaches the capital the revolutionists will be prepared to besiege it until it falls.

KILLS FROM SICK BED.

PEACEMAKER USES GUN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WELLS (Nev.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rising from a sick bed, "Bash" Wilkins today shot and killed Joe Ford of Pueblo, Colo., on the Wilkins ranch, ten miles out of this city. It is asserted that Ford started the trouble by drawing a gun on Ab. Caldhiae during a dispute. Wilkins attempted to quiet the belligerents, and when Ford threatened to shoot him, Wilkins jumped from bed and grabbing a shotgun commanded Ford to hold up his hands. Ford turned to shoot and Wilkins fired first, filling Ford's mouth full of shot. Ford died immediately.

CELESTIALS JEALOUS OF CONCESSIONS TO ALIENS.

Natives Oppose Policy of Government in Floating Loans Abroad and Lack of Confidence by Monogolian Capitalists Makes it Difficult to Raise Funds is Flowery Kingdom.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE.]

PEKING, (Wednesday Feb. 11.—Indications are not wanting, in these days of the growing hostility throughout the country, not only to the granting of foreign railway concessions, but even to obtaining money from abroad for the construction of these lines which the government is anxious to build.

The student body of the Province of Sin Kiang has issued what amounts to a proclamation threatening the government with war should further loans be arranged with foreigners.

Some time ago a man from the province of Hupeh appeared in the courtyard of the Bureau of Communications and threatened in Chinese fashion, to kill himself on the spot unless a railway concession were given him.

The ruse was adopted of telling him to go back to his people and raise the necessary money by subscriptions, an impossible task, and the fellow went away rejoicing and declaring he had obtained his concession.

Such incidents and, constant threats on the lives of ministers, are only indications of the present general hostility to what is considered the aggression of foreigners on the integrity of China.

The members of the government appear to be seriously hampered, though in the opinion of diplomats here a strong policy would dissipate or crush all absurb hostility.

It is the policy of the government to proceed with the railroads, believing them to be essential to the very object which the people desire—the strengthening of China. And the government is aware, from frequent experiences, that sufficient money to construct any given line is only obtainable within the country with the greatest difficulty and at higher rates of interest than it can be procured from abroad.

The explanation is that the Chinese of the wealthy class have no confidence in Chinese administration, while foreigners are in a position at all times to press for the interest and repayments on loans. The legations are of the opinion that at the proper time the government would be pleased to receive a little pressure from them with regard to the Hu Kuun and other loans now in abeyance, as this pressure can by made by the government an excuse to the people for compliance with foreign demands.

HERMIT DIES; LEAVES FORTUNE.

Eccentric Neighbor of William Vanderbilt, Jr., Passes Away on Long Island Estate Worth $300,000.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

JAMAICA (N. Y.) Feb. 10.—John Leahy, an eccentric hermit, is dead in his home at Lakeville, L. I. More than 70 years old, he died on his $300,000 estate adjoining Deep Dale, the home of William Vanderbilt, Jr.

Leahy came to this country from Ireland when a boy and shrewdly purchased with his early saving extensive grounds in suburban Long Island Ten years ago he sold a part of his holdings for $250,000 and put the money into gilt-edged securities, the value of which has more than trebled since that time.

The old man could neither read nor write and was not able to sign his name. He signed hundreds of deeds and legal documents every year with his mark. Several sons will inherit his property.

CHINAMAN WANTS TO VOTE.

Sole Oriental Veteran of Civil War Appeals to President Taft to Restore Him to Citizenship.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The only Chinaman who is a veteran of the Civil War has written to President Taft for assistance in efforts to regain his citizenship.

He is John Ah Hang, proprietor of a little cigar store in the New York Chinatown. His citizenship papers were canceled in 1908.

Hang enlisted in the navy at the Brooklyn navy yard in 1862 and served under Farragut at Mobile Bay, and also on the Albatross, Penguine and North Carolina. He voted in New York until his papers were canceled. Hang says that he is an old man now and that he wants to vote for one more President before he dies.

In his letter asking Mr. Taft's aid, the veteran says that the records will show that he served with distinction and was honorably discharged.

BUSCH BUILDING RIVAL TERMINAL.

Brewing Magnate of St. Louis Fighting Gould.

Acquires Property Valued at Over Three Millions.

Endeavors to Block Business of Iron Mountain.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although the Manufacturers' (Busch) Railway has developed plans with the construction of the St. Louis approach to the municipal free bridge in view, and the company stands prepared to help the city officials, announcement was made today that the new terminal system is elaborating preliminary arrangements for the construction of an additional bridge across the Mississippi River in South St. Louis.

President George of the road says that the company is so strategcally situated that it can operate transfer ferries immediately or begin work on a new bridge.

The Manufacturers' Railway, which is owned by the Adolphus Busch interests, and has been at war with the St. Louis Iron Mountain and Southern, has acquired between fifty and sixty blocks of real estate in the territory south of Rutger street, and the land investments are estimated at nearly $3,000,000.

The purchases and movements indicate an attempt to control the industrial sphere of the Iron Mountain in South St. Louis. The company has all the property it requires, and many pieces which it was forced to buy at excessive figures in order to obtain strips it really wanted, will be placed on the market at nominal values.

From Poplar street to California avenue the Manufacturers' Railway parallels the Iron Mountain, and the Busch line has so pursued its work as practically to confine the Gould railroad to the district abutting and lying east of First street. The route of the Manufacturers' Railway, mostly on Second street, is deemed a sort of barricade to the Iron Mountain.

The Iron Mountain enjoyed virtually a monopoly of the industrial and terminal traffic of South St. Louis until the Manufacturers' Railway, incensed at the Gould line, began forming a new terminal system. The Manufacturers' Railway, with approximately sixty blocks of land, besides its tracks and buildings, looms now as a strong terminal system in the territory south of the Mill Creek Valley.

GETS OFFICIAL JOB.

Portland Man Who Has Rescued Many Bodies Is Made "City Official Grappler."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hugh Brady, who for three years past has put in most of his time in searching for and raising the bodies of drowned persons, from the Willamette River at and near Portland, has been appointed "City Official Grappler," a position that has been created for him this week by the City Council.

"The first time I grappled in the river was in the winter of 1875-76, when it was frozen over and numbers skated for a long period," said the veteran grappler yesterday. "That winter I managed to rescue two skaters but a third went through the ice and was drowned. I recovered the body."

Brady has recovered about 150 bodies but of late years he has kept no account. He plans to make the round of the water front daily during the summer to warn bathers and instruct swimmers to prevent boys from going into deep water. He thinks that such a system would reduce the number of accidents.

FEARS CHILD'S FATHER.

Grandmother Believes Father With Career Plans to Kidnap Child and Appeals to Seattle Judge.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that she feared "Swiftwater Bill" Gates, man of many fortunes and many wives, would kidnap his 8-year-old son, Freddy, from her, the lad's grandmother, Mrs. Iola Beebe, today called upon Superior Judge Frater for advice.

An attempt to have Gates contribute to the boy's support will probably be part of the proceedings Mrs. Beebe expects to initiate in the Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Beebe, who is well known throughout Alaska, is the mother of Bera Beebe, now dead, the third of "Swiftwater Bill's" series of five wives.

Bera Beebe, like Gate's other better halves, was finally parted from him by the divorce courts. She had two children by him. Freddy, who has been with his grandmother almost all his life and Clifford, an older boy who is in British Columbia.

"Swiftwater Bill" has been in Seattle some days, according to his own announcements trying to finance a big "Peruvian gold mine scheme," by which he is to make a fortune, to add to those he has taken out of Alaska and scattered to the world, but Mrs. Beebe says that his object in coming here was to kidnap his son and that he has been making persistent efforts to accomplish that purpose.

ENTERS MAYORALTY RACE.

John Thompson Suddenly Announces Himself Candidate for Mayor of Chicago on Democratic Ticket.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John R. Thompson is a candidate for Mayor. He burned the bridges behind him today. He made the definite statement of his plans about 10 o'clock had engaged rooms for headquarters at 11, and has made plans at 12 for the opening meeting of the campaign tomorrow night.

He said he was just warming up, and that beginning on Monday he would give the Republicanh a campaign which would wake them up from Rogers Park to Kensington and from the lake to the limits of Austin.

"I am going to be a candidate because half the people of Chicago are demanding that I be one," said Mr Thompson. "And having made up my mind to enter the race, we will build a bonfire in every ward in the city which will burn until the primary election has decided the winner."

Six Republicans have indicated their intention of making the race for the Mayoralty nomination.

MORGAN PASSES UP ROME VISIT.

AMERICAN FINANCIER LEAVES NAPLES FOR EGYPT.

Decision to Remain Away From Italian Capital Attributed to Lack of Interest in Exhibition Committee—Pope's Attitude Toward Banker Matter of Conjecture.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. Pierpont Morgan arrived at Naples yesterday, but instead of coming to Rome, where he usually passes the spring, he sailed on the Celtic for Egypt.

As Mr. Morgan was appointed an honorary member of the Rome Exhibition Committee, it is feared that his absence is due to unwillingness to take part in the anniversary celebrations and to contribute financially to the expenses.

He refused to explain why he did not come to this city. When cholera was suggested he said he did not fear epidemics, and besides he understood that there was no cholera in Italy.

In the course of a conversation with a friend, who saw him off, Mr. Morgan said he was undecided as to coming to Rome later on. He spoke of the Pope's rule not to grant an audience to any one taking part in the commemoration of Italian Unity, which had deprived the church of its rights, adding that if he came to Rome he should wish to visit the Pope as in previous years.

Asked as to his purpose in visiting Egypt, Mr. Morgan said that he had intended going there last year, but refrained from doing so, as Mr. Roosevelt at that time had Africa all to himself. The New York financier appeared to be in excellent health and good spirits and to be bent on having a long rest, which he said he needed badly.

SISTER CAUSES BIG SENSATION.

ALLEGES BROTHER DID NOT WED WIFE.

San Mateo Agog Over Startling Allegations in Law Suit Involving Title to San Francisco Property Valued at $500,000—Parties Prominent Socially in Bay City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN RANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an answer in which she denies that her brother, Harry Hastings, prominent and well-known locally and in San Mateo, where he resides, is not married to his wife, Maud Hastings, Miss Elizabeth Parker Hastings, the incompetent about whose estate there has been so much litigation, asks that she be adjudged the sole owner in fee of property on Clay and East streets, this city, valued at half a million dollars.

Harry Hastings and his wife, Maud brought, petition for partition of the property, claiming under a trust deed for the benefit of himself and his sister, Elizabeth, which was given for the tenure of the life of their mother. The Hibernia Bank is said to have a mortgage for $60,000 upon the property, and is joined as a party to the suit.

J. W. Daniel, the English second husband of Mr. and Miss Hastings's mother, and guardian of the person of Miss Hastings, has brought suit also, seeking to have the same property revert to the estate of his deceased wife, of which he is administrator.

Miss Hastings denies not only the marriage of her brother, but claims that Central Trust Company is not authorized to accept trusts, that the property is not mortgaged to the Hibernian Bank, and that it belongs solely to her.

Harry Hastings and his wife are very prominent in local society, and the charges of the sister have created a sensation.

Indianapolis Young Man Drinks Acid to Avoid Term in Workhouse. Leaves Note to Brother.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry E. Goodwin told the police to arrest his brother William this morning and send him to the workhouse, as he said he thought it would do him good. His brother heard of it and forestalled him by drinking carbolic acid. He left the following note to his brother:

"Harry: Booze is the cause of this all. I am nothing but a boozer, and always will be. I am disgracing you and your family every day, also I thought I would do this before you put me in the workhouse. I have no friends, no home, nothing, but a bum. Don't go to the expense to put me away. Sell me to the college.

"Love to all. Good-bye.

OBITUARY.

Dr. D. W. Gamaliel Janeway.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Dr. D. W. Gamaliel Janeway, one of the best-known diagnosticians in the country, died at his country home at Summit, N. J., today. He was 70 years old.

Miss Charlotte Brown.

OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—Miss Charlotte Brown, well-known as a writer and poet, died early this morning at her home in this city, following an attack of paralysis. She was 80 years old, and a native of England. She was paid marked praise by former Queen Alexandria for two poems she wrote on the death of the late King Edward.

Dr. Carroll Thrasher.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10—Dr Carroll Thrasher, former surgeon of the San Francisco police department, died suddenly today of heart failure. At the time of the Spanish-American war he was in charge of the smallpox hospital here.

William E. Dargie.

OAKLAND (Cal.) Feb. 10.—William E. Dargie, proprietor of the Oakland Tribune, died at his home tonight after a lingering illness. Mr. Dargie returned some time ago from a trip to Japan for the benefit of his health and was apparently much improved. Soon after he returned there was a relapse and for the past week he has been in a semi-conscious state, rallying feebly at times.

Richard Hill.

INDEPENDENCE (Mo.) Feb 10.—Richard Hill, leader of the Church of Christ, commonly known as the Hedrick branch of the Mormon Church, died here today. As leader of the sect, Hill was guard in chief of the famous temple lot, which was set apart more than 75 years ago by Joseph Smith, original prophet and founder of the Mormon Church, as the site of a future great temple of the Lord. When the Mormons fled from Independence the "temple lot" passed into Gentile hands. The church was divided and a sub-sect headed by Granville Hedrick set about to buy back the consecrated ground. Twenty-five years ago, after long and bitter litigation, the Hedrickites' title to the temple lot" was assured. Richard Hill succeeded Hedrick. Hill was born in 1827 in Gloucester, Eng.

Parmalee J. McFadden.

GREENWICH (Ct.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Parmalee J. McFadden, assistant editor of the St. Nicholas Magazine, died here yesterday. Mr. McFadden was but 48 years old. His death was sudden. He had been at his desk in the Century Publishing House on Tuesday and returned to his home here apparently in good health during the night. Mr. McFadden was a graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, and afterward pursued a post graduate course in electricity at Hanover, Germany. Upon returning to this country he became the western manager of the General Electric Company, motor department, at Chicago. While in that city he met Miss Marion Pool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Pool, to whom he was married fifteen years ago. Preferring to remain in Chicago to a transfer farther West, Mr. McFadden decided to follow the strong taste he had for literature and became the secretary of the A. C. McClurg Publishing Company, which brought him into such prominence in the publishing business, that he was made assistant editor of St. Nicholas twelve years ago.

George Lee Peabody.

BALTIMORE (Md.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Lee Peabody, 42 years old, of Boston, who had been a patient of Dr. Harvey Cushing in Johns Hopkins Hospital for the past three weeks, died at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon after undergoing three operations for the removal of a growth in his head. Mr. Peabody was a scion of one of the richest and oldest New England families. He was a member of the banking firm of Lee, Higginson & Co. He entered the hospital on January 11, suffering with an affection of the brain. For several months previous to his coming to Baltimore he had suffered from this malady. Dr. Harvey Cushing of the Johns Hopkins Hospital staff, accompanied Mr. Peabody from Boston to Baltimore. After three days he was in a sufficiently strong physical condition to be put on the operating table. The operation was performed and a large growth removed from the right side of his head. After this two other operations were performed. On January 28, Miss Edith Deacon, the fiancee of Mr. Peabody, arrived in Baltimore and was admitted to see him. He was able to talk with her for a few minutes eah day. Miss Deacon left Boston early last week, going to Washington as the guest of Mrs. George von L. Meyer, wife of the Secretary of the Navy. Saturday she came to Baltimore accompanied by Mrs. Meyer and upon seeing the serious condition of her affianced, decided to remain in this city, although allowed to talk with Peabody but for a few minutes each day. The other members of his family who were at his bedside when the end came, were Mrs. John Lawrence of Salem, Mass., a sister, and Gen. Francis Peabody, Jr., of Boston, a brother.

New Fancy Work.

Honiton lace made by applying the honiton braid in a design to fine net, is a popular fancy work of the hour.

It is made by basting upon a strong brown paper which has a design drawn upon it a fine net, and to this net applying the honiton braid, carefully following the design and attaching the braid with the finest of stitches. This is careful and rather tedious work, but the results are most satisfactory. Exquisite collars may be made thus or whole sets for trimming the bodice. With the craze for the sailor collar of thinnest material to wear with dressy frocks, one made in this way would be charming.

SUFFRAGE "ANTI" VOICES VIEWS.

INCIDENTS IN THE COLORADO LEGISLATURE TOLD.

Active Member of New York Association Opposed to Votes for Women Addresses Meeting in This City and Tells What She Thinks of the Gentler Sex in Politics.

Mrs. Clough C. Overton of New York visited the Legislature of Colorado last week and yesterday morning, after having had the advantage of watching the suffragists at work, she told a number of Los Angeles women what she thinks about women in politics.

Mrs. Overton is an active member of the New York Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. Her husband is a business man of Gotham and he is accompanying her on a tour through the West which she is making in the interest of the anti-suffrage movement in her own State.

The meeting she addressed yesterday morning was at the home of Mrs. H. T. Lee at No. 414 West Adams street. It was attended by the officers and the Executive Committee of the Southern California Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. Mrs. Overton told her hearers that while in the chambers of the General Assembly of Colorado she heard a woman member of the Assembly take the floor in behalf of a bill before the house and that in her opinion the female member's speech was not one to inspire confidence in woman as a political factor. She thought it far better to leave legislation in the hands of capable men rather than run the risk of being misrepresented by incapable women.

Concerning her visit at Sacramento Mrs. Overton was impressed by the fact that so few persons seemed to know that the many women who do not want to vote have organized associations in self-defense against the noisy efforts of the few who clamor to vote.

The club women of Monrovia heard the views of the women opposed to suffrage at a meeting held last Wednesday, at which Mrs. H. T. Lee read a paper by Mrs. George A. Caswell. This is the paper which Mrs. Caswell, as president of the Southern California Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, read before the Assembly of California at its present session. It will be read again Monday afternoon at a meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Hughes at No. 857 West Adams street.

WOMEN'S WORK. WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ROSE L. ELLERBEE.

The talk of Dr. Perry H. Worden, Phd., of Santa Monica, before the Friday Morning Club was one of the treats of the year. Dr. Worden has devoted much time and research to tracing the lives of the great German poets, Goethe and Schiller throughout their careers and dealt most interestingly and exhaustively upon the subject, The Haunts of Goethe and Schiller. A series of fine views accompanied the lecture and illustrated the various places connected with the memory of these greatest of German names.

Mrs. Rebecca A. Spring.

The Women's clubs of this city feel that they have sustained a direct loss in the passing away of Mrs. Spring. For many years she has been a prominent figure in our club and social life and her reminiscences of the many distinguished men and women whom she had known and her bright repartee always afforded enjoyment. A brief memorial service was held in her honor before the regular session of the Friday Morning Club, of which she was a charter member. The simple and quietly beautiful funeral ceremonial, conducted by Reverend Hodgin, of the Unitarian church, was attended by many clubwomen and by delegations from various clubs. Many of her quaint and happy expressions are being recalled among her friends.

Votes for Women.

Much interest is being shown in the annual election of the Votes for Women Club, which occurs next Monday evening at Music Hall, Blanchard building. This club is rapidly increasing in membership and promises to be a moving factor in the coming campaign for votes. It is strongly rumored that Mrs. Foltz, who resigned its presidency sometime since, will be called back to the office and that a strong executive board will be chosen to assist her.

Suffrage Headquarters.

Arrangements are being completed which will give central headquarters for all the suffrage organizations of the city, thus greatly simplyfing and facilitating the work of preparation for an active campaign.

Dig!

WOMEN OUT FOR THE COIN.

PLAN CHECK-BOOK ASSAULT IN SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN.

If Any Male Citizen in Good Standing and in Generous Circumstances Confesses Any Sympathy for the Movement It May Cost Him Real Money—Organization Costs.

If any male citizen of Los Angeles in good standing and in generous circumstances confesses any sympathy for woman suffrage amendment, his confession may cost him real money. The Political Equality League will levy a high tax wherever it dares—and it dares to the limit.

It is too bad to spoil anything as ideal as the enfranchisement of women with anything as sordid as finance, but the truth is the women need the money. Not only do they need it, but they are going to have it, and have it in large quantities. They will have it in bales, and the practical politician who hopes to beat the constitutional amendment permitting women to vote may as well surrender the idea of high finance at the outset. He is beaten before he starts.

The women will not confess to any need of funds, but they do admit that it has taken a lot of money to run their campaign thus far, and that it will take bushels more to continue the fight. They are not charged with bribery or any felonious influence, although several extravagantly pretty luncheons have been tendered to prominent persons at the Alexandria, the Angelus and other places. If they had to make a statement about election expenses as an individual candidate is compelled to do, that statement would be a document of public interest.

Scorning all weak and compromising methods of "raising the wind," the women have decided to come out into the open and ask their friends for the cash. The gentle habit of picking the pockets of a husband's trousers before the said husband has donned these garments is both romantic and customary, but it is not prolific of results. This is to be a larger appeal. It is to be an assault upon check books. The women will accept anything from $1 to $10,000, although they expect few contributions in exactly these amounts.

It is possible before the year is up that they will give a blazing suffrage fair where the public can be educated to their idea and separated from the coin at the same time. This plan, however, is not definite, and the suffragettes may limit their financial operation entirely to the donations of the men and women who are interested in securing votes for women.

GENERAL APPRAISER AT WORK.

Takes Up Several Important Cases in Which Complaint Is Made That Customs Officials Overcharged.

General Appraiser McClelland yesterday took up the task of adjusting the cases wherein importers have complained that the local customhouse officials have placed too much duty on their goods.

One of the chief differences is in regard to the classification of railroad ties which the Santa Fe has received by steamer from the Orient. In each consignment are quantities of ties which are longer than those which are ordinarily used. The officials of this port have placed them in a separate classification and the railroad contends that this makes the duty excessive.

The orange oil case which was transferred here from New York will be taken up Tuesday. The government's interests will be looked after by Assistant United States Attorney Lawrence, who came here from the East to be present at this session of the Board of Appraisers.

Many experts from this section have been requested to be present at the hearing and divulge their knowledge as to the various properties of fruit and orange oil.

James L. Carmody, formerly quartermaster-general, and at present interested in mining properties at Guayquil, Ecuador, accompanied by his wife, arrived yesterday at the Van Nuys from New York. He is a brother of Francis Carmody, one time Assistant Attorney-General of the United States. He is here for a rest.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY MEMORIAL FUND.

A Remarkable Group.

Suffrage organizations and women generally throughout the United States are planning to observe the week from February 13 to 22 as a memorial week for Susan B. Anthony, the apostle of "equal rights" A great woman, of strong intellect, fine personality and large heart, Miss Anthony for half a century gave herself unreservedly to her championship of "the rights of women to equal opportunities, equal education and equal suffrage." She thought and labored unremittingly for the advancement of her sex and the women of the United States do well to hold her memory in reverence.

At the Chicago meeting of the National Suffrage Association, it was determined to raise $100,000 to be known as the Susan B. Anthony Memorial Fund. This fund is to be held in trust under the administration of a special committee and the income is to be devoted to campaign purposes throughout the country. A call has been made for 1000 women to contribute $10 each; for women of all professions and occupations to send in smaller sums, and for all women's clubs and organizations to aid in establishing this fund. It is hoped that the entire sum will be completed during the memorial week of 1911. Strong effort is being put forth for this end in parts of the country and it is expected that Los Angeles organizations and women will do their share toward making it possible for the National Association to put workers and literature in the field whenever and wherever a State campaign reaches the crucial point.

VASSAR NOT FOR SUFFRAGE FADS.

ALUMNAE SAY QUESTION HAS NO INTEREST AT ALL.

Representatives Meet in Chicago and Pooh-Pooh Idea of Women's "Rights"—President of Famous School Extols Girls as Better Scholars Than Men Ever Were.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Vassar graduates, old and young, alumnae of the old eastern school, who are gathered from the country over for the opening meeting of the first annual session of the Associate Alumnae of Vassar, refused to go on record as a body for or against woman's suffrage. This attitude came in the wake of news dispatches from Wellesley College, which told of how members of that institution had looked with cold disdain upon the methods of the country's leading suffragists.

"Vassar refuses to identify itself positively as being for or against woman's suffrage," stoutly affirmed Mrs. Lucian Howe of Buffalo, N. Y., national president of the alumnae. "This we maintain despite the attitude Wellesley assumes."

Mrs. Howe was graduated from the school in 1882 and has long been prominent in the alumnae work of the college.

"As to the individual opinions of Vassar graduates," continued the leader, "of course I am not able to say definitely what each one's attitude is. But, as a whole, the alumnae of the college, I believe, are not in favor of committing themselves on the issue. Personally I do not care to discuss the matter in any way at all. We are here for our annual reunion and convention and have greater things than woman's suffrage to talk about."

"Girl students are smarter than men. For instance, take a thousand girls and a thousand men out of the same homes, put them in college, and when diploma day comes around you will find that a considerable greater per cent. of the girls carry away the sheepskins than the men.

"Why?

"I'll tell you," said Dr. James M. Taylor, president of Vassar College, the famous girls' institution of learning, who is in Chicago to attend the Associate Alumnae reunion.

"The women," he explained, "go to college to study and learn. The men are lacking in that spirit. While a good many men do really strive and succeed, there are many who are more interested in college sport, and even those who do study and try to keep up do not take any special pride in letting the others know that they are working.

"Girls, though, are different. They are conscientious about their work. They are vastly more humiliated by a failure than a man."

THREE PASTORS GET IN A ROW.

Line-up at Temple Baptist Church Reception.

Celebrate Dr. Brougher's Anniversary.

Family of Dr. Henry Returns From New Zealand.

Berean Hall was a real bower of beauty last night, with its masses of greenery and wilderness of flowers, the setting prepared for the reception marking the first anniversary of Dr. Whitcomb Brougher's pastorate of Temple Baptist Church.

All the chairs had been removed from the hall and, to keep people going direct to and from the receiving line, and prevent their cutting "across lots," the center portion of the hall was artistically fenced off with ropes of smilax, suspended between pedestals, each of which was topped with an urn filled with white carnations and yellow jonquils, while masses of calla lilies and other white blooms occupied every point of vantage.

The receiving line consisted of Dr. Brougher, pastor of Temple Church, and Mrs. Brougher; Dr. Burdette, pastor emeritus, and Mrs. Burdette; Rev. John Bentzien, assistant pastor, and Mrs. Bentzien. It was a remarkable line of pastors and "pastoresses," and was the occasion of much favorable comment. After all the guests had passed the line, the handsome hall was packed about to the limit, the 300 members received into the church by Dr. Brougher having been tagged with a card bearing their names, as they were the special guests of the evening.

T. T. Woodruff, superintendent of the Sunday-school, called the assembly to order and, after prayer by Mr. Bentzien, made brief opening remarks. Dr. William Horace Day, pastor of the First Congregational Church, paid his respects to the guest of honor, in the name of churches of other denominations; Dr. Burdette dished up some appetizing humor, as representative of Temple Church, and then Dr. Brougher came back." The music of the evening consisted of a duet by Mrs. Bacon and J. B. Poulin, a solo by Mr. Dykers, a number by the big chorus of Temple Church, and harp music during the reception by Mr. Miller.

At the conclusion of the programme there was an hour of general sociability, during which an effort was made to have all the new members become acquainted with the older ones. Punch was served by young ladies at two large tables, in opposite corners of the hall.

Practically the entire 1200 members of Temple Church were there, together with a large number of friends from other denominations, and the reception was a high compliment to the pastor, and a demonstration of the satisfaction the members feel at the work he has accomplished. At every service, day or night, he has crowded the great auditorium to the limit, and turned hundreds from the doors who could not find seats. He has proven himself ever fresh and resourceful, never failing to hold and interest an audience. His topics may sometimes be sensational, and his manner on the platform ditto, but if this is true, he has it around to the orthodox gospel before the end of his sermon, and usually makes a strong impression upon the hearts and minds of his hearers. Dr. Brougher is an exceptional combination of the expert entertainer and successful preacher.

FROM NEW ZEALAND.

DR. HENRY'S FAMILY BACK.

Mrs. Henry, wife of Dr. J. Q. A. Henry, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, arrived at the Westminster Hotel yesterday, accompanied by her son and daughter, having come direct from Graymouth, on the west coast of New Zealand, where they left Dr. Henry still engaged in his evangelistic campaign. It is just a year since they sailed for New Zealand, and have returned in order that the boy may again take up his studies in Occidental College, at which institution he was a student when they started for a tour of the world. Owing to the feeble condition of the father and mother of Dr. Henry, who live in the northern part of California, he has decided to return home, after he has finished all the engagements for which he has contracted, and will come back in the early summer. After a year's rest here, he will again return to New Zealand and complete his circuit of the globe. They have all enjoyed the best of health during the trip, and Dr. Henry said last night that Dr. Henry seems stronger than when he left, and does not show any ill effects of the more than 500 addresses he has delivered, though he burns up energy like an electric motor.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

ALL DENOMINATIONS UNITE.

An interesting district Sunday-school convention was held in the East Side Christian Church on Tuesday, composed of representatives of all denominations. The Los Angeles Congregational school won the silk flag, offered as a prize to the school having the greatest percentage of its officers and teachers at the convention for morning roll call. The Queen Esther class of the Christian church, captured the other flag, for the largest number present at the evening session.

The following State representatives were present at the convention, and aided in making it a great success: Rev. Charles Reccombe, president; Rev. P. F. Emerson, superintendent of teacher training; Miss Meme Brockway, superintendent of elementary work.

The following officers were elected to have charge of the district association for the ensuing year: President, R. W. Lyndon; vice-president, Lyman Jacobs; secretary, Mrs. Frank P. Gray; treasurer, superintendent, Miss Anna Smith; adult superintendent, Miss N. Lindsay; teacher training, Mrs. Nina McFadyen; home department, Mrs. Frances M. Chambers.

MISSIONARY WORKERS.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION.

The Women's Federation of Christian Missionary Workers will meet in the First Methodist Church on next Thursday at 10 o'clock, a.m. The federation is composed of representatives from the missionary societies of all denominations, and an interesting programme has been prepared for both morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. E. Y. Van Cleve, C.W. Cole, secretary.

The programme includes addresses by Mrs. L. A. Crayer on "Missionary Problems," Mrs. M. W. Crabbe, "Current Events," Mrs. David M. Brown on "Twenty Years of Women's Work in Mexico," Mrs. C. M. Carter, "The Methodist Conference," Mrs. E. C. Schuler, "Persia;" Mrs. W. L. Tucker, "How to Interest and Organize Young Women."

RELIGIOUS BREVITIES.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN.

All the ministers of the city will meet at the Federation Club on Monday afternoon for the purpose of districting the city for the evangelistic services, to be held from March 15 to April 9. The city will be divided into twenty-two districts, and committees will be appointed to look after the interests of each.

The presidents of the several church brotherhoods and the general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday drafted a letter to Dr. Robert J. Burdette, testifying their appreciation of the splendid series of addresses he delivered at the noon men's meetings in Clune's theater. The letter will be handsomely engrossed and presented to Dr. Burdette.

Bishop T. H. Dahl of Minneapolis, bishop of the Norwegian United Lutheran Church of America, who has come here for a protracted stay, on account of his health, will preach on Sunday morning, in Bethlehem Norwegian Church, Thirty-fourth street and Maple avenue. For the present, he has taken up his residence at Long Beach.

Rev. Warren H. Landon, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, will lecture in Emmanual Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, on the subject of the Passion Play at Oberammergau, which he witnessed last summer. In the morning Dr. Hugh K. Walker will preach on the subject: "The Fashioning of an All-round Christian."

A memorial service for the late Mrs. A. Smale, will be held in the First New Testament Church on Sunday morning, when a memorial address will be delivered by her son, Rev. Joseph Smale, and her favorite hymns will be sung.

The choir of St. John's Church will render Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," at 5 o'clock service, Sunday afternoon, under the direction of Waldo M. Chase.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke's subject at the First Methodist Church on Sunday evening will be: "Abraham Lincoln and Nicodemus," appropriate to Lincoln's Birthday anniversary. Dr. Locke will show a New York daily newspaper of April 15, 1885, containing the details of Lincoln's assassination. His morning subject will be: "The Master is Come and Calleth for Thee."

Rev. J. M. Schaefle will deliver an address on Lincoln's birth, at the Pico Heights Congregational Church, on Sunday morning.

Rev. E. Stanton Hodgin, at the First Unitarian Church, will preach a Lincoln memorial sermon, under the title, "The First American."

"The Indwelling Christ," will be the subject of the morning sermon of Rev. W. C. Bower, at the temporary Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, Fourth street and Normandie avenue.

Rev. Herbert J. Weaver, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church, will speak at the vesper service at the Young Women's Christian Association at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Miss Meme Brockway, of the State Sunday-school Association, will speak at the rally service of the First Christian Sunday-school, tomorrow morning. The morning sermon of Rev. A. C. Smither will be on "The Missionary Paul," and in the evening he will continue his lecture on "The Wonders of the Yellowstone."

Rev. Robert Renison, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, will deliver the address at the men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. His subject will be "The Triple Power."

Dr. Brougher will pay his respects to "Lopsided People," in the Auditorium on Sunday morning, and in the evening his subject will be: "Marrying for Money; or, the Exchange of a Title for Gold." George W. Jenkins, the Welch tenor, will sing at both services, and there will be other notable musical numbers.

THE WEEKLY BIBLE LESSON.

REV. G. CAMPBELL MORGAN'S SUNDAY-SCHOOL HELPS.

Elijah's Victory Over the Prophets of Baal.

LESSON: I Kings xviii, 1, 2, 17-40. GOLDEN TEXT: Joshua xxiv, 15.

"Choose you this day whom ye will serve."

(1.) And it came to pass after many days that the word of the Lord came to Elijah, in the third year, saying, Go, shew thyself unto Ahab and I will send rain upon the earth. (2.) And Elijah went to shew himself unto Ahab, and the famine was sore in Samaria. (17.) And it came to pass, when Ahab saw Elijah, that Ahab said unto him, Is it thou, thou troubler of Israel? (18.) And he answered, I have not troubled Israel; but thou and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou hast followed the Baalim. (19.) Now therefore send and gather to me all Israel unto Mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the Asherah four hundred, which eat at Jezebel's table. (20.) So Ahab sent unto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together unto Mount Carmel. (21.) And Elijah came near unto all the people and said, how long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him, but if Baal, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word. (22.) Then said Elijah unto the people, I even, I only am left a prophet of the Lord; but Baal's prophets are four hundred and fifty men. (23.) Let them therefore give us two bullocks, and let them choose one bullock for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, and put no fire under; and I will dress the other bullock and lay it on the wood and put no fire under. (24.) And call ye on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the Lord, and the God that answereth by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered and said, It is well spoken. (25.) And Elijah said unto the prophets of Baal, choose you one bullock for yourselves, and dress it first; for ye are many; and call on the name of your god, but put ye no fire under. (26.) And they took the bullock which was given them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even until noon, saying, O Baal, hear us. But there was no voice, nor any that answered. And they leaped about the altar which was made. (27.) And it came to pass at noon, that Elijah mocked them, and said, cry aloud; for he is a god; either he is musing, or he is gone aside, or he is in a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awaked. (28.) And they cried aloud and cut themselves after their manner with knives and lancets till the blood gushed out upon them. (29.) And it was so, when midday was past, that they prophesied until the time of the offering of the evening oblation, but there was neither voice, nor any to answer, nor any that regarded. (30.) And Elijah said unto all the people, come near unto me; and all the people came near unto him. And he repaired the altar of the Lord that was thrown down. (31.) And Elijah took twelve stones according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, unto whom the word of the Lord came, saying, Israel shall be thy name. (32.) And with the stones he built an altar in the name of the Lord; and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two measures of seed. (33.) And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid it on the wood. And he said, fill four barrels with water, and pour it on the burnt offering, and on the wood. (34.) And he said, do it the second time; and they did it the second time. And he said, do it the third time; and they did it the third time. (35.) And the water ran round about the altar; and he filled the trench also with water. (36.) And it came to pass at the time of the offering of the evening oblation, that Elijah the prophet came near, and said, O Lord, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Israel, let it be known this day, that thou art God in Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that I have done all these things at thy word. (37.) Hear me, O Lord, hear me, that this people may know that thou, Lord, art God, and that thou hast turned their heart back again. (38.) Then the fire of the Lord fell and consumed the burnt offering and the wood and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. (39.) And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces; and they said, the Lord, he is God, the Lord, he is God. (40.) And Elijah said unto them, take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. And they took them; and Elijah brought them down to the brook Kishon, and slew them there.

THE STORY.

The predicted three years were over, and now the command of Jehovah was definitely laid upon the prophet that he should show himself to Ahab. His obedience was again immediate, as he left the house of the widow of Zarephath, and took his journey toward Samaria.

In the lesson arranged, a paragraph is omitted which is full of interest, as it tells the story of how Elijah came at last face to face with Ahab. The intermediary was Obadiah, whose loyalty to Jehovah had been demonstrated in a time of difficulty by his preservation of the prophets of the Lord when Jezebel had ordered their destruction. It was to this man that Elijah first appeared. From the story we find that Ahab had instituted the most diligent search for Elijah during the period of the drought; and the wisdom of the divine government is seen in the seclusion of his hiding places during that period. Obadiah was filled with fear lest while he went to seek Ahab Elijah would again disappear. The prophet entered into solemn covenant with him that this should not be so, and at last Ahab and Elijah stood face to face.

The King demanded of the prophet, "Is it thou, thou troubler of Israel?" and the question is a revelation of his sense of the devastation which had befallen Israel, and of his anger with the prophet. The answer of the prophet thrills with dignity and rebuke, "I have not troubled Israel, but thou and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou hast followed the Baalim."

The immediate result was the great day on Carmel, when Elijah as prophet of Jehovah, called the prophets of Baal to the great trial by fire. The scene is one of the most dramatic on the pages of Holy Writ. The prophets of Baal, compelled by the experiences of the three years to answer the challenge of Elijah, make the attempt, and their attitude is characterized by a devotion which expressed itself in frenzy, all to no purpose. There is no answering voice, no falling of fire, and they stand before the hosts of Israel discomfited by failure.

In striking contrast, the one prophet of Jehovah waits through the long hours in perfect calm—a calm so serene that he is able to taunt them with satire, and thus to emphasize the vanity of idolatry. At last, when their failure is patent, in quiet confidence, amid the hush of the multitudes, he prays, and immediately is vindicated by the falling of a fire so fierce that sacrifice and altar and water alike are destroyed. The day closed by a swift and terrible judgment upon the prophets of Baal, who were taken to the brook Kishon, and slain.

THE TEACHING.

The first lesson of the story is suggested by the meeting between Ahab and Elijah, the question of the King, and the answer of the prophet, as they set forth the difference between true and false patriotism. The King charged the prophet with being the troubler of Israel, because through him all the suffering of the drought had come to Israel. The prophet replied by declaring that the suffering of the drought was the result of the sin of idolatry. True idolatry is often iconoclastic and revolutionary. It recognizes the destructiveness of sin, and proceeds to the adoption of methods which, while entailing suffering for the time being, produce afterwards the peaceable fruit of righteousness. The trouble of a nation is not the chastisement which falls upon it, but the sin which makes that chastisement necessary.

On Carmel three lessons of supreme importance were taught to the nation of Israel, and through them to all nations and peoples. The first is that of the vanity of false gods. In the day of trouble and of real need they have no power to help. Neither the frenzy of their prophets nor the devotion of their priests are equal to producing results, of course for the simple reason that they are no gods. In all its history until this moment, Israel had received no more remarkable demonstrations of this fact than that of the silence of the heavens in the presence of the appeal of the prophets of Baal.

The second lesson was that of the power of Jehovah. He had been to all practical purposes forgotten, insulted by the worship of Baal introduced by Ahab, as well as by the degradation of His own worship instituted by Jeroboam; and now, the witness of the three years of drought was sealed with startling effect by the calm strength of Elijah, and the definite answer of fire which had fallen in response to his prayer.

The third lesson was that of the actual government of Jehovah. As we have said, He had been forgotten and insulted, but He had not given up either his right or his exercise of power. Of what avail were the policy and cleverness of Ahab in the presence of that withholding of the rain which had caused the withering of life and the drying up of the true resources, even of material wealth. Unseen, forgotten, insulted, Jehovah still lived and reigned. These were the lessons of Carmel and they are of abiding importance.

The mission of Elijah reveals a method which it is well that all workers for God should recognize. There is a sense in which it was a failure, for the subsequent history of the people is that of determined revolution and ultimate ruin. Nevertheless it was both necessary and valuable for the strengthening of those who were timid; the bringing of definite decision of many who were halting; and that solemn testimony which was necessary in order that those persisting in rebellion should have no excuse.

The suggestion intended by the golden text is valuable and important. The text itself is ill chosen, as its context will reveal. Joshua did not ask the people of his day to choose between idols and Jehovah; but, assuming that they had abandoned Jehovah to choose between the gods their fathers left on the other side of the flood, and those they found within the land. A better text for the lesson would have been the challenge of Elijah as he uttered to the people, "How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow Him; but if Baal, then follow him," emphasizing as it does the power of choice, the necessity for choice, and the value of choice which is definite.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

From Slave to Prime Minister.

Terse Comments Upon the Christian Endeavor Topic for February 12, "Lessons from Great Lives. Joseph." Gen. 41, 14-41.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

A man with Joseph's faith and faithfulness cannot be defeated. He must succeed. Compare these qualities with those which successful business men of today tell us are needed, and see how much men like Joseph are in demand. What does the world want? "Men who cannot be bought. Men whose word is their bond. Men who put character above wealth. Men who possess opinions and a will. Men who are larger than their vocations. Men who see the divine in the common. Men who will make no compromise with wrong. Men who have the courage to do their duty in silence and obscurity, while others about them win wealth and notoriety by neglecting sacred obligations—the man with high ideals."

It is not the past, but the performance, that reveals character. Joseph in jail was as reliable as when governor of Egypt.

The nobility of Joseph's character is made so attractively apparent that one feels the might of its gentleness:

"Be noble, and the nobleness that lies
In other men, sleeping but never dead
Will rise in majesty to meet thine own."

Through every web of life the dark threads run.
Oh, why and whither? God knows all:
I only know that He is good,
And that whatever may befall,
Or here or there, must be the best that could.

—[Whittier.

There is a cynical saying, "God gives us our relatives, but we may choose our friends," which has another and better meaning that is commonly given to it. God does give us our relatives; they are His choice of material for us to use in serving Him and in developing our own lives. To turn our backs upon our relatives is to flee our duty as truly as Jonah tried to do. They are ours to help, and for our help. Perhaps if we gave to them the courtesy, consideration and attractiveness that we bestow upon strangers, we should find them more responsive and congenial.

Little Brother Joseph answered big Brother Cain's question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Joseph's example is not without significance to the prosperous persons who would forget and neglect their poor relations. The bonds of blood were forged by God, and He does not design that any change in estate shall change them. Brotherhood, in its largest significance, is but another name for helpfulness.

God gives that we may share. Joseph wisely recognized himself as merely the divine agent in carrying out God's plan for his whole family.

In all the length and breadth of Egypt, Joseph had seen nothing quite so beautiful as the face of his mother's son, his younger brother Benjamin. We may travel the world around and we shall find no joy or reward so great as the love-light in the eyes of those who shared the old home with us.

It perhaps would be unjust to say that the prodigal's elder brother is a more fashionable type than Benjamin's elder brother, Joseph. For arrogance, pride and selfishness are still sadly common in the world. Magnanimity, affection and bounty are not always bestowed upon "these little ones" whom Jesus declared to be His representatives.

A diamond is a diamond, whether reposing in a king's diadem or hidden in the mire; and a noble character is a noble character, and itself a priceless possession, no matter in what lot it be cast. Joseph in prison was really as great as Joseph in power.

The dreamer who forgets not his golden dreams of youth may master circumstances; pity those in a hard lot who have not this spring of sustenance within themselves. Joseph was always true to his gleam. Even when his flesh quivered beneath the Midianite lash, or when he stood bound in the public slave market in Egypt, the high blood of sensitive princeliness mantling his cheek, he was still Joseph the dreamer. Through all the subsequent years of drudgery, dishonor and degradation, as well as through his years of responsibility and elevation, he clung to those boyhood visions which had come to him in Canaan.

There is scarcely a day passes that does not see the story of Joseph reenacted; people bowing the knee to him who was a short time before among those who bowed the knee. The commercial world is full of this; so is every other sphere of human activity. Josephs are everyday finding scepters of power thrust into their hands; well for them if they are not like some notorious made-over-night millionaires, whose heads are so turned by authority and position that they make public exhibition of their unfitness. Joseph belonged to the noble army of competents. He won place because he knew how to bring things to pass. He was an early protoype of the modern young man at the front.

Pharaoh was quite as little interested as in the modern world in a man's antecedents, age or appearance; the thing he sought was efficiency, and this Joseph possessed. The ancient king, like modern society, was willing to pay the highest price for ability to do the hardest task successfully. Thus, by Joseph's exaltation, were exalted the ideals he had so long cherished, and the God upon whom he depended for all his skill and success. Every true success of a godly man is a glorification of God Himself.

Gas Talks

Chapter 12

125 Miles of New Mains

The building of a gas main from Los Angeles to San Diego would be hailed as a remarkable undertaking, even in these days of big development hereabout. Yet the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has performed a task of that magnitude in the ordinary development of its plant within the last year. Furthermore, this work—the laying of 125 miles of new mains—has been confined to this city and its immediately adjacent environs.

This was the net increase of mileage for the year, bringing the total up to 877 miles for the local plant. In addition, many additional lines of pipe were renewed for the betterment of the service.

A striking fact is that the average size of pipe for the city was increased three-fourths of an inch in 1910. This means improved gas conditions for every patron of this company.

At the Aliso-street works there was an expenditure of $800,000 in the same period for new and improved generating apparatus, buildings and other appurtenances. Two new generators were installed, capable of adding 5,000,000 cubic feet daily to the production.

These few examples are cited as proof of this company's intent to provide a permanent supply of the best gas for a population far in excess of that now registered in Los Angeles.

An expenditure of $1,000,000 or more is in contemplation for the present year in the further perfection of the system. The bulk of this large amount will be expended right at home for material and labor.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified Rates: The rate for inserting Want ads in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue, 2½c per word each insertion; minimum, change &c; except under following classifications, the rate for which is 3c per word, minimum, charge 25 cents: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," "Church Notices, Miscellaneous," and "Baths and Massage."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 9 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified, "Wants," "To Let," etc., received over counter or by telephone until 11 p.m. Saturday. Ads received after closing hours for each division will be inserted under heading "Too Late To Classify." Rates, 15c per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 80,000 copies, and Times Liners are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

Rate in this classification, 20 per word, Daily and Sunday; minimum charge, 15 words.

DON'T WAIT
TILL YOU'RE GRAY.
Don't wait for profit until you're old and gray! Invest a little money now where returns will come quick. Put $25 into Arlington Square, for instance, and keep up your payments of $15 monthly. Your profit will be merely a question of months—and not a single dollar of your money will be in any way risked. Arlington Square is going ahead at a wonderful rate. It is located in the best part of the Southwest, a little south of the West Adams district. Splendid car service. Finely improved with graded and oiled streets, cement walks and curbs, and wide, tastefully planted parkings. It has every city convenience. People are attracted to this section, and homes are being built at a rapid rate. This demand will make your money grow. Get in now, while you can buy a lot at only $725 up. Full information at my exact office, corner Arlington st. and Santa Barbara ave. Pare 1 cents on Inglewood car. Or see MR. POTTER at 2113 West Jefferson street, who will show you about in his automobile.

FOR SALE—
THIS ACRE.
It doesn't make any difference how small your income is, you can afford this acre. As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to have it. It will save you money and it will make you money. It is only 20 minutes away by trolley; at Somerset, where there are schools for your children, stores for your convenience—all the comforts of a nice, suburban home place. The soil at Somerset is a real rich sandy loam, and I furnish abundance of water free. Can't you see where your garden, chickens and fruit trees will reduce your living expenses to a minimum? They will save you much more than $10 a month. And this amount will buy you the acre. Yes, $10 cash secures it and $10 monthly pays for it. Get my Somerset folder and take one of my excursions—every hour daily, and up to 5 p.m. Sundays.

FOR SALE—
WALNUT GROVES PAY.
MARCH 6TH
the sale opens on 800 acres of the finest walnut land in California.
CONCORD is the place, and it is only 21 miles back of Oakland, in the beautiful Mount Diablo country.
3-YEAR-OLD GROVES; 200 acres are in English walnuts, grafted in black walnut roots, which will be producing 875 per acre in four years, and will increase every year for the next 25 years, producing over $1500 per acre.
NATURE'S WALNUT NURSERY. Eighteen years' experience has proven that walnuts grown in the Mount Diablo country outrival the famous Grenoble walnut of France, bringing a better price than the imported nuts.
AN IDEAL HOME, within 6 minutes' ride of Oakland, on the new Oakland & Antioch Railway, and lying in one of the most beautiful valleys of California, with a climate unsurpassed in the States, and all the advantages of schools, churches, banks, mercantile houses and the social advantages derived from contact with the best business men from adjacent cities, who are fast securing homes among the WALNUT GROVES.
TOWNSITE HOMES. For those desiring a small plot for a home, we have arranged a townsite, adjacent to Concord, consisting of 50-foot lots, with beautiful pastoral views. These lots lay BETWEEN THE TOWN OF CONCORD and the WALNUT GROVES.
To those interested in walnut lands and country homesites, we have arranged for a special train on Sunday morning, March 5.
Save a year by buying now, as no more groves can be planted this year.
Write for maps and tickets.

DIVORCE FREES SOCIAL LEADER.

Prominent San Jose Clubman Defendant in Suit.

Wife Well-Known as a Writer and Chinese Worker.

Reported Patching-up of Differences Untrue.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Jessie Dulet Knox, author of "Little Almond Blossom," and many other short stories and well known among Chinese women, was granted a divorce yesterday at a noon session of the Superior Court. The proceedings were entered in the court record of today and an effort was made to keep the details secret.

Knox is cashier of the Bank of Italy, a well-known clubman and amateur actor, and the husband and wife have been popular in social circles for many years. The wife is given $50 a month alimony and $15 a month for the support of the 12-year-old daughter of the couple. The ground of the suit was incompatibility.

The affairs of the couple have been discussed about in society circles for some time, but it was understood, a year or so ago, that a reconciliation had been effected by relatives of the couple and that the matter would not come to the courts.

Mrs. Knox has been interested for a number of years in Chinese missions in Oakland here, and is one of the best informed women in the State on the subject of the lives and customs of the celestial women, among whom she has visited. Her social affairs in her native costume and with Chinese effects have long been popular.

OLD MILLIONAIRE TIGHT-WAD.

New Orleans Society Revels in Disclosures Brought Out by Suit For Divorce After Month's Bliss (?).

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When William Beasley Flat, aged 62, reputed millionaire sporting and leather trotter, who gives Norfolk, Va., as his home, sued his 22-year-old bride of a month for divorce, she filed a cross bill as diverting as his petition and asked $300 per month alimony. The case came into court today on testimony concerning alimony and life in New Orleans packed the courtroom to the doors. St. Louis beauty and the aged sport and to hear the unusual incidents of a brief but pin-wheel married life.

Putnam, the Los Angeles man whose placards invited the town to bail for smuggling a few days ago, failed to draw the crowd the divorce case of Mrs. Hayes took refuge from reporters in an adjoining office.

Signor Farsanti, theatrical manager, and Col. Hayes told him he had done but many millions. "And on one day that he treated me to ten cents worth of oysters and five cents worth of candy for being his godfather at his baptism," said the witness. "Hayes became a Catholic that he might marry the girl he met as she was selling tags for charity in St. Louis.

Hart sold the millionaire a second-hand auto and saw at the bank a box full of money, bonds and diamonds, among them a $20,000 Beasley diamond.

CHURCH FESTIVAL.

Late Testator Leaves Estate to Revert to Church Under Unusual Conditions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLINTO (Ill.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fairs and festivals under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church of Donnellson, Montgomery county, must be abolished if trustees of the church wish to take charge of the income of a large trust money left by G. R. Aydelotte, whose death occurred at his home in Clinton last month.

Aydelotte was a devout member of the Methodist Church, but was said fairs and festivals being given for the benefit of the church. He believed were contrary to the teachings of Christianity.

The will values the estate at $12,200. The income is to have the benefits of it during her life time, after which the money shall be placed in the hands of the trustees for the church.

In event of violation of the will's provisions the property is to go to the Mercy Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, incorporated by the laws of the State of New York.

TO WEAR SNOW SHOES.

Mail Carriers in Northeastern California to Equipp Animals to Trudge Through Deep Fall.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GRANITE CITY (Cal.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mail to Granite-ville, being carried on snow shoes, is being broken only as far as Bloomfield Flat. The horses that are being used from Bloomfield to Moores Flat are equipped with snow shoes, as the snow is too deep for them to travel safely without the shoes.

Messrs. Kite, Richard Kite and Williamson went down from Granite-ville last night, traveling on snow shoes from Graniteville to near Bloomfield, making the rest of the way by horse. They report the snow as being from 6 to 8 feet deep in places.

MEXICAN COLLEGES LEAD.

Visiting Professor Returns From Mexico and Compares Higher Education in the Two Countries.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Prof. Rudolph Schevill, sent by Columbia University as exchange professor in Berlin, has returned to America with his faith in the American university life and its superiority undisturbed.

"The German student isn't as good looking or as sound as the American college man," says Prof. Schevill, "he has few opportunities for sport and little chance at healthy development in the matter of college spirit and college life. Partly the fault lies in the German system of education. The student is in his eighteenth year when he enters a gymnasium."

Professor Schevill says here and there a student who can afford it spends a semester or two at one of the universities spoiling his chances of getting any real college education.

"The students are much interested in everything American; but they would rather study in this country if it were not for the expense."

IRISH ELECTION CONTESTED.

Timothy Healy Succeeds in Nullifying Victory of Richard Hazleton in North of Louth.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DUBLIN, Feb. 10.—Timothy Healy's contest to nullify the election of Richard Hazelton who, at the last election, turned out "the Ishmael of Nationalism politics"—from the seat for the north division of Louth which he had held for eighteen years, proved successful today.

The case has been before the court at Dundalk for several days, during which Healy presented evidence of much intimidation and rioting at the polling. Hazleton's attorney consented to having the election declared void without offering any defense.

The fight in the Louth constituency was one of the most bitter in the recent campaign. The Redmondites brought all their forces to bear against O'Brien's chief lieutenant, and the defeat of Healy overshadowed the chagrin in the Redmond camp at William Redmond's failure to oust O'Brien in Cork City.

Exciting scenes marked the polling, free fights were frequent and Healy himself at times required police protection. When it was announced that Hazleton had secured Healy's seat in the House of Commons, the independent candidate declared he would protest the election, alleging gross corruption and intimidation. Hazleton was returned unopposed for the north division of Calway.

Healy does not claim the seat now declared vacant and a new election will be necessary.

HIBERNIANS WILL "HOLLER."

Rumors of Intended Proposal of American-English Alliance Stir Society to Raise Voice in Protest.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BALTIMORE, Feb. 10.—Anticipating the introduction of a proposition in Congress for the United States to enter into an alliance with Great Britain, the national Executive Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at its annual meeting today adopted resolutions calling on very Irish-American in the country to rise up and protest if this country sought to enter into an alliance with Great Britain or any other European power.

FLYING ELEPHANT LAYS EGG.

Happened So Long Ago Even Latter Day Dealers Would Hardly Dare Label Strictly Fresh.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The largest egg in the world, eighty times the size of an ordinary hen's egg, is one of the latest acquisitions of the American Museum of Natural History here. It would not be classified, even by an unscrupulous dealer, as "strictly fresh," as the scientists declare it was laid 400 years ago. It was popularly known in Madagascar, whence it came, as the product of the flying elephant, an extinct species of Roc. The egg is two feet, two inches around its shortest circumference.

CATLIN'S SISTER TO TESTIFY.

Wife of New York Banker Will Explain About Beer Dinner at St. Louis Mansion.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Attorney for Theron Catlin, son of multi-millionaire Daniel Catlin, served notice today that his sister, Irene, who was married last Saturday to Frederick W. Allen, New York banker, will appear tomorrow as a witness in Congressman Patrick Gill's Congressional election contest. Mrs. Allen will be questioned on the stand regarding incidents of a big dinner she gave to workingmen at her father's mansion here the day after her brother Theron Catlin was elected to Congress over Gill.

She will also be questioned regarding money she is reported to have spent in her brother's behalf during the Congressional campaign.

STAMPS OUT PARALYSIS.

Scandinavia, Home of Strange Infantile Ailment, Has Purged Itself. Wisconsin Lecturer Declares.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—As Havana harbor was made clean of the yellow fever for the protection of the world, so Scandinavia, as the source of infantile paralysis, has been freed from that disease for the safety of other countries, according to Jacolyn Manning of Eau Claire, Wis., who is in New York for a series of lectures before the American Academy of Medicine.

"All our infant paralysis appears to have come from Scandinavia," said Dr. Manning. "There in those little homes where the people, through the long dark winters, live in close, dark quarters, in close proximity to their animals, we find much infantile paralysis. Now, there is a sailor in nearly every family there and he carries the germs to other seaports, from whence they are carried inland. The true way to meet this disease is to stamp it out in Scandinavia."

SOCIETY WOMEN TO HELP GIRLS.

NEW YORKERS AS COMMITTEE OF "BIG SISTERS."

Each Member a Parole Officer Into Whose Charge Will Be Given One Wayward Miss Investigated by the Children's Court—Miss Dorothy Whitney an Active Worker.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A charitable work among young girls, corresponding to the "Big Brothers" movement among boys, which has yielded such good results in New York in the past few years, has been started in the St. George Deaconess Home, with Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., at the head of a committee in charge.

Miss Young, the head deaconess, a member of the committee, and Mrs. M. W. Evans, formerly parole officer for Protestant girls of the Children's Court, are doing the active work. Miss Dorothy Whitney, daughter of the late William C. Whitney, is one of the society women on the committee who are keenly interested in the work.

While the name of the organization has not yet been definitely decided upon, it is most probable that it will be called the "Big Sisters." Its plan is modeled very much along the line of the "Big Brothers," the idea being to make each member of the committee a parole officer, so to speak, giving in charge of each one a girl who has been brought into the Children's Court.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's interest was inspired by her investigations of conditions among girls who have not the proper home influences, as they are brought to light in the Children's Court.

IRISH REVOLUTIONIST DYING.

Participated in Famous Attempt at Rescue From Prison Van in Manchester, England in 1867.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Feb. 10.—Thomas O'Bolger, who was a member of the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood, which attempted the rescue of Col. Thomas J. Kelly and Capt. Timothy Deacy from a prison van at Manchester, England, in 1867, for which attempt the "Manchester Martyrs," Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, were hanged, is lying dangerously ill at his residence in this city.

O'Bolger, who made a sensational escape after the attack on the prison van, came at once to America. He has been a resident of Rochester for several years.

GAVE UP FAME FOR HUSBAND.

Once Talented Singer and Actress Now Seeks Legal Freedom From Mate Accused of Non-Support.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, (Col.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Leona de Vriendt, who a few years ago, entertained many with her wonderful voice and her talent as an actress, has brought suit in the district court here for divorce from Pierce de Vriendt. Judge Whitford has issued a writ restraining De Vriendt from leaving the jurisdiction of the court during the pendency of the action.

Mrs. De Vriendt has been living in Denver for the last two years. So successfully has she kept her identity a secret that but a few people know that Denver shelters within its borders a woman who at one time gave promise of being one of the most talented singers and actresses of the age.

Mrs. de Vriendt was married in Paris in October 1898. Thereafter, against the entreaties of friends, she abandoned the stage. For two years she and her husband traveled the continent and for a time lived in Italy.

After six years of alleged martial unhappiness Mrs. de Vriendt determined to leave her husband, and came to America. He followed and she came West in the hope of throwing him off her trail, but he succeeded in again finding her, she charges.

She has now started suit for divorce and charges extreme cruelty and non-support.

OREGON DOWN ON PINCHOTISM.

Senators of Northern State Make Bitter Attack on Government's "Mistaken Policy of Conservatism."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM (Or.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring strongly against "Pinchotism," some of the Senators today on the floor attacked a policy which they asserted to be a blight on Oregon and a disgrace to the general government. The discussion arose over the House bill asking an appropriation of $20,000 annually for topographical maps and investigation of water sources.

Bowerman declared himself as believing it impossible that such an appropriation could be of value to the State of Oregon.

"There is a much more needed appropriation than this which I would like to see go through," he stated. "While this bill would be a benefit to Eastern Oregon, I would favor an appropriation that would assist us in removing the blight of 'Pinchotism' which is impeding our progress in locking up the resources of Western Oregon, and barring against the world.

"I will probably vote for the bill under discussion. But I would rather vote for an appropriation of $100,000 to supplement it if it would give Oregon her resources again and free us from the grasp of 'Pinchotism.'"

Norton followed Bowerman with an expression of contempt for the policies which have kept Oregon from claiming her own resources.

"No one in the Senate can have a greater contempt for Pinchot and his policies than myself," was the comment he made.

The bill finally passed.

FIGHTING OVER WATER RIGHTS.

United States Instructs Colorado Official to Protect Government in Litigation Over Grand River.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 10.—Attv.-Gen. Wickersham notified United States Attorney Ward today to do all in his power to protect the rights of the government in the suits pending in the State courts over water rights in the Grand River.

The Attorney-General believes the government may be deprived of its water rights in that stream, thereby jeopardizing the building of the contemplated high-line canal, a $3,000,000 project.

Mr. Ward said today that a suit was pending in Grand county between the Grand Valley Irrigating Company and other water users of Mesa county against the Inter-Mountain Water Company, involving the right to the waters of the Grand River. State's Attorney-General Griffith of Colorado is one of the counsel for the plaintiffs.

This suit is the result of an alleged attempt by the Inter-Mountain Water Company to divert the water from the headwaters of the Grand River, on the western slope, over the Continental Divide, to irrigate lands on the eastern slope. The Inter-Mountain company claims a right prior to that of the users in the Grand Valley.

TAKES MAN'S WORD, LOSES SUM.

Montana Man Confides $310 to Chicago Acquaintance Who Is Held for Making Strange Deposit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alfred Perrier is an engineer and hails from Butte, Mont. In Butte, Perrier says, men mean just what they say and say only what they mean, and until this afternoon he was of the opinion that this rule applied everywhere.

Perrier arrived in Chicago yesterday, and with him arrived a roll of bills amounting to $310. An affable stranger, who introduced himself as G. A. Shellstrom, scraped acquaintance with Perrier, and learning of the roll the latter carried, advised him against keeping so much money on his person in a city as bad and bold as Chicago, which he pictured as infested with hold-up men and thugs. To relieve Perrier's not unnatural anxiety, Shellstrom volunteered to deposit the money in the safe of a saloon man, a friend of his.

When Perrier woke this morning, the affable stranger was missing, and the westerner told his troubles to a policeman. Later, Shellstrom was found asleep in a saloon, but nothing remained of the $310 except a non-negotiable check for $8.40.

In Police Court Shellstrom assured Judge Scully that the whole transaction was bona fide, but that he could not remember in just which of the city's many saloons he had deposited the roll. Shellstrom was given until tomorrow morning to refresh his memory, with a suspended penitentiary sentence to act as a spur.

JAMES BOYS' MOTHER DIES.

Mrs. Zerelda Samuels Expires Suddenly of Natural Causes on Pullman Car in Oklahoma.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Zerelda Samuels, mother of Jesse and Frank James, famous as bandits, died suddenly on board a Pullman car about twenty miles out of Oklahoma City today.

Mrs. Samuels was returning from a visit to her son, Frank James who is running a ranch in the Southwestern part of the State. She was on her way to visit her grandson, Jesse James, Jr., at Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Samuels was 86 years old and death was due to natural causes. Burial will be at Kansas City to which place the body was sent tonight.

NERVY WOMEN'S BLUFF CALLED

Chicago Restaurant Proprietors Try to Stop Negro Marauder With Firearms of Obsolete Patterns.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a shotgun of the vintage of 1812 o rthereabouts and a revolver that had not carried a cartridge in years, Mrs. Elizabeth Kane and Mrs. Emma Carpenter tried to check the prowling of a negro who had invaded their restaurant at No. 710 West Van Buren street, at midnight with alleged burglarious intent.

With the weapons, which were harmless as a grandfather's clock, leveled at his head, the negro coolly walked over and examined the shotgun and revolver, picked up a stove poker, remarked that somebody was likely to get hurt some day and walked out the front door.

A policeman on the beat outside heard the cocking of the shotgun and likened the disturbance to a sound he had heard in his boyhood. He arrived just in time to nab the negro, who gives his name as Oscar Conway.

The women are joint owners of the restaurant and for a week or more, discovered that some one with a skeleton key had been entering and eating everything left over. Appeals to the police had no effect, so they decided to capture the theif themselves. They admitted their weapons were obsolete, but said they feared to employ real guns and revolvers for fear of shooting themselves or breaking the crockery.

SEVENTEEN DIE IN MINE.

Bodies of Fifteen Victims of Colorado Mine Explosion Are Bought to the Surface.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TRINIDAD (Colo.) Feb. 10.—Seventeen lives were lost in the explosion that wrecked the Cokedale mine of the Carbon Coal and Coke Company, eight miles from here last night. Tonight fifteen bodies, including those of Assistant Superintendent Sutton and Robert Meek, rescuers, who lost their lives, have been brought to the surface.

It has been determined by Superintendent Bayless that the explosion of a car of blasting powder in charge of the shot firers caused the disaster. It is not known how the powder was ignited.

Practically the entire mine has been explored and the damage to property is small. All of the victims died from the effects of the after damp and none of the bodies were mutilated.

With the exception of the two rescue men who perished, the victims were Poles and Italians. Nearly all were married and some have large families.

The company officials have given orders for the care of the widows and children.

ADMIRAL BERESFORD RETIRES.

Reaches Age Limit in British Navy But Friction With Naval Board Is Recognized as Underlying Reason.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Admiral Charles William de la Poer Beresford is 65 years old today and, by virtue of the age-limit clause, is retired from the active list of the British navy. He has held no appointment since his surrender on March 24, 1909, of the command of the channel fleet.

His retirement was credited generally to friction with the admiralty board. In the ordinary course he would have held the channel command for another year.

He had been a severe critic of the management of the navy when he was serving in Parliament and, after he was put at the head of the channel fleet in 1907 he had trouble both with his superiors and his subordinates.

BREWER'S HEIRESS BUYS HOME.

Eighty Thousand Dollar Residence in St. Louis Purchased Yesterday by Mrs. Thomas Wright.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Thomas H. Wright, who, as Miss Elsa Lemp, was married to Thomas H. Wright, at the home of Gustav Pabst in Milwaukee, last April, is negotiating for the purchase of the John W. Kauffman home at No. 46 Portland Place, as a future residence. The Wrights are now occupying apartments at the St. Regis.

Mrs. Wright said Thursday that until the deal is completed she could not say when she would occupy the house. The price said to have been agreed upon—although Mrs. Wright would not discuss this feature—is $80,000.

Mr. Wright is a son of Mrs. Virginia Wright, of No. 33 Westmoreland Place, and a brother of Mrs. George W. Simmons and Mrs. Charles Parsons Pettus. Mrs. Wright received $100,000 from the $10,000,000 estate of her father, William J. Lemp, multi-millionaire brewer, on her wedding day. The balance of her share is to be held in trust until she is 30 years old.

FINE SITE FOR A CHURCH.

First Scientist Organization Buys Three Lots on Alvarado Terrace for Consideration of Twenty Thousand.

Three beautifully situated lots at the northeast corner of Alvarado Terrace and Alvarado boulevard, midway between the Pico and Sixteenth street car lines, have been purchased by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, from Mrs. Frances L. Mocera. The deal involved a consideration of $20,000.

The property, which has a frontage on Alvarado Terrace of 186 feet and on Alvarado boulevard of 160 feet, will be used as the site of a handsome new church edifice to be erected at an early date. The congregation has entirely outgrown its present quarters on Seventeenth street, between Georgia and Figueroa streets, where services are held in a small frame church.

Although no plans for the new church have as yet been definitely settled upon, the congregation is strongly considering the idea of duplicating the beautiful Christian Scientist Church of Pasadena, plans for which were prepared by the late Franklin P. Burnham. If this is not done it is declared that a structure of equal magnificence will be erected.

SCOTT FOR TOASTMASTER.

For the banquet to be held at Hotel Alexandria in the evening of March 5 in connection with the convention of the Navy League of the United States, Joseph Scott has been chosen for toastmaster.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY OFFER.

case of the new buildings, the entire $35,000 is in each case to be applied only to the cost of building. The equipment will be provided for by the 10 per cent. appropriation required of the city.

As to the kind of a library which can be erected for $35,000, Mr. Wright was ready for inquirers with photographic views of substantial and even imposing institutions erected under his supervision for considerably smaller sums. He said, however, that in the absence of definite information as to the local cost of materials, he could supply nothing more than general data on the subject.

Credit for securing of the handsome donation is given both to Mr. Wright and President Newmark. The question of more library facilities for Los Angeles, taken up at the time of Mr. Carnegie's visit here last summer, has since been kept hot by the efforts of both men.

SOLVING AUTO THEFTS.

Youth Confesses to Officer Stealing Machines, One of Which He Strips of Battery and Lights.

Gussy Suden, aged 17 years, of Ivanhoe, at the County Jail last night confessed to Mounted Officer Imus various thefts of automobiles.

Suden found an automobile standing at Los Feliz and Ivanhoe roads and stripping the car of its Miller battery and lights, he installed them in his room. He said he stole a Lexington car at Ninth and Spring streets, abandoning it at the Indian Village, when the gasoline ran out, after a joy ride.

In company with young Clarence Hanson, Suden was arrested at Santa Barbara Wednesday and sent back to Los Angeles by the Sheriff with a Cadillac car which had been stolen from Ninth and Main streets, on the night of January 29.

Y.M.C.A. BASKETBALL.

The fifth round in the Y.M.C.A. basketball schedule is to be played on the association court tonight. All six of the Y. M. teams are included in the evening schedule. The Tigers and Thistles are expected to furnish a lively contest. The Tigers lead so far but the Thistles are "doped to give them a close run tonight. The Silent Five and Rovers will scrap it out for first place. The Cubs and Snails are the low teams on the percentage list. Each is anxious to keep away from the bottom and are expected to display better basketball than in previous games.

ORANGE BELT TITLE.

Riverside High School basketball team is to fight it out on the court this afternoon with Ontario High at Redlands for the championship of the Orange Belt. The Ontario boys defeated Riverside earlier in the season but were later beaten by San Bernardino who went down before Riverside last Saturday. This complicated things and made it necessary to play the extra game today to settle the final winners.

INTEREST TO HOME BUILDERS.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

OWENS RIVER LOGICAL SOURCE.

Chairman of Water Sub-Committee So Reports.

Suspect Ulterior Motives on Part of Los Angeles.

(Office of The Times, 38 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, Feb. 11.—"The only feasible supply for additional water for Pasadena is the Owens River," said Ernest H. Lockwood, chairman of the Owens River sub-committee of the Board of Trade Water Committee at the regular meeting held last night. The above were the closing words of his report which was submitted for consideration but not the final report of the subcommittee and they fell like a bombshell. In a minute several members arose to object to the word "feasible," saying that other committees are working on other outside water supplies and they have some rights in their reports.

"Be that as it may," said Lockwood, "you have been after me for some time to report on the findings of our subcommittee. For some time I have reported, as chairman of that committee, that I did not think it worth while until the other committees had made up their minds regarding these other supplies, but you have insisted that I make a report and now you have it."

Lockwood and Thum, both of whom are on the subcommittee, which also was empowered to meet with the Consolidation Commission of Los Angeles, reported on what had been accomplished at the two meetings held. Thum stated that there is the most friendly feeling existing in Los Angeles toward Pasadena, and everything which is of interest to Pasadena and that there is absolutely no wish or desire of anything else. He also stated that the Los Angeles committee has requested that a committee of six to be composed of three members from Pasadena and three members from Los Angeles be appointed to go over the entire matter together and endeavor to work out some plan entirely suitable to all concerned with the principal idea in view of giving to Pasadena a supply of water from the Owens River, to help Pasadena out in her sewerage questions and at the same time leave to Pasadena her independence in political government.

Both Thum and Lockwood, as well as other members of that sub-committee, recommended the appointment of members for such a committee, but there was much objection from several of those present. The motion was made to invite the members of the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee to visit Pasadena and meet with the Water Committee and present such plans and ideas as they may have. In other words, it was the expressed wish of the Water Committee that Los Angeles should ask Pasadena to take some of the Owens River water and not have Pasadena place herself in the position of asking for such water.

The general tenor of the meeting was anti-consolidation or anything flavoring of such an idea. This feeling has been growing during the past few days because of the approaching municipal campaign, in which it is expected the matter of consolidation with Los Angeles will be one of the principal planks for campaign oratory. The Pasadena local papers have lashed themselves into a fury with anti-consolidation or anti-annexation sentiment in the face of reports made by the sub-committee which visited Los Angeles, to the effect that Los Angeles has no desire to annex Pasadena, under existing laws or to consolidate, until some laws are enacted which will give Pasadena her entire freedom in municipal affairs and at the same time give Pasadena every assistance possible in dividing the great supply of water from the Owens River.

PRAISES PLAYGROUNDS.

In an address in the High School Auditorium, last night, L. H. Wier, secretary of the Playground Association of America, took occasion to say that Pasadena has one of the most up-to-date playgrounds to be found anywhere in the country. He came to the city early yesterday morning and was shown over the Carmelita playgrounds by Director George Sworthout. While, at present, the playgrounds are owned by private parties, the paraphernalia is all owned by the city and the director and his assistants are paid by the city. Sworthout has made many improvements and keeps accurate records of everything done. This system was especially praised by Secretary Wier.

The lecture last night was attended by a large number of people who are greatly interested in the movement. "No place in the country is better fitted naturally than Pasadena for public playgrounds," said Wier. "In fact, all Southern California should be the playground for the balance of the United States because here you can get out every day in the year. This country should produce wonderful athletes because they can practice all the year out of doors, which is far better than any indoors work. I am also greatly pleased to see playgrounds maintained in connection with every one of the grammar schools in Pasadena. This playground movement, although it has been agitated for several years, is yet in its infancy. It is being taken up all over the country and with great success."

HUNTING HIS AFFINITY.

The guests of the Hotel Maryland were nearly thrown into spasms yesterday when George Vaughn, who recently escaped from a private sanatorium in South Pasadena, appeared in the lobby of the big hotel and demanded to see his affinity, whom he declared was stopping in the hotel. He was unable to give her name, but stated he would recognize her on sight. When no effort was made to give him a chance to see all of the guests of the hotel, Vaughn seemed to get angry. Realizing that he might be asking too much he then inquired for Col. Roosevelt, whom he alleged was a personal friend. By this time the clerks and bell boys made a rush for the telephone and in a short time the police were on hand to take Vaughn to the police station, where he was jailed. Later he was taken to the County Hospital and the winter colony began to breathe more freely.

SIMPLIFY ELECTION.

An effort is being made to simplify the coming municipal election by having but one candidate for the various city offices, thus making election only a matter of form. So far there is but one principal candidate for Mayor, and that is William Thum. The Socialist party will place W. H. Nichols in the field, but it is not expected that he will have many votes. Yesterday caucuses were held in various parts of the city in an effort to have all possible competition withdrawn and thus make Thum the unanimous choice of the people for Mayor. The same plan is being worked in the various wards where Councilmen are to be elected, but it is said the proposition is not meeting with much favor. The faction who state they are opposed to voting for Thum still maintain they will have a strong candidate in the field before election day, but they refuse to state the name of their standard-bearer.

NEWS NOTES.

At Throop Academy chapel yesterday morning Prof. Durrell, principal, laid down the law against students using tobacco in any form. He stated that any student found using tobacco will be promptly suspended from the academy.

Bishop Joseph H. Johnson is confined to his home with a severe case of la grippe, from which he has been suffering several days. His engagement to hold a confirmation at Corona yesterday had to be postponed on that account. Inquiry at Bishop Johnson's home last night brought the information he was some better and he expects to fully recover shortly. Since his return from his vacation last fall, Bishop Johnson has not been so well as usual, although he has been feeling much better this spring than he was last fall. His ailment was a light attack of gout.

The students of Throop Academy were addressed yesterday morning by Dr. W. C. Morgan of the University of California along the lines of the absolute necessity of engineers depending on science. Last night he delivered a lecture on the regular Throop lecture course on "Secrets of Falme."

SOCIETY EVENTS.

A happy occasion of last night was the dance given by the senior and junior classes of the Pasadena High School at the Shakespeare Club.

One of the smart society functions of yesterday was the luncheon given by Mrs. H. H. Bailey at her home in San Rafael Heights. The guests included a number of the society women of the city.

Mrs. S. T. Johnson, a guest at the Hotel Maryland, entertained a number of friends at dinner last night. Covers were laid for twelve.

WILL CONDEMN SUPERVISORS.

INDIGNATION MEETING IS SLATED FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Residents of Belmont Heights Think They Have Been Abused by the Granting of a Wholesale Liquor License Near the Residential District.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 10.—The people of the Belmont Heights territory will hold a mass meeting at the East Side Christian Church tomorrow night to adopt resolutions condemning the Board of Supervisors for saddling a wholesale liquor house upon their neighborhood and asking that the permission be rescinded. Some time ago John Yribarne, who for several years has been a thorn in the flesh of Alamitos residents was granted a permit for a wholesale liquor house in the Naples precinct and started the business at Alamitos Bay. He found the competition of two other houses and two restaurants too much and so applied for a transfer of his business to corner of Tenth and Ximeno, in the northern end of the precinct, where there are no voters and this was granted. But the city limits of Long Beach end just across the street, and here it is a thickly settled neighborhood of pretty residences, whose occupants object strongly to a liquor establishment under their noses, and they are up in arms. Yribarne moved his house because he expected a better trade in his present location, as the road is much traveled going and coming from the Orange county line, the gun clubs and the country clubs.

MUNICIPAL WATER.

At a meeting of the civic league of the First Ward last night a strong stand was taken in favor of the city acquiring the water supply of the city, under one of three provisions, by the purchase of the existing private plants, by condemnation proceedings to acquire them or by the city developing an entire new plant. A committee of eleven was appointed to collect necessary data on the subject and present it with the resolutions adopted to the City Council next week.

GREAT BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at the Auditorium tonight was attended by 250 guests, one-third of whom were women. The galleries were thrown open to the public and about 1000 gathered there to listen to the concert by the Municipal Band and hear the toasts following the banquet. Will H. Wallace acted at toastmaster and introduced Frank G. Tyrrell, who spoke on "Sleepy Heads;" Senator John D. Works, "Government" and Congressman-elect Stephens, "Los Angeles Chamber of commerce." Among the out-oftown guests were representatives of the boards of trade and Councils of Santa Ana, Artesia, Santa Monica, Azusa, Ocean Park, Venice, Monrovia, Pasadena and Covina.

AUTO OWNERS PROTEST.

Petitions signed by auto owners are being signed up and will be sent to Assemblyman Hinshaw, protesting against the proposed bill which would tax autos and motorcycles for repairs on the good roads and allow other vehicles to escape such tax.

The police department learned today that Robert H. Kinney, formerly of this city, and frequently in trouble here, has just been sent to San Quentin from Alameda county for six years, for burglary.

Pomona.

GAS COMPANY EXTENSIONS.

CLAREMONT WOULD BE GRATEFUL FOR A CONNECTION.

Los Angeles Capitalists Contemplate Serving a String of Cities Between San Bernardino and the Coast — Public Library Each Month Surpasses the Record.

POMONA, Feb. 10.—Residents of North Pomona and Claremont are interested in the proposition of the Domestic Gas Company of Los Angeles, of which W. G. Kerckhoff is president and A. C. Balch vice-president, to construct a high pressure gas system to cover the towns between Los Angeles and San Bernardino. Claremont has been hoping for a gas system for some months and many of the residents in the northern part of Pomona are ready to have their houses connected with gas for heating and cooking. Pomona is growing so rapidly that it is stated the Domestic company is considering tapping the Pomona city territory. The present price paid to the Edison company here, which owns the only gas plant, is $1.25 per thousand cubic feet.

LIBRARY GROWTH.

The growth of the local public library continues. The monthly report for January of the librarian, Miss S. M. Jacobus, shows a total registered membership of 7374, a total of 18,657 volumes in the library and a total home circulation of 9004 books.

REMEDY COMPANY FORMED.

The Ozoro Remedy Company has been incorporated here by Messrs. O. H. Edinger, O. W. Afferbaugh, Bertram Fich, H. L. Bartlett and C. B. Afferbaugh. Messrs. Edinger and C. B. Afferbaugh are in the drug business here.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Three new cars have arrived from the shops via Los Angeles, to be used on the Pomona-Claremont-Upland Electric line.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Riggs and family of West Unity, Ohio, have arrived here and rented a house on West Pasadena street. Mrs. Riggs is a sister of J. F. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Hill have been entertaining the former's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Vaughn of Newcastle, Ind., and Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Williams and son of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bridges of La Grande, Or., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Barnes of North Towne avenue, have left for their home. Bridges is an extensive apple grower in Oregon.

The joint committee from the local Elks' lodge and the Board of Trade met last night and made final arrangements for entertaining the visiting Elks from Salt Lake City, who will visit Pomona and Ontario tomorrow, coming from Los Angeles in a special train.

WOMAN CRAVES RIGHT TO VOTE.

VOICES HER DESIRE AT COUNTY TEMPERANCE MEETING.

Thinks the Millennium Will Be Ushered in When Fair Ones Can Ride to the Polls and Mark a Ballot—Other Speeches Made at the Beach Convention.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 10.—The county institute of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, held here today, was well attended and the proceedings proved of interest to the white ribbon workers. Mrs. Julia Phelps, county president, spoke entertainingly of the legislative work of the present Legislature along temperance lines. She said the equal suffrage bill had her approval, and expressed her belief that as soon as the women are given the elective franchise in California the politics of the State will be purified and the result will be beneficial to all. She endorsed the Iowa injunction law, which provides that upon making a proper showing to the court any citizen may compel the closing of houses of ill fame. Mrs. G. T. Stickney spoke of the temperance work being accomplished in the Sunday-schools, Mrs. Laura Carter talked of the flower mission, and S. H. Taft referred to the work being done among the soldiers and sailors. The noon hour was devoted to the discussion of a luncheon, which was served by the members of the local organization.

Albert Wilson, principal of the Manual Arts High School of Los Angeles, addressed the High School students at the Lincoln building this morning, congratulating the class of thirty-two upon promotion and complimenting the district upon its decision to found a Polytechnic High School. He said the proposed school would be full of meaning for the future development and progress of Santa Monica.

NEWS BRIEFS.

While roller skating on a concrete sidewalk, little Marian Fabrique had the misfortune to fall and break her ankle.

A new regulation at the free public library gives any child who can legibly write its name the privilege of a card which entitles it to take books from the library.

The Sunday afternoon baseball game to be played on the Utah avenue diamond will probably be the most exciting one of the season, being between the Santa Monica and Occidental teams. Once before when these teams met the game lasted through thirteen innings and was won by the Occidentals, the score being 2 to 1. Connelly will catch for Santa Monica.

More than one-third of the volumes in the Carnegie library were in motion during the month of January, when the total circulation amounted to 5524 volumes. There are 13,852 books in the library. As usual, the works of fiction represented more than one-half of the aggregate of the circulation. An average of one religious work was taken each day, while of novels the daily average was 160.

Everybody happy at Coronado.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS' VISIT.

Representatives of Several Transportation Lines Pay a Visit to Redondo Beach and Make Inspection.

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 10.—J. McMillan, general manager of the Pacific Electric, and a party of railway officials, made an inspection trip here today. The wharves, the water front, amusement buildings and other holdings of the company were inspected and at noon the party had luncheon at Hepburn & Terry's.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

General orders, No. 15, announce that the anniversary of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln falling on Sunday, February 12, Saturday, February 11 will be observed as a general holiday at Pacific Branch. All unnecessary labor will be suspended for the day.

VISITOR HONORED.

Gen. I. D. Hunt, of Columbus, O., National Commander of the Union Veteran Legion, was tendered a reception in Memorial hall this afternoon, by Encampment No. 138 of that order and Ladies' Auxiliary No. 16, of Los Angeles. A large audience greeted the Commander as he arose to address them. After expressing his pleasure for the welcome accorded him, the General told about the growth of the order, its objects and achievements.

A programme of some length was cluding among other features, "Invocation," by Rev. B. Hungerford; a brief address by the Colonel of the encampment, J. W. Edwards; song, "America," by the audience; instrumental music by Miss Blanche Davis; remarks by the national senior vice-president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Hunt; song, Ida Paulson; recitation, Miss Florence Hains; remarks, by Capt. Gibbons; address by the president of the auxiliary, No. 16, Mrs. Truitt; "Lincoln as King," by Master Gordon Collins, and various other songs and recitations, which were followed by an informal reception on the stage. The General expressed himself as highly pleased with the visit.

MASONS IN A GET-TOGETHER.

South Pasadena Trowelites Without Equivocation or Mental Reservation Extend Glad Hand to Visitors.

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 10.—In a get-together social held last evening in the Masonic Hall, all unaffiliates of the city were royally entertained by local Masons in a delightful manner, about 160 being present. H. C. Packer presided and after luncheon had been served, called upon several of the well-known Masons of the city for short addresses and then for volunteers among the visiting Masons, many incidents of Masonic life in distant parts of the country were related by the visitors of which there are many in the city at the present time. It is the intention that more of such entertainments shall be held for the benefit of the visiting Masons.

AGED WOMAN DIES.

At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Clara Rathbun, No. 1015 Fair Oaks avenue, occurred the death of Mrs. A. A. Kellar, aged 73 years, early this morning. Mrs. Kellar, who had been ill of heart trouble for the past four months, was a native of Woodsboro, Md. The funeral services will be held from the chapel of Turner, Stevens & Berry, No. 1417 Mission street, Saturday afternon at 2 o'clock, Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating, and the body will be shipped to Newark, O., for interment.

STAR'S VALENTINE PARTY.

The regular meeting of the South Pasadena chapter of the Order of Eastern Star was held in their hall on Meridian and Mission streets last evening. The affair was in the nature of a Valentine party, decorations of poinsettias and festoons of red hearts being utilized. After the business session, during which Miss Lucy Denning Tower was initiated into the chapter, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

ALL-DAY MEETING.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church held their all-day meeting yesterday in the church parlors, spending the day in sewing, with a business meeting in the afternoon. Luncheon was served at noon, and the hostesses were Mrs. T. L. Gifford, chairman, and Mrs. G. W. Bell, Mrs. John Finney, Mrs. Will Jacobs, Mrs. William P. Freeman and Miss Florence Gifford.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Stringfellow of Sierra Vista are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a little daughter at their home yesterday morning.

The regular meeting of the Women's Improvements Association was held yesterday afternoon in their hall on Meridian and Mission streets, about 100 ladies were present. The programme which was in charge of Mrs. Frank Cattern consisted of dialect readings and music. Poinsettias were used to enliven the hall, and following the programme tea and cakes were served. The first on the programme was Prof. C. A. Whiting who gave a talk on "Health." Mrs. J. W. Mitchell of Los Angeles followed with a negro dialect story, and sang "The Little Alabama Coon," illustrated with a darky doll. Miss Marcia Coolidge of Pasadena, read an Irish dialect story and a young lady from Cumnock School of Expression, Los Angeles, read Italian and Japanese dialect stories. Instrumental solos from Mrs. George Glover and Irish dialect songs were also enjoyed.

Sentiment in favor of the movement now on foot for the establishment of a Y.M.C.A. building in this city was expressed last evening at the semi-monthly meeting of the Lincoln Park League, held in the Lincoln Park schoolhouse. The need of such a building was pointed out, and the members pledged themselves to help in every way possible. It is their intention to assist in the matter of obtaining subscriptions to the fund for the construction of the proposed new building.

STRICT RULES REGULATING SLOT MACHINES IN FORCE.

Also the Matter of Minors and Veterans Entering Barrooms Will Be Vigorously Looked After. Christian Scientists Prepare Plans for an Assembly Hall.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 10.—Checks issued by slot machine manipulators in payment of winnings have lost their "come back" power. Hereafter, by the enforcement of an old ordinance that had been for a long time overlooked, it will be unlawful for dealers to permit those who would buck the tiger to play back. The tendency of this will be to check this form of gambling, as the checks will be accepted only in payment for merchandise.

Simultaneously the saloons have posted notices warning minors that they will not be permitted to enter the saloon doors. Minors who do so are threatened with arrest. Another order along the moral reform line announces that Civil War veterans in uniform will not be served at the bar. It is expected these two orders will result in less dissipation on the part of both the youth and the aged.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Alfred H. Sutton, who had been visiting here for a few weeks, died last night at his temporary home on Ashland avenue. Deceased, who was 20 years of age, had come to the beach for the benefit of his health. His body is to be sent to Idaho for burial.

Plans are being prepared for an assembly building for the use of the Christian Science denomination. The society has bought for a stated consideration of $3500 a lot at Brooks and Second street and expects during the summer to complete the building as planned.

San Bernardino.

POLICE JUDGE IS FOUND DEAD.

EVIDENTLY STRICKEN WHILE AT THE BREAKFAST TABLE.

Dead Man Was One of the Pioneers of the Section Having Settled There Forty-Five Years Ago. Met Financial Reverses in Newspaper Venture.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 10.—Police Judge William E. Lightfoot was found dead in the dining-room of his home at 554 Victoria street, this morning shortly after 8 o'clock, by Paul Pixley, a neighbor. The body was still warm when Chief of Police Shay and Policeman Edward Poppett arrived at the house at 8:25. Lightfoot had been police judge for four years. He had evidently been reading his morning paper when death came. The paper lay on the floor near the dining table, close by was his chair, and a morning paper lay over his place, while his glasses lay on the paper. In the kitchen his coffee was boiling.

The deceased was a pioneer of this county, coming here in 1866, from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he was born on June 2, 1843. He first settled in Watertown, Cal., six years later moving to this county. For many years he conducted a stage station on the desert, and also dealt extensively in cattle, making a large fortune, which he swept away by later business ventures in this city, his first misfortune coming when he bought the "Courier," a weekly paper, which proved a white elephant, and the final stroke came to him, three years ago, he lost his home through a mortgage. He was a Mason and Woodman of the World. He is survived by one son, John E. Lightfoot, employed by the Salt Lake at Las Vegas, and a brother in Alaska. The inquest will be held Saturday morning.

WOMAN LEADS REVOLT.

The urgent request for assistance in securing teachers brings to light a general strike in the schools of Pioche. Mrs. Katherine M. Burke, formerly of Los Angeles, led the revolt, making the demands of her fellow instructors for increased pay before the Lincoln School Board. Arrayed with her were all the teachers of the town, which means four in number, for Pioche is still a struggling little mining camp, notwithstanding that it is the oldest gold camp in Nevada, and at one time was a community of large population. Mrs. Burke received $150 monthly, which she demanded $158; while the other teachers were paid $90 monthly, and Mrs. Burke demanded $110 each for them. She declared to the board that the teachers had been promised increased salaries, and their warrants for January work showed no increase. The members of the board argued and finally got down on their knees, but the strikers the low ebb at which the school funds had fallen, and declined that to pay the increase would leave the school fund in a state of bankruptcy.

The spokesman was unyielding, and on the expiration of the time limit, a matter of days, given the school board in which to accede to the demand, the teachers all struck, and the schools of Pioche are closed. It is stated Mrs. Burke and Miss Kate Pritchett, another of the teachers, have gone to Nome, Alaska, having accepted positions there. Mrs. George Sawyer, another of the teachers, has consented to remain for the balance of the school year, thereby saving the town to that extent.

SHIPPED DUCKS.

The trial of Gus Knight, charged with violating the game laws in having shipped several sacks of wild ducks to Los Angeles, was again continued this morning when the case was called before Justice McIver of Redlands. The complaint was brought about by Deputy F. B. Daley, for the accused, claiming that McIver was not a duly elected justice, he having not qualified within the ten days limit after the general elections. This was news to Knight, who, after continuing the case, promptly took a car to the county seat to investigate. Most of the townspeople throughout the county are under the same fix.

RIVERSIDE EXHIBIT.

Frank Kendall, chairman of the fruit committee of the National Orange Show, which is to be held here next month, announced the prizes and awards, which, being general manager, visited Riverside today, to discuss the matter with the fruit growers of that city. One of the largest exhibits will be Arlington Heights Exhibit. The Riverside Chamber of Commerce will also have a large exhibit. The present prospects the Riverside exhibit will be one of the largest if not the largest at the show.

MOVED TO GERMANY.

Fred Reber, a local plumber, has received a letter from Germany claiming to have been smuggled out of a Russian prison, the writer, who is a second uncle, asking aid and promising to give him a share of an estate valued at $100,000. Some months ago the government sent broadcast warnings of the danger being played in which a Russian prison was a setting. It is said the sharpers, realizing that the stand taken by the government has lessened their chances of securing victims, have changed their quarters to Germany.

REPREHENSIBLE.

Ed Regan, a desert miner, charged with a statutory offense, was acquitted by a jury in the Superior Court this morning. The case was tried before Judge Waldo Bordwell of Los Angeles. In charging the prisoner the court declared that he was accused a fatherly lecture, suggesting that instead of returning to go to farming and settle down. The court also criticized the officers at Daggett for the manner in which they tried to work up a case against the accused, actually leading him into Regan's clutches in order that they might arrest Regan. It was the outcome of the case that led the jury to bring in the acquittal.

STRUCTURAL STEEL ARRIVES.

The Committee of Building Material has arrived in Daly for the New Sugar Factory at Huntington Beach.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 10.—Structural steel for the Holly Sugar factory is arriving at the factory site and the structural steel workers are busily unloading and marking it. The erection of the big plant are to begin at once, and the large carloads of the steel beams which support the roof of the big buildings are now on hand. Besides the structural steel, carloads of brick and cement as well as great quantities of crushed rock, cement and other supplies making the factory location a scene of much activity. The railroad sidings for the factory are all being ballasted in gravel. The water well at a depth of 1200 feet has developed not only a fine rush of water but also an excellent flow of natural gas which is to be piped and used for lighting the factory grounds.

NO LIQUOR LICENSES.

The City Trustees have now definitely decided to grant no liquor license either wholesale or retail in this city. In spite of big pressure brought to bear by the saloon element, a small minority of the citizens, all probability of having a liquor license granted has now been practically abandoned. The fact has created much favorable sentiment towards the City Trustees and factional differences here are now almost eliminated.

A dinner and reception was tendered to the City Trustees and other city officials to meet President W. M. Wiley of the Holly Sugar Company at the Huntington Inn, this evening by Louis Paul Hart of the Huntington Beach News, and was the occasion for the expression of much good feeling on the part of the city administration towards the new industrial enterprise. President Wiley, Mayor Manning, City Attorney Blodget, Louis Paul Hart and others made short talks emphasizing the need of harmony in civic affairs and outlining plans for the rapid growth of the city.

WILL DISCUSS PENDING BILL.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO DISCUSS MERITS OF MEASURE.

Senator Wright Strongly Opposes Law Providing for the Recall of Judges and This Measure Is Offered as a Compromise—Normal School Makes Fine Showing.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—For the purpose of discussing Senator Wright's bill before the Legislature to provide for the appointment of judges of the Superior and all other courts by a commission, a meeting of the San Diego County Bar Association is called for tomorrow morning.

According to Senator Wright's letter to officers of the Bar Association, he needs all the assistance possible to secure recognition of his measure. Whether or not all attorneys of the local association are in favor of the commission plan, remains to be seen. Some attorneys say likely there will be a warm debate over the question of indorsing the Wright bill. According to Senator Wright's belief, the commission form of selecting the judiciary would block the possibility of a recall. Senator Wright strongly opposes the proposed law providing for a recall of judges. In order to counteract that measure, he has introduced the commission instead. The commission is to sit for life and is supposed to be composed of able men non-partisan in their views so far as the judiciary is concerned. Senator Wright states that it is the only safe method by which the judiciary can be taken out of politics.

NORMAL MAKES SHOWING.

Statistics prepared by President E. L. Hardy of the San Diego State Normal School show a gain of 40 per cent. in enrollment. The new semester begins with an enrollment of thirty-five new students. The roster of the institution is divided as follows: Normal department, 195; preparatory department, 101; training school, 268; total, 564. Attendance at the summer session, 124.

NURSERY FOR PARK.

Cuttings for a nursery to be started in Balboa Park for use in beautifying the exposition grounds are being set out. Landscape Architect Olmstead states that he desires a million plants and trees. He plans to use huge banks of each flowering plant for color effects. He states that he has discovered that nearly every vine and plant obtainable in the world can be grown here. The architect expects to make particular use of wigandia, heliotrope, nasturtiums, geranium, clematis, trumpet vine, honeysuckle, climbing fig, bougainvillea, begonia and mesembryanthemum.

SENATOR DUPONT COMING.

Word has been received at the local office of the DuPont family of Delaware that Senator Henry A. Dupont, recently re-elected to a second term as United States Senator, is about to start for San Diego. Dr. Fred Linden, manager of a local mineral springs company, which the DuPonts own, has gone East to meet him. It is said that Senator DuPont intends to make a number of investments in San Diego business interests in the near future.

JOHN BURROUGHS HERE.

John Burroughs, the eminent scientist and naturalist, is the guest of Dr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, who is spending the winter at La Jolla. Mr. Burroughs is accompanied by his wife. After a week's stay at La Jolla, Dr. Macdonald, and wife will go to Berkeley and San Francisco. He will deliver the Founders' Day address at Leland Stanford University, March 9. Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs will remain at La Jolla until the Macdonalds are ready to leave.

The United States revenue cutter Bear will leave soon on a cruise up coast as far as Santa Barbara. Capt. Ballinger states that no unusual significance is attached to the orders for the cruise.

Marriage license: August E. Taber, 51, and Helen Caniff, 44, both of Los Angeles.

TEHACHEPI.

TEHACHEPI, Feb. 10.—The first well on the land of the Tehachepi Fruit and Land Company has been completed and the pump installed. A test run developed from fifty to seventy inches of water, the flow increasing with each days pumping. The Los Angeles firm which did this work have work well under way on George C. Roeding's place east of town and upon the completion of Mr. Roeding's pumping plant will immediately commence work on well and pumping plant for J. A. Woy.

The Los Angeles Times and Bancroft's History are authority for the spelling "Tehachepi," "Uncle Sam," the railroads and the editor of the local "Tomahawk" use "Tehachapi." It is an Indian name that has been interpreted to mean "plenty of acorns and good water" and when the more than seven hundred acres of fruit trees that are now being planted get to full bearing, the name will mean red apples and Bartlett pears of course. In the meantime why not get together and all spell the name alike. It is hoped that a satisfactory compromise may be effected, but let it be something else than "Tehatchapie" that is used by some.

Santa Ana.

OFFICERS SAY "CROOK OR FOOL."

PUTS THROUGH AN OLD CHECK MARKED "PAID."

Offender, Mr. Holbrook, After Two Days in Anaheim Buys a Grocery Store and a House and Lot Without Displaying a Dollar—Date Set for Trial.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 10.—Officers believe that R. I. Holbrook, who was arrested at Anaheim yesterday, is either a crook or a fool. Whichever he is he accomplished a feat that one would think impossible. He picked up a dirty check that had been through the banks and marked "paid" on the face of it, and cashed it. As a consequence Holbrook was in Justice Cox's court today on a charge of getting money under false pretenses.

The check, for $20.75, was given on September 22, 1910, by J. G. Schirm of Santa Ana to Charles Long. Long cashed it at the First National Bank of San Jacinto. The check passed through a Los Angeles bank and was returned to Schirm by the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Santa Ana. Schirm threw away his old paid checks after getting his balance at the bank, and the bit of paper got into Holbrook's hands. Holbrook says a man named Christ gave it to him.

Holbrook came here from Los Angeles. He presented the dirty piece of paper to the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank and asked that it be cashed. That act inclines the officers to the opinion that Holbrook may be a fool. Denied payment there Holbrook offered it to Phillip Patterson, proprietor of the Chamness lodging-house, where he roomed. Holbrook owed Patterson 75 cents, and got $20 in change.

Patterson swore to a complaint, and Holbrook was arrested at Anaheim yesterday by Constable Jackson. Holbrook, about 24 years old, well dressed, had been in Anaheim but a few days, but he had managed to buy a grocery store and a house and lot without showing a dollar. He gave a $500 draft on a Los Angeles bank. Officers think that had he had another day in Anaheim Holbrook would have attempted to pass some worthless checks of some kind. He is to be tried on February 20.

TRIAL DATE SET.

Judge West today set the case of Frank Monaghan against the Case, Hinze Company and the Southern California Sugar Company for trial on March 13. This suit was brought by Monaghan as a stockholder of the sugar company for the purpose of making the builder, the Case, Hinze Company, replace part of the machinery or do whatever is necessary to bring the sugar plant to a capacity of 600 tons per day, the contract capacity, which capacity Monaghan alleges the plant cannot reach and maintain.

VICTIMS IMPROVE.

Charles R. Morrison and his wife and sister-in-law, Miss Mabel Wallace, who were injured yesterday in the wrecking of their automobile by a Santa Fe train at Irvine station, are all reported in better condition today. Morrison's physician says that the injured man is improving, though he is still unconscious from concussion of the brain. Mrs. Morrison and Miss Wallace, who are suffering from cuts, bruises and shock, are in no danger of death.

NEW TREASURER HONORED.

San Bernardino People Pay Respects to Banker Recently Appointed to High Office.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] State Treasurer E. D. Roberts was tendered a rousing reception in Masonic Hall tonight by the people of the entire valley, regardless of party affiliations. The reception was hurriedly planned when the official announcement of Roberts's appointment as State Treasurer was made by the Governor, and tonight delegations of citizens assembled from Highland, Redlands, Colton, Rialto and other points, besides a big representation of local people, the hall being packed until even standing room was at a premium.

Mayor S. W. McNabb presided and addresses were made by G. W. Parsons of Highland, Lyman M. King of Redlands, A. G. Kendall, R. E. Swing, F. B. Daley and others from this city, Wilson Hays from Colton and Kenneth Macrae of Rialto, the latter awakening tremendous applause when he declared Roberts was a gubernatorial probability four years hence.

Roberts responded with much feeling, expressing his appreciation for the sentiments which his neighbors had uttered, and pledged his loyalty to the valley, to the county, and to the State at large, saying he wished to make such a record as would reflect credit upon his fellow citizens of the county.

SETTLERS LOSE.

Judge Densmore has rendered a decision in the case of Copeland et al., vs. Lake Hemet Land & Water Company, Fairview Land & Water Company et. al. The action was brought by twenty-nine settlers about two years ago to compel the water companies to furnish them water at a stipulated price. The court found against plaintiffs in nearly all of their contentions, declaring the plaintiffs were not entitled to relief except such as had been conceded by defendants.

No other resort equals Coronado.

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Beautiful Homestead in the San Pasqual Valley Brings a Fair Price to Former Owner.

ESCONDIDO, Feb. 10.—A deal was closed today for the sale of the Oaks place at the west end of the San Pasqual Valley, four miles east of Escondido, by Seth Hartley to A. T. Burch for a consideration of about $30,000. In the transaction Hartley is said to have reserved water rights including a spring capable of yielding 800 inches of water, which he expects to convey to other lands of the neighborhood.

Fred H. Roberts, who sold the ranch to Hartley a few weeks ago, paid $13,000 a short time since. In the deal he received the two-story brick building at the corner of Lime street and Grand avenue, and known as Steiner block, in part payment. Burch expects to make his property the finest dairy ranch of this section. He will put 100 acres into alfalfa this season.

J. W. Park, instructor of history in the high school, has resigned and will give up teaching for other lines of work. His resignation will take effect as soon as his successor is appointed, and not later than March 1.

Go to Coronado and be happy.

FREAK CHICKEN IS VISITED.

Ontario Breeder Has a Peculiar Fowl Which He Has Not Been Able to Catalogue.

ONTARIO, Feb. 10.—N. Krauchi of No. 311 East D street has what he believes to be a freak chicken in his collection of fowls. The bird is a black Minorca and the owner cannot decide whether he has a male or female bird. The fowl has a large rooster's comb and a handsome hen's tail. The bird crows to perfection, and is constantly picking fights with roosters in the yard. No hen fruit has as yet been deposited in the nests around the yard, so far as the owner knows, by his freak chicken. In the neighborhood the fowl has attracted much attention. Daily there are many visitors in the yard and the fowl is proudly shown by its owner.

PARK IMPROVEMENT.

Since the abatement of the heavy rains, work on the City Hall park site has recommenced, with a view toward pushing the work of laying out the grounds to quick completion. The ground has been cleared ready for plants and trees for over a week. A high trellis work has been built along the north side of the grounds, to shut out the view of the business buildings in that section. Vines will be trained up over the trellis work.

PIONEER DIES.

John S. Lee, an old pioneer of this city, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 204 West D street. He was nearly 84 years of age. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the family residence, Rev. F. D. Mather of Pasadena and Rev. George C. King of the First Methodist Church of this city officiating. The deceased leaves a widow, a daughter, Mrs. G. E. McCarthy, and two sons, D. B. Lee and L. R. Lee, all of whom are old residents of Ontario.

WILL IMPROVE CITY STREETS.

San Jacinto Trustees Decide to Plant Trees and Otherwise Beautify Their Town.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 10.—At the regular meeting of the City Council this week bills to the amount of $244.97 were audited and ordered paid. Licenses amounting to $91 were reported collected by the Marshal. Authority was given county officials to collect the city taxes. After some discussion a motion prevailed to do more street improvement work at once, in the way of additional trees and shrubs for the park and streets; also more cement sidewalks and more street grading. Sidewalks will be extended along Central avenue to the intersection of First street, and First street will be graded its entire length.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

This week Dr. and Mrs. J. M. France bought a one-acre building lot on Central avenue from William Blair for the consideration of $400. Dr. France recently sold his home on Second street and thought of moving to a lower altitudes but he has decided to remain in San Jacinto and this week will let the contract for a modern bungalow to be built on his Central-avenue lot. The building will be rushed to completion at an early date.

WOMAN LECTURES.

Mrs. Norine Law, lecturer and singer, has been in San Jacinto for several days conducting a series of meetings under the auspices of the local W.C.T.U. Afternoon and evening meetings were held at the different churches and addresses were made before the schools. Her subjects have been "Purity and Temperance," "A Single Moral Standard," "Personal Liberty and the Liquor Traffic," and "The White Slave Trade." The meetings have been largely attended, and closed Friday night with a big audience at the Congregational Church.

NEWS BREVITIES.

The Ramona Power and Irrigation Company now has about twenty-five men in its employ in the San Jacinto Mountains, surveying, taking water measurements and securing data for use of the company. The surveys now being made are final and it is believed that as soon as the weather moderates a big force will be put to work upon the company's huge enterprise.

The news of the decision favoring W. F. Whittier in the suit brought by some thirty land owners of Valle Vista against Whittier's water companies was received from Riverside today and has caused a great deal of excitement and speculation. Several hundred acres of the best land in the valley are affected by the decision, including a number of the most valuable deciduous and citrus orchards that have been in bearing for years.

Coronado has everything desired.

REALTY MARKET IS ACTIVE.

Corona Gives in Demand as Indicated by the Numerous Sales and Exchanges Made Recently.

CORONA, Feb. 10.—John Evans has exchanged a twenty-acre navel orange grove with six-room house on Lincoln street, valued at $25,000 and formerly known as the Alderman property, for a $26,000 stock of merchandise at Pomona, owned by Harris Brothers. The deal was made by R. B. McKinney. Through the same agency Mrs. Emily Warner has exchanged a $15,000 rooming-house in Los Angeles for a eleven-acre orange grove with six-room house on Kellogg avenue.

Rev. E. J. Harlow has sold a 50x150-foot lot on Howard street, improved with a five-room house, to A. F. Reynolds. Consideration, $2350.

The National Orange Company is erecting a lemon curing house on its holdings in Orange Heights, the storage capacity to be twenty cars, but will be increased as the output from the ranch requires. This same company is installing one mile of underground vitrified flume.

W. S. Ritchie has shipped a consignment of olives and lima beans to Cape Town, South Africa.

BISHOP IS ILL.

Bishop J. H. Johnson, who was to confirm a class at the Episcopal Church Sunday evening has wired he is very ill, and cannot come.

Past Grand Master and Grand Representative W. W. Phelps, A. A. Piddington, member of the Committee on Petitions with Karl S. Karlson, P. G. M., formed a committee from the Riverside I.O.O.F., that accompanied "The Traveler" to Starlight Rebecca Lodge last evening. Circle Lodge I.O.O.F. was invited and a banquet was served.

NEWS BRIEFS.

John Riley was sent up to Riverside to serve twenty days for petite larceny.

The Misses Pawley were hostesses this evening at a Japanese party. Cards, furnished entertainment for thirty guests.

Dr. Frank Dowling of Fullerton will occupy the Christian pulpit Sunday.

John L. Kennedy has gone to Canada to take a seven-year course in De La Salle Institute, to fit himself for the Brotherhood.

FIGHTS BUTTERINE TAX.

Representative of Local Jobbers in the Produce Line Goes to Sacramento to Protest Proposed Act.

Carl E. McStay of the McStay Supply Company, representing the jobbers of Los Angeles in the produce line, left yesterday for Sacramento to protest the proposed tax on butterine.

The dairy interests of the State have framed a bill which will call for a State tax of $250 a year on the wholesaler of oleomargerine, or butterine, as the substitute for butter may be called, $50 a year on each retailer and $10 on each consumer of the product in quantity.

There is at present a Federal tax of $200 on the wholesaler of the product and $6 on the retailer. "The proposed tax is absolutely class legislation," declared Mr. McStay in speaking of the matter. "It is unjust insofar as oleomargerine has been declared by United States Food Commissioner Dr. Wiley a pure food product, consisting of cream, leaf suet of beef and cottonseed oil, each one as wholesome and pure as butter can be at any time."

"If the tax becomes effective it means that butterine will not be saleable in this State. People want the substitute and since it is a pure food product there is no reason why they should not have it. With the State tax the price will be raised above and beyond that of any butter obtainable and it will mean much higher prices on butter, which is the final aim of the creamery men who have fathered the present bill."

DEATH TAKES J. D. HOSKINS.

Organizer of First Militia in Minnesota at Time of the Civil War Passes Away at Home.

James Darwin Hoskins, 81 years old, a retired business man who had lived in Los Angeles fifteen years, died yesterday morning of pneumonia at his residence, No. 131 North Griffin avenue. The funeral will be at the home, 2:30 o'clock today and the burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mr. Hoskins organized the first militia in Minnesota at the time of the Civil War, but was disqualified as a soldier on account of defective eyesight. Before coming to Los Angeles he lived in Sioux City, where he was engaged in the grain business.

Mr. Hoskins leaves a brother, A. C. Hoskins of Sioux City, and these relatives who live in this city: Mrs. Cedric Johnson, a niece; Miss Mildred Cushing Hoskins, a cousin; S. A. Hoskins, a nephew, and O. H. Wakefield, a grand-nephew, who is connected with The Times. Hoskins's wife died in 1900.

BLOOD DISEASES
CONTAGIOUS TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly permeates the system than any other disease. Its infectious virus contaminates every corpuscle and tissue of the circulation, and for this reason its symptoms are of a varied nature. When it enters the blood it is but a short time until the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the skin becomes spotted, rashes and eruptions appear on the body, sores and ulcers break out, the hair falls, and frequently nails on hands and feet thicken and come off. Mineral medicines which simply shut the poison up in the system should be avoided, for when such treatment is left off the old disease will break out again, often worse than before. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison permanently, and it does so because it thoroughly purifies the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out the last trace of the destructive germs, adds richness and vigor to the circulation and allows it to nourish the diseased portions of the body back to health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of mineral, and its vegetable ingredients always hasten the cure by toning up the stomach and digestive members. Gold Medal Contest.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold a grand gold medal oratorical contest, in the University Methodist Church, on next Thursday evening. The contestants will come from different local unions, and an interesting programme is assured.

Lincoln Anniversary.

The members of Bartlett-Logan Post, G.A.R., and the Woman's Relief Corps will hold an open meeting this evening, at their hall, No. 517 South Broadway, in the honor of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. All Grand Army men, veterans of the Civil War and all patriotic societies are invited to be present.

Simple Funeral of Aged Woman.

The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Spring, deceased, was held at 2 o'clock yesterday, at the parlors of Orr and Booth, conducted by Rev. E. S. Hodgin of the Unitarian church. The whole service was very simple and in keeping with the life of the aged woman, and the body was cremated, according to her wish. Mrs. Spring died on Wednesday, at the age of 99 years and 8 months.

Boys' Brigade Conference.

The annual conference of the Boys' Brigade workers will be held in this city on Saturday and Sunday, February 18 and 19, a feature of which will be a mass meeting in the First Congregational Church, on Sunday evening. Addresses will be delivered by Judge Wilbur of the Juvenile Court; Rev. F. M. Larkin, D. D., district superintendent of the Methodist Church, and by John F. Storrs of Pomona.

Happy Kindgartners.

An interesting entertainment was given at the Kindergarten of the First-street school, on Boyle Heights, Thursday morning. It was a "lettuce party," so called because the children of the school had grown lettuce from which sandwiches were made for their guests. Their mothers came and brought other little children, and all joined in games. A birthday cake was presented in honor of three of the pupils, who celebrated their sixth anniversary on that day.

Produce Man Among Legislators.

Believing that a number of measures which are advocated by rural legislators at Sacramento would work considerable harm on the produce dealers of Los Angeles, as well as on those of other California cities, the directors of the Produce Exchange met at a special meeting yesterday morning and appointed Chester W. Thompson as a special representative to go to Sacramento to confer with the members of the law-making body. After the meeting, a number of the dealers adjourned to the Hollenbeck hotel, where at an informal banquet various questions regarding weights and measures were discussed. Thompson will leave tonight and remain North about two weeks.

MOVES FOR SOCIABILITY.

Committee of the Ventura Chamber of Commerce Proposes to Introduce Club Feature.

VENTURA, Feb. 10.—The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce took steps at its meeting last night to form a citizen's commercial club, to be a center and support of the Chamber of Commerce itself. A committee consisting of Merton Barnes, Fred Mercer, E. Rains, S. R. Canfield, Edgar Carne and Robert Dunn, was appointed to interview merchants and set the ball rolling. The proposition is to have a clubroom at which to entertain visitors and where the Chamber of Commerce may place its exhibit and hold meetings. Billiard tables and card tables, reading and writing rooms and bathrooms are to be a feature together with a gymnasium later.

The census returns for this city have arrived and are disappointing to many people because of the small showing. The census gives this city 2945, Oxnard 2555, and Santa Paula 2216. The claims of both Ventura and Oxnard were greater than the figures show. Sanguine Venturans expected nothing short of 4000 population.

Articles of incorporation for the Verana Naranja Company have been filed. The objects of the corporation are agricultural with Fillmore as the principal place of business. The directors are Jacob Michel, Clarence E. Michel, Irwin B. Michel and Don G. Bowker. The capital stock is $50,000, which is divided into 5000 shares.

BURGLAR SIMPLY EVAPORATED.

Locked in a Bath Room and Police Notified But They Found Not a Trace of a Man.

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 10.—A telephone message from the residence of D. S. Armstrong on Pacific avenue, to police headquarters, last evening stated that a burglar had entered the house and was locked in the bathroom. Officers Keppel and Severance hastily went to the Armstrong residence, formerly the Wilshire home, one of the finest houses on the Bluff, and there found the women of the household anxiously waiting on the lawn, fearful to enter the house and more fearful that the burglar might escape. The door of the bathroom where the supposed burglar had barricaded himself, was broken in by Policeman Keppel, only to find the room empty and the windows locked from the inside. The lock had apparently caught as some member of the householdd pulled the door, and when the door was discovered locked later in the evening, the burglar theory was at once advanced. The absence of the men of the family made the affair look the more serious to the occupants of the house.

TO REPEAT PERFORMANCE.

Owing to the great demand for seats for the home talent performance of the "Sultan of Zanibar," given last evening, it is probable that the show will be repeated next Wednesday evening. The sum of $75 was cleared from the show last night which will be used for charitable work by the Parent Teachers' Association.

Caught Cold!
How often it happens that serious illness, and sometimes death, is directly traceable to neglect of a "common" cold. After it is too late, what wouldn't we give to have checked the cold at the start, when it would quickly yield to simple home treatment.
A most effective remedy, that will usually break up a cold over night and quickly relieve the most irritating cough, is made by mixing 2 ounces of glycerine, a half ounce of virgin oil of pine and 8 ounces of pure whisky. Shake well, and take a teaspoonful four times a day. The ingredients for this mixture can be bought in any good drug store, and easily mixed together in a large bottle. This formula was used and recommended for many years by the late Dr. W. A. Leach, who founded the Leach Chemical Co., of Cincinnati, O., in whose laboratories the virgin oil of pine is compounded.

HUMAN FLUTE'S SECRET FOUND.

After Two Thousand Years it Is Played Here.

Boy Makes Odd Discovery of Peculiar Interest.

Academy of Sciences Is to Hear Him Tonight.

A gulf of 2000 years was bridged yesterday in the Southwest Museum, when a schoolboy produced a sound from an aboriginal flute made from the femur bone of a woman.

Clifford Elliott Martindale of the Grand-avenue school, a youth who plays no instrument and is only appreciative of music in a small way, accomplished something which the most prominent musicians who have come to Los Angeles in the last year have failed to do.

The prehistoric flute, which for several years has lain in the museum, and has been looked upon as a wonderful relic, owing to it having six holes for the fingers instead of the regulation three holes which practically all prehistoric flutes have, was found on Santa Catalina Island by the side of the skeleton of a gigantic prehistoric man, whose skull is so much larger than the skulls of the natives of the islands that it has been isolated and been the subject of a great deal of attention.

Hector Alliot, curator of the museum, was unable to fathom the origin and use of the flute, and shortly after its discovery he decided to have well-known musicians endeavor to make it speak in melody.

The local flute and clarinet players each in turn endeavored to produce a sound upon the peculiar instrument without result. They labored and grew blue in the face, but no sound came forth.

THEY TRY IN VAIN.

Alliot thought perhaps more experienced players, who understood the flute and clarinet more thoroughly, could fathom the mystery of the soundless flute. When prominent musicians came to the various theaters in Los Angeles, Alliot induced them to visit the museum and try and fathom the flute's secret. They went and were conquered. They pronounced the piece of bone a perfect flute, but went away without making it speak.

One prominent clarinet player from Chicago who understood every secret of his instrument, went to Alliot and asked to see the old flute. He said that he could make it break its silence of 2000 years. He was perfectly familiar with every method of tonguing and mouthing necessary for the expert flute or clarinet player, but when he applied these various systems

"Waterwagon Honeymoon."

THAW III IN PASADENA; MARRIED, BUT NOT LOST.

WILLIAM THAW III, scion of the wealthy Thaw family of Pittsburgh, who was reported as lost by his friends in Pittsburgh, has been found. He is living with his bride of two months in a modest California bungalow at No. 260 Palmetto drive, Pasadena. The house is not pretentious for a young millionaire and member of a family which has attracted world-wide attention for its lavishness in spending money, but young Thaw thinks it is good enough, for the present at least.

When he heard the news from Pittsburgh yesterday morning that he was supposed to be lost, and that he was probably wandering about among the West Indies gathering bananas and Bermuda onions, his heart went to his shoes and, with a deep sigh, he remarked: "What a lonesome job it is trying to be good." He thinks the report was perpetrated by friends as sort of a honeymoon joke, because it has been over a month since the telegraph wires have not been busy with Thaw tales. For a time the young man was angry. He rushed to the telegraph office and sent messages to relatives and friends explaining that he is not lost, though married, and that if busybodies would only mind their business and quit "joshing," life would not be such a burden. Then he cooled down and decided that it was a good joke on him.

the Pittsburgh "boys." A year ago he spent the winter in Pasadena, living quietly. For a time he stopped at the Hotel Raymond and later moved to Hotel La Solona on South Grand avenue, where he stayed until the flowers began to blossom in Pittsburgh. Then he went East and put in the summer courting Miss Gladys Virginia Bradley. The young lady's mother, it is understood, was not altogether pleased with her prospective son-in-law's method of sowing wild oats. She remonstrated with him severely and he promised "to be good," but she was not exactly satisfied with a mere promise and pinned him down to a severer task, telling him that if he would absolutely discontinue using intoxicating liquors, beer, malt, or any form of tonic smelling like alcohol, for a period of six months, that he could have the beautiful Miss Gladys as his very own. He promised and his friends say he kept the promise. Accordingly, along during the first part of last December, they were married, and then began the "water-wagon honeymoon." They traveled through the South and finally landed in Pasadena. For several days they stopped at the Maryland, but the curious crowd watched them all the time, and finally, in desperation, they rented the house on Palmetto drive.

DISARRANGED ITINERARY.

So May it Be.

CAPLAN CAUGHT IN OKLAHOMA.

Dynamiter Beyond Doubt Says District Attorney.

Extradition Papers Sent, and Officer Starts East.

Traced for Weeks Through Three States.

On the strength of advices received yesterday from Idabel, Okla., Dist.-Atty. Fredericks announced last night that David Caplan, one of the trio of dynamiters who destroyed the Times Building on the morning of October 1 and slew a score of its employees, is under arrest and had been positively identified. Extradition papers have already been sent to Sacramento for the Governor's signature. Chief Detective S. L. Browne of the District Attorney's office left last night to bring the prisoner back.

According to authoritative reports from the Middle West, operatives from the District Attorney's office have been trailing Caplan three weeks. During that time they have traced his movements over a territory embracing three States. He has been employed by an eastern concern as a canvasser under the name of Joseph Tischner.

Four weeks ago officers at Ash Fork, Ark., obtained the clew that finally led to the dynamiter's arrest. He was staying at a small hotel, accompanied by a woman. They wired the District Attorney's office for more information concerning him, but by the time it had arrived, Caplan had shifted his residence to another small town, twenty-five miles away.

Again the officers set out on the trail. Bit by bit they picked it up, but before it became warm again he had lead them a chase through parts of Arkansas and Idaho. Certain developments, together with his hazy explanation of his whereabouts about the date the Times Building was destroyed, caused them at this point to send to Capt. Fredericks for more information.

WATCHED EVERY MINUTE.

They did not lose track of Caplan this time, however, for an officer was assigned to watch him every minute of the twenty-four hours. When the necessary information arrived Caplan had shifted his base of operations to Idabel, a short distance across the boundary from Ash Fork, Ark. He had worked in a circle within three weeks.

At Idabel the officers, declining to take further chances with Caplan, arrested him. He was jailed and the District Attorney wired. A man who knew Caplan for nine consecutive years in Chicago and New York, and in whom Capt. Fredericks has implicit confidence, was then dispatched to the scene to identify the prisoner.

Yesterday he arrived, identified Caplan positively and the extradition papers for his return to California were immediately sent to Sacramento.

To prevent possible delay and to personally attend to the job of bringing Caplan back for trial, Chief Detective Browne left for Oklahoma last night via the Santa Fe. He expects to reach his destination Monday night or Tuesday.

LONG, DEVIOUS TRAIL.

According to information from many sources Caplan traveled over a vast territory since he helped Schmidt and Brice destroy the Times Building and murder many innocent men in it. During that time his trail has been followed through Oregon, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Arkansas, and finally Oklahoma. He has kept well under cover, preferring the unsettled districts to the cities.

According to the operatives who have followed him, Caplan has studiously avoided cities of consequence in his travels. At one time he was known as William Morris, and again as William Blanc. It was the latter name he was known under while operating in Colorado, a short while before going to Arkansas.

Caplan usually acted as a salesman. For a while he was acting as agent for an Eastern baking powder concern, and then he canvassed the rural districts of Colorado tacking up signs advertising a certain starch.

When Detective Browne is ready to bring his prisoner to Los Angeles, no effort will be spared to insure his safe passage. Guards in plenty will attend, and any possible violence on the part of Caplan's labor-union friends will be met in the proper manner.

TO LOOK AT SMITH.

While Detective Browne is en route to Idabel he will stop at Oklahoma City and look at Charles Smith, who was under arrest there under suspicion of being Schmidt, one of the other members of the dynamiting gang. Browne will also visit Lewiston, Idaho, where a man suspected of being the missing Schmidt is under arrest. It developed yesterday that Schmidt has one excellent mark of identification that has not been known to date. Three years ago his left leg was broken, and according to the physician who set the limb, the dynamiter has a nasty scar at that point of his anatomy. Heretofore, Schmidt's principal mark of identification has been a left glass eye. There are many men of the fugitive's type who have lost the left eye, but the additional mark, it is believed, will fully solve the identification problem.

IS THIS SCHMIDT?

ANOTHER SUSPECT TAKEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Last night the police arrested, on the charge of drunkenness, a man who has been under surveillance here for several days, and who is believed to be M. A. Schmidt, one of the MANY LETTERS IN PULL.

Flood of Literature in the Fight for a State University in Southern California Sent to Capital.

Literature in abundance on the fight for a State university for Southern California continues to be forwarded to the Governor and the members of the Legislature by the three local organizations at work on the proposition. It has been suggested that the North, Northeast and Northwest Improvement Association, the Teachers' University Association the Committee of 100 from the Federated Improvement Club organize a central body to work for the cause. At present each of these societies takes what action it likes and they are at a disadvantage in securing co-operation in all of their respective plans.

The University of Southern California seems to express the sentiment of a majority of the colleges in Southern California in its fight against the proposed State university. In an open letter which the University of Southern California has scattered broadcast in the State the president of the institution and its trustees argue that to establish and sustain a State university in Los Angeles would entail an enormous expense and would put a serious burden upon all taxpayers and upon those now supporting the denominational colleges already located here. The letter suggests a number of ways in which those friendly to the University of Southern California might rally to its support.

In answer to this view Will D. Gould, addressing the Teachers' Association yesterday, said:

"University men favor the local colleges and we had supposed that the local college men favored the university. Certainly there is need of both at the present time. University men have not only favored local colleges, but have given liberally and urged their friends in the liberal endowment of local colleges. If this liberal spirit is to continue we would suggest that local colleges withdraw their opposition to the proposed university, otherwise their endowment fund will in many cases be restricted to their respective denominations. The liberal spirit is larger and better. It is always the stimulant to patriotic public effort, and is particularly represented in Southern California, and in Greater Los Angeles."

divorce case now hanging fire in the Los Angeles courts? Attorneys here are looking for her, as for some days they have been looking for her in the Bay City, so far without any result.

The reason that knowledge as to the whereabouts of the alluring Maybell is so earnestly desired is that it look as though the impending divorce o Mrs. Dell Norton, of Long Beach, and her husband, George Norton, promi nent paper manufacturer of San Fran cisco, cannot be effected until Mis Ewing has been told of the action. of activity by reading and taking advantage of the splendid money-making propositions exploited from day to day in The Times "Liner" Section.

Discerning people can find many opportunities for personal profit and advancement in The Times classified advertisements.

Month after month, year in and year out, The Times prints more advertising than any other paper in the world.

For the week ending February 5th, The Times printed 2472 more agate "Liners" than the aggregate of all other Los Angeles newspapers combined, and 7035 more than its nearest local competitor.

The total number of "Liners" published by The Times for the seven days from January 30 to February 5, inclusive, was 14,723. The prize of Five Dollars in Gold has been awarded to Mrs. M. T. Taylor, 256 W. Eastlake avenue, city, whose estimate of 14,723 "Liners" was the first correct answer received in last week's contest. The only other correct answer received was submitted by Mr. C. P. Mee, 122 South Hancock street.

One week ago today The Times printed 1168 agate "Liners." On the same day its nearest local competitor printed only 743 agate "Liners."

FIVE DOLLARS IN GOLD GIVEN AWAY

On Tuesday, February 14, and on each Tuesday thereafter, a prize of Five Dollars in gold will be awarded to the person making the first nearest correct estimate of the total number of "Liner" advertisements published in The Times during the seven days from Monday, February 6, until Sunday, February 12, inclusive.

Estimates should not be made until after the publication of The Times on the last day of the week for which the contest is held, and they must be delivered before 10 a.m. the following Tuesday. The name of the prize winner for the preceding week will be published every Wednesday. This contest is not open to employees of the Times-Mirror Company, and this company's advertisements should not be counted.

All letters should be addressed to the Contest Editor, and each will be numbered in the order of its receipt.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

J. C. Perry, superintendent of the fire alarm system, was ousted yesterday. He accused Commissioner Hawley of being in league with and receiving compensation from the Crozier system.

The Board of Public Utilities has decided to hold up the cross-town car line franchise with all similar matters until after the amendments to the city charter are voted on, March 6.

Miss Edith Tosso yesterday in Judge Craig's court, read from her diary in regard to how her mother, Gertrude Harter, had furnished money for Thomas H. Stokeley, better known as "Slivers."

According to present indications the Frank M. Bell case willl be given to the jury in Judge Cabaniss's court, next Thursday.

The will of Mary E. West, disposing of an estate valued at $40,000 was filed in the Probate Court yesterday. A score of relatives are remembered in the document.

At the City Hall.

FIRE COMMISSION "FIRES" PERRY.

SUPERINTENDENT OF ALARM SYSTEM OUSTED.

Deposed Employee Makes Sensational Charges Against Commissioner Hawley Saying He Went Because He Refused to Be a "Good Dog" Like Chief Eley.

"This is where we get even, Mr. Hawley," said J. C. Perry, superintendent of the fire alarm bureau, just before he was ousted from the city's service yesterday. He addressed Commissioner Hawley, who was the chief instigator of the investigation which Chief Eley has been making.

The deposing of Perry was the sensation of the present city administration. Perry openly accused Hawley of being paid by the Crocier system to oppose the Gamewell company.

"I am out," he said to Commissioner Hawley, "because I refuse to be a good dog to follow you, like Chief Eley. But you will find out that I am not through with this yet. I am going to keep an eye on this thing. And I am going to see that this Crocier system does not unload $150,000 worth of junk on the city."

The Mayor tried to check Perry. He told him he was making a mistake to take the position he did. The Mayor was convinced that Perry was not the man for the head of the department, but was willing he should remain in the service.

"That's all right," said Perry, "I know what I am doing. Ever since I took this position I have tried to be impartial between the Gamewell and Crocier systems. I even tried to get the city to make its own fire alarm system and thus save money. I have been consistently knocked by Mr. Hawley and Mr. Crocier."

The Mayor tried to stop Perry again. Perry refused to be advised, but blundered along, telling of his "impartial attitude," and calling the Crocier system a pile of junk. He finally asked Commissioner Hawley to tell who paid his expenses on trips to nearby towns to investigate the fire alarm systems. Then he asked Hawley if he did not want to buy a suit of clothes, referring to the fire department uniform which Perry recently purchased.

When Perry broke in with his statement the motion had just been made that his position be declared vacant. He did not wait for it to be acted upon, but made his charges. Hawley asked that he be allowed enough rope to hang himself. Commissioner Williamson refused to vote on the motion, but the other members of the commission were unanimous in voting him out.

The Chief has been making an investigation of the alarm system for two weeks. The evidence he presented to the commission yesterday went to show that the Crocier system in the University district had been inefficiently handled. The affidavits of several employees were introduced to show that the proper supplies had not been obtained for this system and that Perry had shown little interest in it until the investigation began.

The entire situation in the fire alarm system points to a remarkable state of affairs. Demands for payment of bills presented by the Gamewell company are now being held up by the City Auditor because the supplies are alleged to have been purchased in an irregular and illegal way. Perry was accused yesterday of putting in a Gamewell switchboard at the University station which had not been paid for and over which there was a contention without asking for any advice from the City Attorney.

The Mayor said at the conclusion of the Perry hearing yesterday: "The manner in which Mr. Perry has conducted his case here is sufficient evidence of the fact that he should not be left to conduct the city's fire alarm system."

William Morton was temporarily placed in charge of the fire alarm system. Charges against J. C. Rowles at the University station were dismissed.

FRANCHISE WAITS.

CROSS-TOWN LINE DELAYED.

The offer of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation to bid on a franchise for a cross-town line will be held up until after the charter amendments are voted on, March 6. The policy of the Board of Public Utilities is to hold up all these matters until the people have had an opportunity to vote on the questions involved in the amendments.

A cross-town line beginning at Fourth and Vermont avenue, running south to Jefferson street, east to Central avenue, south and then east on Thirty-eighth street is favored by property owners and members of the Council. The railway company agreed at the last meeting of the Council that this route would be agreeable. The franchise, however, must wait until the provisions of the new city charter are in effect.

TO PROSPECT HARBOR.

ALLOWANCE IS MADE.

The Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday decided to allow the City Engineer $4200 for prospecting in the Los Angeles harbor. City Engineer Hamlin had asked for $5400 for this work, but the committee made its usual reduction of 20 per cent.

The money will be spent in the purchase of a drill and its operation. The purchase of the drill and its operation for as long a time as the appropriation would provide for. The first work undertaken, it is understood, will be that of determining the method of procedure in building up the Huntington fill recently set aside for all time as city property to be used only for city docks, wharves, warehouses, etc.

GIRL'S DIARY AIDS MOTHER.

JOTS DOWN OCCASIONS WHEN DEFENDANT GOT COIN.

Woman Alleges Telephone Employee Borrowed Money of Her at Various Times and He Declares Every Dollar Was Repaid—Interesting Letters Injected in Case.

A girl with her little diary was a feature in a prosaic suit partly heard in Judge Craig's court yesterday. The allegations of the complaint indicated nothing out of the ordinary, but the evidence showed an interesting situation. Indications are that when the defendant is heard in his own behalf Tuesday, there will be a sensation.

The title of the action is Gertrude Harter against Thomas H. Stokeley, or "Slivers" Stokeley, as he was called by the girl with the diary. It seems from the petition that between April and September, 1908, Stokeley, it was alleged, had borrowed sums aggregating $645, and for this Mrs. Harter desired judgment.

The evidence showed that the plaintiff is a former resident of Chicago, where she divorced her husband. She is now in the dressmaking business in this city. The girl with the diary is Miss Edith Rosso, her daughter, a student at the Los Angeles High School.

It is also alleged that Stokeley had given the plaintiff a number of notes, covering the money advanced to him, and the plaintiff testified that at a fire occurring at her home in June, 1909, the notes were destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Harter testified that she had loaned the money to Stokeley on his representations that he had a good thing where the money could be invested, and that the interest would not be less than 8 per cent. She said she gave him various sums, aggregating the amount for which judgment is asked.

Miss Rosso was called to corroborate her mother, and when asked in regard to specific dates when her mother had testified she had loaned money to Stokeley, she pulled out a large book which she said was a diary of important events in her past life, and she had marked down all of the dates when the advances were made. She read the following entries:

"April 17, 1908—Stokeley was just over. Mamma gave him $50; she seems to know what she is doing; I guess it is all right."

"April 30, 1908—My new dress has gone up the spout; mamma gave Stokeley $25; she has certainly gone daffy on him."

"August 12, 1908—Mother has just given Stokeley another $125; she would pot be so free with it if she had to earn it at the rate of $5 a week."

Stokeley is connected with the Home Telephone Company and during some of the action detailed in the testimony was in charge of the western station of the corporation. He admits that he secured some money from Mrs. Harter, but he hints that it had been given to her by a young man who was afterward in trouble on the charge of embezzlement. The amount, according to his defense, was $118, and he says that every dollar of this money was repaid. There are some letters in the case, but they have not as yet been produced.

MORE TESTIMONY.

EVIDENCE FURNISHED.

The cross-examination of Abbott Kinney in the action brought against him by George Jones, was concluded in Judge Wood's department yesterday. The plaintiff began its rebuttal. But two witnesses were heard before adjournment, A. R. Fraser and Charles A. Bennett.

Among the matters that will be sought to establish by the rebuttal are the following: That the location of the City Hall at Tokio was in a part of the city where it was expected the growth would be most apparent; that the location was made in the best of faith by the Board of Trustees; that the Abbott Kinney Company had for years occupied Lorelei avenue without any warrant or franchise; that the sewer system was devised by one of the best engineers in the United States; that the construction of the breakwater was necessary to save the beach from the action of the wind and the tides; that when Abbott Kinney had applied to the United States government for the right to build another breakwater, that Jones had only asked that the old breakwater be allowed to remain until the new one was built.

The matters covering the dispute in regard to water rates and the sewer that emptied its filth from Santa Monica into the various lots selected by the Board of Trustees, and finally into the ocean, are to be covered by the rebuttal. While the plaintiff admits that the stench arising from the sewer was horrible and a menace to the public health, evidence will be given to show that the board did all they could to remedy conditions.

REBUTTAL EVIDENCE.

BELL CASE NEAR END.

A half dozen witnesses were examined in the Frank M. Bell murder case yesterday. All but one, Attorney Fleming, being rebuttal in behalf of the State. The cross-examination of A. R. Sanger was completed, and Wade W. Ryan, Cora L. Moone, a stenographer employed by O. P. Widaman; C. P. Halburg and Helen M. Widaman, widow of Bell's victim, testified in regard to the movements of the prisoner in and about Artesia the morning of the murder. Ryan and Halberg merely saw Bell along the track just before the shooting. They said they noticed nothing unusual in his apearance. Attorney Fleming testified in regard to Bell fainting in his office on one occasion, while rehearsing the story of his alleged wrongs at the hands of Widaman.

Court adjourned until next Tuesday, and it is the expectation that all of the evidence will be before the jury by Wednesday night. The argument will consume all of Thursday, and, according to the present arrangements, the case will go to the jury Friday morning. That will make three weeks devoted to this case.

MANY REMEMBERED.

BY WILL OF MRS. WEST.

A petition was filed in the Probate Court yesterday by Florence H. Skeel praying for the admission to probate of the will of Mary E. West, who died in this city, leaving an estate estimated at $40,000. The property consists of $26,000 in stocks and bonds, and the remainder is in local real To Lansing Miller, Donald Chester, Walter, Ida, Grace, Emma, Robert D., Hazel, Sybel, Claire, Max, Julian, Dale, Helen and Athol Foote, $100 each is bequeathed; to Emma Frankling, $100 and Dana Beta $100.

To each of the four children of Frank West, who died some years ago, $500 is given. To the two children of John West, who is dead, $500 each is bequeathed. To Mrs. Libbie Clark, half sister of Andrew P. West, $2000 is given; to Emma Palmer, $2500, and the property at No. 436 West Thirty-first street; to E. J. Palmer, $100; Mark Foote, $2000; Frank M. Foote, all that is due from him to the testator; Fred Foote, $5000; Ozum A. Tarbell, $2000; Florence H. Skeel, $500.

The will provides that after the payment of these bequests that all of the estate of every kind and description is to go to the sister of the testator, Eva M. Tarbell.

CASE POSTPONED.

HIS FRIENDS AT WORK.

It was expected that the case against Ira Joseph, charged with looting the Belasco Theater box office, would be disposed of in Judge McCormick's court, yesterday. The report of Probation Officer Dodd was not ready, and the matter went over until next Tuesday. Joseph is at liberty on bond.

His friends are rallying strongly in his behalf, and some strong evidence in favor of the exercise of judicial clemency, has been secured, but it is believed that if probation is to be given by the court, it will have to be done without the advice and consent of the Probation Officer.

AVERILL ESTATE. A petition was filed in the Probate Court yesterday by Hannah S. Averill, widow of Norman S. Averill, secretary of the Los Angeles Board of Education, asking for letters of administration. The estate is estimated at $6294.07, the largest item being a credit of $4350 in the State Mutual Building and Loan Association. The heirs-at-law are the widow and a son, George E. Averill.

DIVIDED VERDICT. In Judge McCormick's court yesterday a jury found T. Kakino guilty of assaulting K. Kojima with intent to kill. N. Nyshami jointly charged with Kakino with the commission of the crime, was acquitted.

ADOPTION MATTERS. A petition was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Bertha A. and Frank H. Asbury, praying that they be allowed to adopt Ruth R. Morrison. A similar petition was filed by James A. and Nellie M. Griffith for the right to adopt Richard Barrow.

DISSOLUTION SOUGHT. A petition was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by the Long Beach Inner Harbor Gas Company providing for the voluntary dissolution of the corporation. The board of directors joining in the petition is as follows: Walter J. Schmahl, F. W. Stearns, W. H. Bedell, Boyden Vosberg and George H. Marshall. All of the debts of the corporation have been satisfied.

INFORMATION FILED. An information against George Chaplin, charged with an attempt to commit burglary, was filed in Judge McCormick's court, yesterday. He will be arraigned Monday morning.

KRAUSS CASE POSTPONED. The second trial of Daisy Turney Krauss, charged with making an assault upon Franklin H. Griffith with intent to kill, was postponed in Judge Cabaniss's court yesterday, for one week.

OFF TO SACRAMENTO. Judge Wilbur is in Sacramento looking after the bill providing for an increase in the number of Superior Court judges in this county, and the measure amending the Juvenile Court law. Judge Finlayson cared for his docket yesterday.

OUTSIDE JUDGES. A total of six judges from outside jurisdictions presided in the local courts yesterday: Judges Murphy, Oster, Bledsoe, Dooling, Cole and Cabaniss. In the absence of Judge Conrey, Judge Bledsoe handled the divorce calendar.

COULD NOT AGREE. The jury in Judge Houser's court that heard the evidence in the action brought by D. R. Brown against C. W. Brashear, to recover damages on account of injuries alleged to have been received by being run into by an auto owned and operated by the defendant, could not agree and were discharged.

AN ELEVATOR ACCIDENT. Mrs. Francis C. Rodgers, employed as a clerk in an apartment house, was injured by an elevator accident at that place, in April last. A jury in Judge Houser's court is trying to ascertain if she is entitled to all or any part of the $15,400 for which she sues Mrs. Nevada Irwin, the lessee, and Mrs. Victor Ponet, the owner of the apartments.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Parents Declare Officer Was Not Justified in Arresting Sons for Alleged Disturbance in Picture Show.

As the result of the failure yesterday of Police Judge Rose to hold George and Louis Weitx and Louis Ets, for disturbing the peace in moving picture theaters, Patrolman Pfahler, who made the arrest, may be haled before the Police Commission Monday night on a charge of false arrest.

Pfahler claims that he made the arrest upon the request of the manager of the moving picture show, and knows nothing more about the affair. He alleges that he was at the East had been raising a disturbance by hooting during the progress of the show. He claims that he attempted to eject them but upon their refusal placed them under arrest.

The boys were represented in court yesterday by an attorney, and half the neighborhood where they live thronged the courtroom.

According to the parents of the youths, charges will be filed against Pfahler. The boys are well known on the East Side and are said to have the best of reputations.

THREE INVOLVED.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGED.

W. C. Beasley, who was arrested Tuesday night together with Gerald McGee, and Leo Srofe, messenger boys, after, it is alleged, they had robbed F. Smadley, a mining man, was arraigned before Police Judge Rose yesterday morning on the charge of grand larceny. His preliminary examination was set for this morning. Bail was fixed at $1500.

Beasley, McGee and Srofe were arrested by Detectives Zeigler and Hosick. It was at first hoped to charge Beasley with highway robbery, but owing to the fact that no gun or instrument of any sort was used on Smadley, it was decided to file a grand larceny complaint. Beasley's companions are juveniles. They will be arraigned shortly in Judge Wilbur's court.

WORKS' DAUGHTER GETS DIVORCE.

HUSBAND HAS "AWFUL GROUCH" SAYS HIS WIFE.

Plaintiff's Papa Declares He Has Often Been Humiliated by Actions of Son-in-Law, But Never Interfered—Defendant Fails to Appreciate Finer Side of Spouse.

United States Senator-elect John D. Works, was a witness yesterday in Judge Bledsoe's court, in behalf of the action for divorce instituted by his daughter, Laura W. Ensign, against Charles F. Ensign, an official of the Western Pacific Railway Company, the allegation of her petition was extreme cruelty. The wife got the decree on the testimony of her father, her sister, Mrs. Ida Works Darling, Miss Gertrude Comstock, and herself. There were no children born of the union.

The Ensigns were married here in 1901, after a friendship beginning when the two were children together in San Diego. With the exception of about a year spent in San Francisco, immediately following the marriage, they have lived in this city, the most of the time at the home of Judge Works, No. 2720 Normandie avenue. Following the separation some months ago, Mrs. Ensign went to live with two friends at Seventh and Hartford streets.

A tabloid statement of the evidence upon which the decree was granted alleged cruel treatment to the wife running through the entire married life of the pair. According to the evidence, Ensign was sullen and morose, going out of his way on many occasions to humiliate and insult his wife, by brutal speech, unfounded suspicion and a total unappreciation of the finer sides of life. The evidence showed that he took pains to say mean things to her in the precense of others, a bitter blow to a sensitive and nervous woman.

It was shown by the testimony that he did not want children, while Mrs. Ensign loved them.

One of the witnesses stated that Ensign was always criticizing his wife; and Miss Comstock, a teacher in the University of Southern California, testified that during the two years she lived with the Ensigns, she had never seen the husband show any affection for his wife.

Works said: "I have often been humiliated by his treatment of my daughter, and had a mind to interfere for her protection, but I never did."

Her sister, Mrs. Darling, declared: "If he had treated me as he did Laura, there would have been a battle of wits." The wife was not only given a decree of separation, but an allowance of $60 a month alimony.

GOT ANOTHER GUESS COMING.

Lawyers for Woolwine Try to Pick Districts in Which He Has Gains, But Are Sadly Disappointed.

Attorneys representing Thomas Lee Woolwine in the recount of votes for the office of District Attorney yesterday selected precincts wherein they expected to make large gains. Their "guesses" did not net them more than a few ballots.

Woolwine's adherents claimed a big gain as the result of yesterday's recount. This was on account of the fact that Judge Murphey permitted the votes in precincts No. 38 and 56 to be counted. They were admitted subject to the right of the District Attorney to introduce evidence to prove that they were not competent evidence.

The returns in these precincts were in similar conditions to those from precinct No. 3, where Woolwine gained 74 votes. There is a strange coincidence that his only gains of any size are in those precincts where the returns were improperly made, either the envelops being ripped open or the ballots never having been properly done up.

Precinct No. 38 showed a loss of 15 votes for Fredericks and a gain of 17 votes for Woolwine. The incumbent lost 12 votes in No. 56 and Woolwine gained 1.

Several precincts were taken in regular order and the result of the recount of them follows: No. 136, Fredericks gained 1, Woolwine, no change; No. 137, Fredericks gained 1, Woolwine lost 2; No. 138, Fredericks, no change, Woolwine gained 3; No. 139, Fredericks lost 7, Woolwine gained 12; No. 141, Fredericks lost 1, Woolwine lost 3, and No. 142, Fredericks gained 2, Woolwine lost 1.

Woolwine's followers then tried their luck at guessing the precincts which would be favorable to him. In the course of their wanderings they dropped down into San Pedro. The result follows: No. 146, Fredericks, no change, Woolwine gained 1; No. 228, Fredericks gained 1, Woolwine gained 1; No. 229, Fredericks lost 3, Woolwine gained 6, and No. 230, Fredericks gained 1, Woolwine, no change.

APPLICATION FOR DREDGING.

John A. Anderson has applied to the War Department for permission to dredge a channel 125 feet wide by about 600 feet long, along the north boundary line of the government reservation in the outer harbor.

A map showing the exact location of this proposed channel will be on exhibition in the United States engineer's office, 723 Central building, until 11 a.m.

HOLD-UP AND BURGLARY.

Doctor Reports Two Bandits Tackled Him Near His Home. Apartments Robbed Say Roomers.

One hold-up and a room burglary were reported at the police detective bureau yesterday.

Dr. J. Tanaisa of No. 310 Amelia street reported that, while walking along the street last night, he was set upon by two men and robbed of a purse containing $34, a diamond ring and a gold neck chain. He gave the police an excellent description of the men.

Frank Whitney and John McKay, residing at No. 241 South Main street, reported that their apartments were burglarized Thursday night, and a purse, a watch and certificates of deposit amounting to $115, taken. It is believed the thief resides in the same house.

SICK AND FULL OF REMORSE.

Young Man Charged With Deceiving Girl by Mock Marriage May Be Taken to County Hospital.

Edward Braun, who was arrested on a charge of having committed an offense upon Guadalope Marquez, by leading her to believe that they were married, is seriously ill in the County Jail. He was sick when taken in custody and has grown worse, now having a high fever. It is likely that he will have to go to the County Hospital for an operation.

Braun explained his deceiving the woman by saying that he endeavored to marry her and could not do so on account of religious obstacles. He procured a marriage license and they repaired to a priest. The latter refused to officiate as Braun was a Protestant.

The woman alleged that Braun told her that all of the requirements of marriage were served by getting a marriage license and that she had believed him.

SPEEDERS IN COURT.

Six more autoists, who could not resist the temptation to open their throttles while gliding over the smooth surface of the recently-improved portion of Wilshire boulevard, were taken before Justice Summerfield yesterday. Harry D. Goff, George Owen, A. C. Davis and D. E. Campbell admitted that they had violated the speed law, and paid fines of $15 each. W. J. Bierwalter declared that he had kept within the speed limit and pleaded not guilty to two charges preferred against him. P. F. Laird will enter his plea today.

SYRUP AT AUCTION.

A carload of syrup which was confiscated by the government in connection with proceedings under the pure-food laws more than a year ago will be sold at public auction by the United States Marshal on the 21st inst. The manufacturers of the product, which is part maple and part sugar syrup, so branded it as to mislead purchasers into believing they were getting pure maple syrup.

FIGHTS FOR HIS LIBERTY.

After having failed to obtain his release through all of the other courts of the State, Stanley S. La Due, who was arrested on a civil charge, has obtained a writ of habeas corpus from the Supreme Court. The Sheriff has been ordered to take the defendant before the court on the 21st. inst. The court also ordered Justice Forbes to release La Due on $600 bail and this action was taken yesterday.

Lacked Faith.

WOULDN'T TAKE THEIR ADVICE.

Dead Laborer Prejudiced Against Surgeons.

Makes Serious Accusation in Letter He Left.

Police Think Man Insane, and Ended His Life.

As the result of his lack of faith in physicians and surgeons, Andrew G. Thompson, 37 years old, a laborer who formerly worked for the Llewellyn Iron Works, wrote a letter charging two local practitioners with his death. Last evening his corpse was found in a shack near the western entrance to Exposition Park. The police believe he was insane.

The body was discovered by a Mexican employe of the park, and the police were notified. It was in an advanced state of decomposition, and the officers could not decide whether death had been due to natural causes or violence.

At the Bresee Bros. morgue, the deputy coroner found this startling letter in the clothing of Thompson:

"This is to certify that this man was murdered by Dr. Harry W. Howard and Dr. A. L. Godin of Temple Auditorium Building. For proof of this, consult Dr. Dickman, Tyoid and Dr. Miller.

[Signed] "ANDREW G. THOMPSON."

The Coroner also found a postal card addressed to No. 432 El Molino street and received from Thompson's sister, Miss Anna Thompson, formerly a chambermaid at the Alexandria Hotel, who wrote: "Come home and get your overcoat; it's raining."

MURDER THEORY DISSIPATED.

As far as could be seen, the body bore no marks of violence, and the mention of a murder at first proved puzzling. The murder theory, however, was soon swept aside by the more plausible one, as advanced by the police, of insanity and suicide.

The directory did not give the name of either Dr. Tyoid or Dr. Dickman, and none of the Drs. Miller, of which there are several, could be found who remembered the case.

Insanity and ignorant prejudice were unhesitatingly advanced by Dr. Godin as the cause of the man's death.

"Thompson came to me about two years ago," said Dr. Godin last night, complaining of a severe pain in the abdomen and other trouble. I diagnosed the case as appendicitis, and advised him to undergo an operation at once. I am no surgeon, and therefore directed him to Dr. Howard at the Hospital of the Good Samaritan.

"Thompson seemed to have a prejudice against any and all surgical operations. He put off the inevitable as long as he could, and then he could no longer endure the pain he went to the Good Samaritan, where he was operated upon.

"A great quantity of pus was drained from the patient's abdomen. He was a very corpulent man, weighing about 220 pounds, I should say, all of which would tend to retard the healing of the wound more than in a thin man, because of the greater size of the wound necessary and the greater depth of flesh and fat penetrated.

"After the operation Thompson was advised to rest up for some time. He disregarded his surgeon's advice and returned to work much earlier than he should have done, all of which caused the wound to reopen and become infected.

"The unfortunate man seemed to blame me for his trouble. I received several letters from him threatening suit and other vengeance. About 10 days ago I received a letter from him in which he threatened to horsewhip both me and Dr. Howard. I turned this letter over to the office of the District Attorney."

THINK HE WAS INSANE.

Dr. Godin further said that, some years ago, while working for the Santa Fe as a laborer, Thompson sustained an injury to his eyes for which he obtained $7500 from the railroad company, and that the man had lived mainly upon this money since then.

The doctor said he had advised by the University Police Commission of the nature of the letter left by Thompson, and that he believed the man was insane. He said this belief was shared by Miss Thompson, the sister, with whom the doctor communicated.

The insanity theory is upheld by the university police officers, but a post-mortem examination will be made by the Coroner's office this morning. It is believed that Thompson took poison.

...ELLY WHET APPETITE.

...ffery Charges Against Tars Disappear When He Learns 'Twas Only a Joke for Grub.

...rges of burglariy against Andrew ... and John Semberg, seamen, were ...ed by Judge Summerfield yesterday. They were charged with having broken in the storeroom of the Ocean, a lumber schooner. Erbe declared that he was asleep when the offense was committed, but Semberg stated that he had gone into the room, having found the door unlocked. The latter said he had whetted his appetite on some San Pedro whisky and that he was hungry when he returned to the ship upon which he was employed. He wandered into the storeroom and picked up a can of sardines. He declared that the odor of strong cheese and that he was about to eat "salt horse" took away his appetite, and he was about eating when the captain spied him and he was arrested.

scription of Schmidt, with the exception that he is six feet tall instead of five feet, eight inches, as Schmidt is reported. His hair is dark instead of light. The police, however, think he may have dyed his hair, and say there is a possibility of error in Schmidt's stated height, as Schmidt had not been given Bertilion or other criminology measurements. The man has a left eye missing, and wears a glass eye, which coincides with the Schmidt description.

He denies positively that he is Schmidt, and asserts he has never been south of Seattle on the Pacific Coast. He says he is a native Tennessean, of Mountain City, and was a lawyer by profession until he lost his eye in an explosion of dynamite in blasting rock. He says he served in the Third Tennessee Regiment in the Spanish war, and later in the army in Alaska. Army recruiting officials, however, say his name does not appear on the army records on file here. The man is in the strong cell at the City Jail, and is being put through the third degree. Los Angeles officials have been advised.

WILL CONTEST LAST TESTAMENT

ECCENTRIC CHARACTER DIES AND CUTS OFF RELATIVES.

Recently Achieved Notoriety by Willing a Half Section of Redwood Lands to State to Be Used for Experimental Grounds and Park With Conditions.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

DINUBA, Feb. 10.—Heirs-at-law of the estate of Horace Whittaker, the wealthy and eccentric resident of the mountain country who died in his mountain home last December, have filed suit to contest the will left by the deceased and in which the beneficiaries are W. H. Garrison and L. E. Garrison of San Francisco, William Whittaker, a brother, of this city and Mrs. William Hay, a sister of Orosi, are the contestants.

Whittaker achieved fame a few weeks before his death by deeding to the State University, a half-section of valuable redwood timber land, to be used by them for a State experimental grounds and park, the deed being conditioned upon no trees ever being cut from the property. Preparations had been made by Whittaker to deed other similar property to the State, but death overtook him before the papers were executed.

During his illness Mrs. Hay, his sister, was in constant attendance upon him, as was his brother. It came as a complete surprise to them when the will was produced in which the Garrisons were made the beneficiaries. The Garrisons are no relation of the deceased and the brother and sister were cut off without a cent.

An attempt will be made by the contestants to show that the deceased was of unsound mind. Shortly before his illness he had completed at great expense, a reinforced concrete mausoleum, which was built on his mountain ranch, surrounded by giant oak trees, and he requested that his body be cremated and his ashes placed in an urn which was to be sealed in the concrete vault.

He talked at times prior to his death, of converting his vast property into a great zoological garden, which was to be deeded to the regents of the State University, and which was to be used by them in conducting experiments in the breeding of new races of animals.

These facts and others regarding his more intimate acts are to be brought forward by his relatives in the hope of having the will thrown out of court. It is probable that if this attempt is successful, the brother and sister will also ask the court to set aside the will in which his property was deeded to the State University.

WANT EXTRA CONSTABLE.

Petitions have been prepared and submitted to the Board of Supervisors, asking for the appointment of a second constable for Dinuba township, and asking that A. W. Harper, who was defeated for the office of Justice of the Peace at the last general election, be given the place.

District Attorney Lamberson has taken the petition under advisement and states that he is not at all sure that the township is entitled to the second officer under the present law. It is stated in the county government act that if the township can show a population of over 5000 they are entitled to the second officer, but as the returns for the census are not as yet in, no such appointment will be made at present.

GOOD PRICES PREVAIL.

Top Notch Figures Paid for Ontario Orange Grove Properties—Fine New Business Block Planned.

ONTARIO, Feb. 11.—Several sales of orange grove property were reported this week. One is at top notch prices again and the others at high figures. The banner sale was made by H. G. Koster who sold the old Kerfoot place of ten acres of navel oranges on West Eighteenth street to a newcomer for $22,500. W. A. Freemire sold ten acres on East Fifteenth street to H. D. Derwin for $16,500. A Moncreiff sold his home place of ten acres on West Sixth street for $16,000.

Although building operations have been unusually dull, the total of permits granted by the City Clerk the past month was $13,425. Included in the permits were the following items: August Mueller, E. A. Parkford and D. Stine, alterations on the Citizens' Bank block, $4000; S. G. Cheel, frame cottage, East E street, $1500; H. E. Milling, alterations, business property at No. 137 North Euclid avenue, $700; A. W. Mueller, frame house, East H street, $1400; H. E. Blazer, frame house, West E street, $2500; J. S. Swain, alterations, $425.

J. B. Draper will soon take out a permit for the erection of a two-story brick building at the corner of C street and Laurel avenue. The building will be modern in every respect. It will be used as an undertaking establishment. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $16,000.

A new subdivision to Ontario was accepted as per the plot presented to the City Trustees by John Bernhard, Miss Anna Bernhard and E. T. H. Allyn. The new plot is located at Campus avenue and D street, a half mile east of Euclid avenue, in a rapidly growing section of the city.

FLUTE'S SECRET FOUND.

to the old bone flute it remained mute. He departed in sadness.

Alliot argued with himself that, as the flute had been played by a people whose minds were as children's compared with the minds of the modern man, he would find the person to make the flute speak among the children. As a result he invited the pupils of several of the local public schools to come to the museum and examine the relics and listen to a lecture on the exhibits.

He invariably led the conversation and sight-seeing around to the old bone flute, and watched eagerly the children to see which one would show the proper appreciation of it.

Finally the students of the Grand-avenue school went to the museum and listened to the talk and watched with wide eyes the wonders back of the glass cases. When the flute was shown, young Martindale looked a long while at it and then heard its history.

After the little "clinic" was over, the teacher in charge of the class called Alliot aside and told him that one of her students named Martindale said that he thought that he could make a sound on the flute if he was given an opportunity.

CENTURIES' SILENCE BROKEN.

Gladly Mr. Alliot complied with the request, and Martindale secured the flute and slowly fixed his fingers over the holes in the bone. Then he screwed his mouth up and grew red in the face. Suddenly a long, weird sound like a wail arose throughout the museum. It hung and quavered and then died away as Martindale gasped for more breath. No person in the museum moved. Mr. Alliot knew that the secret of the old flute was known at last and hung on every move of young Martindale lest he frighten him from further efforts.

Martindale, however, seemed oblivious to his hearers and slowly filled his lungs again and undertook a second effort at the flute.

Once having given up its secret the flute seemed to be easier to play, and Martindale slowly ran the scale. As the sounds of the weird music died away throughout the hall Mr. Alliot ran to the boy and embraced him and asked how he did it. Martindale thought he had done but little and told of a peculiar way of puckering his lips which he learned when he first attempted to whistle.

Tonight at 8 o'clock Curator Alliot will speak in Symphony Hall before the Southern California Academy of Sciences on "Our Archeological Inheritance," and will have young Martindale and the wonderful old flute there. Martindale has promised to make it give forth its sweet, weird melody again.

The history of the flute is wrapped in mystery. It was evidently the favorite musical instrument of the "Big Man of Catalina," who died about 2000 years ago. It was found buried beside him and had evidently been grasped in his right hand when he was buried.

The identity of the "Big Man of Catalina" is mysterious. He was evidently not a native of the islands as he was at least half a foot taller than their average, and his skull shows a brain development almost twice as great as the ordinary native of the Channel Islands at that time. The skeleton was found buried separately from the others and this gave rise to the belief that he might have been a castaway from some land that is unknown at present, and that he lived and died a sort of outcast or perhaps a great chief among the inferior savages there.

A pretty romance could be woven around the fact that while most other flutes of the savages were made from the bones of the pelican this one is made from the femur of a woman of about 30 years of age. It was a custom among the aborigines to retain some keepsake of their departed ones, and it is suggested that the dead giant might have lost his sweetheart and as a keepsake trimmed the bone from her body into the flute which he played when lonely.

CENSUS BUREAU OVERLOOKS SOME,

HANFORD IS NOT SATISFIED WITH OFFICIAL COUNT.

Vote on Sewer Bonds Was Overwhelmingly Against the Issue. Four Propositions Were Submitted and All of Them Were Turned Down by Voters.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

HANFORD, Feb. 9.—While the Census Bureau has just announced the population of this city as 4819, a gain of 1909 people, or 64.89 per cent. since 1900, yet the figures are far below all unofficial counts, and there is considerable dissatisfaction with the census. Last year, in conjunction with the preparation of the city directory, the City Council authorized an appropriation to aid in a systematic enumeration of the city, and the result showed 5763 people within the city proper. In the past year it is a conservative estimate that the city has grown fully 1500, which would make the population nearer 7000 than 5000. The census was taken at a time when many of the people in this valley were at the coast and mountains, enjoying a respite from the warm weather, and in addition to that disadvantage the limited number of enumerators and the short time allowed to take the census, proved a drawback. But even with the obvious discrepancies, Hanford has shown a growth of 64.89 per cent., which would be considered highly satisfactory by many cities of its size.

By a vote of 2 to 1 the electors of Hanford rejected the proposed issuance of $90,000 worth of bonds, mainly for sewer extensions. The opposition was based on dissatisfaction with the present administration appointees and a grave doubt as to whether or not the proposed plan of extensions would accomplish the purpose for which they were intended; also on a question as to whether such a large sum would be necessary to provide the necessary facilities. The issue was submitted to vote as four separate propositions and not a single one received a majority, not to say the necessary two-thirds vote, in any one of the precincts.

BAN ON SLOT MACHINES.

The Supervisors have just passed an ordinance that puts the ban on slot machines of all kinds in Kings county outside the incorporated cities. It goes into effect March 1. A heavy penalty is attached to the ordinance, which will leave Lemoore, an incorporated city, the only place in the entire county where the machines are allowed by law.

The Floribell Alfalfa Syndicate has been incorporated here with $150,000 capitalization. The directors are Samuel I. Savannah and Flora and Cerf Rosenthal. The syndicate is organized to operate the big Rosenthal ranch in the Kings River district, in this county.

UEING THE GOULD BLOOD.

Now comes another of the Gould fam- no less a person, indeed, than young Jay, crack tennis player, who is to marry a waiian Princess. It is so long since any he Goulds married a common person that may as well now be admitted that the od of the old hide and tallow man of the ono Mountains has been blued to a fraz-

HE INSURRECTO NAVY.

All efforts to locate Jack London in the r zone of Northern Mexico have proved ile. We have no doubt, however, that k is busy somewhere and we wouldn't surprised to see him issue from an estu- of the Colorado Hardy one of these ght mornings with a fleet of fully- ipped scows as the nucleus of an Insur- to navy with himself in command.

ALUABLE EXPERIENCE.

It is not at all unfortunate for the West t the United States is compelled to hurry ops along the border to preserve strict utrality in the Mexican situation. It is bad to have Washington reminded now then that there is a western portion of erica and that when any real military ed arises it is quite likely to be felt at this d of the line. It is well for the govern- nt to realize exactly how long it requires handle troops in the West and to get bat- ships into western seas.

HE REAL PEOPLE.

A visiting expert pays Los Angeles the ghest possible compliment when he says t this city has the best playground sys- n in the world. The children are the real ople. They are passing through the only ly golden age they may ever know. They e like fairies in a land of dreams. They de- ve happiness because they are in the play- ne of life. They deserve it also because e sort of men and women who will peo- e the world tomorrow depends upon the vironment of the children of today.

HE WISE CHILD.

The old proverb says that "it is a wise ild that knows its own father," but here a little boy in New York who didn't know s own mother when he was brought into urt the other day. But we do not wonder it. So many men marry so many women d so many women marry so many men many times and in so many ways that e time is coming when a family tree will about as hard a thing to get up as it ould be to make a list of all the different nds of Democrats there are.

HE LORD SAVE US.

At the beginning of the present Cali- rnia Legislature the fervent hope was ex- ressed in these columns that the members ould exercise some conservatism in the aking of new and unnecessary laws. We gret to say that the hope was as vain as ny hope that ever had birth in the breast f man. If all the bills which are stacked ke cordwood awaiting passage by the Leg- lature become laws we do not believe nough paper can be secured in the United tates to print them.

HE HUGGED GIRL.

Now what's the matter with this crusty ollege professor in Denver who says he wouldn't marry a girl that has been hugged or the past ten years? Would he prefer marrying a girl who has never been hugged, which means that nobody ever wanted to ug her? Piffle! It not only doesn't hurt a irl to have been hugged for ten years, but is really an advantage to her because she as acquired through the phase of physical ulture the ability to really stand a good hug and to enjoy it.

NCOMPETENT OPERATORS.

We suppose that there is not a single business enterprise in existence that does not suffer from the incompetency of em- ployees. It is the same way with the profes- sions. A boy is sent to a law school or to a medical college, but whether or not he shall succeed as a doctor or a lawyer depends afterwards entirely on his ability and judg- ment. Now, here is a burglar in Portland who went into the house of a preacher for the purpose of robbery. This man will never succeed as a burglar. He lacks judgment.

SECOND-STREET TUNNEL.

Los Angeles property owners north of Third street and west of Figueroa street are about to have their innings. All that is needed to promote a development equal to that achieved in the southern part of the city is a tunnel under Second street be- tween Figueroa and Hill streets. With such a tunnel the distance to Hollywood would be shortened and the towns that will speed- ily be built up in the San Fernando Valley would be brought within thirty minutes by trolley of Hill street. The advance in val- ues and the improvements that would be made if such a tunnel shall be constructed would swell the assessment roll so that the cost of the tunnel would be met by in- creased revenue accruing to the city. The property owners interested in the project have offered to donate $100,000 toward the building of a Second-street tunnel. The rail- road will give $100,000, leaving only about $100,000 to be paid by the city.

Public improvements made so as to in- crease the value of property are among the best investments that any municipality can make. The tunnels and bridges connecting Manhattan Island with Long Island, with New Jersey and with Westchester, have been factors that have so enormously in- creased the values of realty both on Man- hattan Island and in the territories reached to the property north of Central Park. Other instances might be cited of the benefits of public improvements in the way of tunnels, roads and bridges. It will be of the greatest advantage to this city to have a tunnel ex- cavated from Second and Figueroa street to a point 120 feet north of Second and Hill streets.

THE JACK-POT SENATOR.

If the members of the United States Sen- ate shall not cease their efforts to talk Jack- pot Senator Lorimer of Illinois into a Senato- rial seat, and shall not apply their pedoneums vigorously to his sitting-down place, until he saunters toward the door for a permanent exit, they will fail to retain the respect and good opinions of their constituents and of the country at large. It is established be- yond a peradventure that Lorimer obtained his certificate of election by bribery as open, or at least as ill-concealed, and as utterly shameless in gross and in detail as that with which the Roman emperors of old were ac- customed to buy the imperial purple from the soldiers of the Pretorian guard. Lorimer seems not to have the common sense to re- sign. He courts the distinction of being kicked out, and he ought to be gratified.

Lorimer's predecessors in the purchase of a toga have, when caught, acted like the well-bred dog who, seeing preparation being made for the kicking him down stairs, got up from the hearth rug and walked majes- tically out. Pomeroy of Kansas was, in the early seventies, detected in having made il- licit profits from a railroad land grant which he engineered through the Senate. In order to avoid expulsion he resigned, and was suc- ceeded by John J. Ingalls. Ingalls never stole anything but mortuary eloquence which he translated from the sermons of Massilon. Plagiarism, although as morally reprehensi- ble as any other kind of theft, is not a statu- tory offense or a common law crime. If it were the Senate benches and the House of Representative seats would be thinned, and Bryan the Peerless would serve a life sen- tence for having procured his first nomina- tion at Chicago with the celebrated cross of gold speech, stolen from Congressman Mc- Call of Massachusetts.

The next detected offender was Eugene Casserly of California. He was the pure and undefiled googoo of his day and generation, but somebody paid out a great lot of money to the Democratic legislators who elected him, and Volney E. Howard, filled with rage at his own defeat, went after Casserly very vigorously with such proof of his election having been secured by bribery that Casserly resigned "on account of a pressure of pri- vate business."

The next example of pure Democratic statesmanship was Millionaire Clark of Montana. The Senatorial Committee to whom the charge of bribery in his case was submitted prepared an elaborate report, de- tailing the particulars of his purchase of the Montana Legislature. Senator Chandler of New Hampshire, who was the chairman of the committee, is said to have been offered $100,000 to report the other way. But in- stead of yielding to temptation the Senator scorned the offer and referred to it in his report, and with a manuscript speech cov- ering sixty-five pages of foolscap, arose to ad- minister the Clark roast that he had pre- pared. But he was foiled by Clark sending his resignation to the Vice-President's desk, and then a Senatorial friend made a point or order, and Chandler's speech and his re- port went into the waste basket. Clark subsequently made an effort to regain his seat by being appointed by his friend the Lieutenant-Governor of Montana (the Gov- ernor being conveniently absent from the State) to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation. But some Senator objected to the credentials, which objection was sus- tained and the paper evidencing Clark's ap- pointment went into the waste basket of the Secretary of the Senate, and Clark occupied the same position as Abner Dean of Angels at the meeting of the Scientific Society of the Stanislaus. The incident was graph- ically described by Bret Harte in the fol- lowing beautiful lines:

"Abner Dean of Angels made a point of or-when
A chunk of old red sandstone took him in the abdomen,
And he smiled a sort of sickly smile, and laid down on the floor,
And the subsequent proceedings interested him no more."

Lorimer evidently intends not to resign. He clings to his Senatorial seat like a puppy to a root. Both the Republican and the Democratic press of the country have pub- lished the evidence of his having bought the jack-pot Legislature in gross and in detail to elect him to the Senate. But all in vain. He insists on being kicked out, and it is to be hoped that he will speedily be accommo- dated.

THE PROSPECTOR.

The prospector, like the poet, is born, not made. Ability to comprehend the story written upon the rocks cannot always be gained by study or even by experience. It is a faculty rather than the result of book learning, or of training in the laboratory or the assay office. Fire and flood, oxygen and electricity, the tempests of the air and the volcanic throbbings of the earth have been busy for ages with the quartz lode, and they have left their marks upon it. It is possible sometimes to decipher these hier- oglyphics so as to answer with some de- gree of accuracy the ever-recurring ques- tion—"Will it pay to work this lode?"

Yet such possibility cannot be reduced to a science. Professors of geology and metal- lurgy are often wrong in their conclusions, and even old prospectors are frequently at fault.

Go across a piece of marsh land on a spring morning accompanied by a bulldog and a trained pointer. The former will flush no snipe save those he may fairly run over as he trots along. But the fine nose of the pointer will catch the scent left by the wary bird and follow it here and there around tufts of marsh grass and across strips of meadow until the sagacious canine shall be seen outlined against earth and sky as he "points" the bird. It is difficult to be certain of anything in this world of human deceptions, but one may be abso- lutely sure, under such circumstances, that the dog will not lie, and that he cannot be mistaken. There is a bird within a few yards of that dog, in the direction in which his nose is pointed. If the sportsman fails to secure the bird, the fault will be with his aim or his fowling piece—the dog has done his part.

Some men—even among experienced min- some have an eye for quartz equal to the nose of a pointer for snipe.

When a prospector combines the death- less tenacity of the bulldog with the un- equaled sagacity of the pointer and when he loads his burro and starts across desert and mountain on a search for a quartz lode, he will follow up the float until he finds the lode, if the lode has anywhere poked its nose above the surface. A prospector will accept a "grub stake," but he will not pros- pect for wages. You can go into partner- ship with him, but you cannot hire him.

The Demerara team (a Demerara team consists of two mules and a jackass) of con- servation, composed of Pinchot, Heney and Kent, are urging Uncle Sam to allow no location of mines unless the prospector first obtains a permit, a license to look for a mine. Not content with taxing anything and everything in the shape of tangible property, they propose to tax the prospec- tor's intention to dig a hole in the ground; to tax his hopes and expectations.

The value of the prospector's intention to find pay rock is not readily capable of measurement in dollars and cents. Some years ago an eastern mining promoter agreed with an old miner in Arizona that the former would place his opportunities of selling mines against the skill of the latter in finding them, that the cost of prospect- ing and locating should be paid by the pro- moter, and each should share equally in the final result. The prospector had pre- viously located a dozen claims, one-half of which he would deed to the promoter at "bedrock." They engaged an attorney to draw up the contract and the man of law informed them that "bedrock" was too vague a term to use in a legal instrument, and that a specific sum in money must be agreed upon. The miner said that he thought about $500 would be right. The mine promoter dissented. "There are twelve claims," he said. "It cost you $3 each to have them recorded. Allow a day's labor for monumenting each claim at $4 a day. That would be $84 altogether. I will make it $100—that will be bedrock you know." "Pardner," said the grizzled old Argonaut, "that ain't no bedrock. I'll tell you how to fix it. You get some other jack- ass for a side pardner. You load him with grub and tools and your blankets. You find out where the water holes are. You go and lay out in the hills for three months as I did. You get shot at by the Injuns as I was. You locate as many claims as I did. That's bedrock. Then you come in and we'll put our claims together and we'll start fair without your puttin' up a cent. In the meantime the present deal is off and I cal- culate it had better stay off. I don't want nothin' to do with such a bet-pinchin', flea- skinnin' old son of a bachelor as you are."

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

It often is said that a man must be dead before he is spoken of highly; but that isn't true of the popular view of the sweetest of poets, Jim Riley! O we sit by the fire and we list to the lyre he plays as no other can play it, and all the year long we love him and his song, and we're only too happy to say it! The world's full of noise from poet- ical boys who pound on their harps with a hammer, and often, with tears, we are hold- ing our ears, to shut out the horrible clamor. These singers are hoarse and their music is coarse, and their themes are as punk as their cause is; it eases the pain when the gentle refrain of Riley is heard in the pauses. His songs always start from his good gentle heart that's brimming with love for his fellows; he doesn't make songs with a hammer and tongs, and blow up his fire with a bellows. His verse is as true and as pure as the blue of the heaven that's bend- ing above him, and long may he live his sweet lyrics to give to the millions of people who love him!

A Dangerous Result.

Out of the mouths of babes, etc., is exem- plified in a story that is going the rounds of the Kansas press. A Sunday-school teacher after reading the story of Ananias and Sapphira to the juvenile class asked: "Now, children, why doesn't the Lord strike everybody dead who tells a lie?" "'Cause," answered a bright little fellow, "there wouldn't be anybody left, hardly."

WHAT DID IT?

BY DORA OLIPHANT COE.

They lie on my desk side by side, the clipping from a home paper and the letter which brought more intimate details of the pitiful story.

From the printed page there strike up the words: "His one trait of honesty had kept him friends—for years a collector—first act of dishonesty—thought his friends had turned against him—took his own life." On the written page I read: "His poor mother! He had caused her worlds of trouble, yet she stood by his coffin and cried, 'My boy, my boy, I loved you always. I stood by you when all the others turned away!'"

A mist blurs my vision. Then, as if through it, I see a home in which dwell a father and mother, five daughters and one saucy-faced, yellow-haired, blue-eyed, little boy. I hear again the plaint, "Mamma, make Will go away and quit bothering us girls." Then the mother, too selfishly indo- lent to try to adjust matters, calls, "Chil- dren, don't quarrel so. Run outdoors and play, Will."

With each succeeding day there was less and less need of the mother's effortless in- tervention, for Will ran out of doors to play without being told. Soon he came in only to his meals. Then he stopped coming at noon, for his father was away during the day. When the boy was about 12 years old the father died and after that Will came home only to sleep, sometimes failing to do even that.

The mother grieved, but the only effort she made to right matters was to scold the boy whenever she saw him, and to weep over his indifference to her feelings. There was never a word of warning against the taste for drink which she knew he proba- bly, nay almost inevitably must have inher- ited from his father. There were no admo- nitions concerning the kind of company he was keeping. The old, easy phrase, "Run outdoors, Will, and play," was changed to, "Why do you do so?" and so ended the first chapter.

The years added themselves unto the years. The girls all married and the moth- er went with one of them to a far city. Will bothered none of them any more. He stayed in the home town among the asso- ciates he had formed when he was told to "run outdoors and play." He drank as all of the rest of his companions did, but he was honest, which few of the rest of them were.

So ran the intervening chapters.

The last of the story is on the printed slip before me. The letter says, "Drink did it all."

Did it?

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT.

He Counts.

Those who think that the Vice-President is of no importance in our national economy should note that last week in exercising his right to cast the deciding vote in case of a tie, Vice-President Sherman saved the ship- subsidy bill and set back the bill for the pop- ular election of Senators.—[Minneapolis Journal.

A Precedent to a Rainy January.

Because the month of January this year was prolific in rain it should not be taken for granted that the balance of the season will be wet. The only other record that ap- proaches that of the past month was in 1875, when between fourteen and fifteen inches of rain fell during the first month of the year, practically the same as during January, 1911. The months following January, 1875, were very near rainless. Less than an inch of rain fell during the three months of Febru- ary, March and April, according to the of- ficial record for the city.

That good weather for both tourists and crops may be expected from this time for- ward is reasonable; and that there will be continued rains from now on is not borne out by precedent.—[Santa Barbara Press.

Was It Worth While?

The Chicago garment-workers' strike ap- pears to be at an end at last, after dragging along through four weary months, with workers estimated to number from 25,000 to 40,000 out of work, with a loss of about $3,000,000 in wages and about $4,000,000 by the employers, and with no real gain to any- body so far as a disinterested observer can see.

It began with a walk-out in one shop of a large firm against a reduction there in the pay for a certain operation from 4 cents to 3 3-4 cents, which was the price paid in the same firm's forty-seven other shops. In a few days the firm made the price 4 cents in all its shops, thus removing the original grievance. But the strike had become a stampede, spreading through the whole trade.

An agreement was reached between the employers and the head of the workers' union, but was repudiated by the strikers. Another agreement was reached through the intervention of a City Council Committee, also repudiated by the strikers, who by this time had worked themselves and had been goaded by local "sociologists" into the hys- terical frenzy of declaring that they would all starve sooner than work with anybody who didn't belong to the union!

Of course such frenzy could not endure, and gradually wore itself out. Meanwhile there were scenes of violence, maimings and murders and pitiable suffering on the part of helpless women and children, until with the public offer last week of all the employ- ers to ignore the whole controversy and re- sume work on exactly the conditions that prevailed before it arose the strike began to collapse.

The affair has afforded an interesting op- portunity to students of the workings of hu- man minds in masses or mobs. It has given to a few privileges in the way of active be- nevolence.

But was it worth while? And if so, will some one clearly explain how?—[Chicago In- ter-Ocean.

He Gave Up.

A man from Omaha, walking down Broad- way with a devotee of the Rialto yesterday, asked why New York seemed so full of di- vorce.

"It isn't," replied the New Yorker. "That's just an impression you westerners get. Of course, this city has its share of divorce, but you must remember New York is much larg- er than any other place in the United States and it is the originating point for more news than any other city. That's why you hear of so much divorce here."

"That sounds all right," said the Omaha man, "but just the same I'll bet there's more divorce here in New York in proportion to its size than there is in any other American city."

"Just to prove that you're wrong," said the New Yorker, "I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll stop the first five men we meet here on Broadway, explain the argument to them and ask if they're not married and happy. I'll bet at least four of them will answer in the affirmative."

"All right," said the other. "Here comes a man. Let's stop him."

The New Yorker took one look and gave up. The man approaching was Nat Good- win.—[New York Telegraph.

Congregational Church or- ra, assisted by a varied pro- ramme, in the church au- torium, this afternoon. The this orchestra since its organization in 1895.

Several of the larger churches of this city have for a number of years maintained orchestras for use in connection with their Sunday-schools, the individual members of which are chosen from among the members of the church. Of these, the one that has reached the highest degree of proficiency is the orchestra of the First Congregational Church, composed of some fifty young musicians, the director being William H. Mead.

When it is considered that the membership of this orchestra is composed entirely of amateurs, the auditor is surprised that it undertakes the playing of such weighty numbers as form the greater of its programmes. Edwin House, baritone, was the soloist of the evening. He rendered "El Canto del Presidario" (S. M. Alvarez,) and "The Two Grenadiers" (Robert Schuman.) The orchestra will give two more popular concerts in the present season.

Mabel McKinley, one of the most popular women on the vaudeville stage and the favorite niece of President McKinley, will be seen at the Los Angeles Theater the week of March 6. Miss McKinley is a soprano of renown, while many of her compositions have been sung in every part of this country.

PAY CAR FARE OR WALK.

Free Transportation Limited by Law to Employees, and the Railroads to Call in All Other Passes.

Users of free passes on steam and electric roads, city street car lines and interurban lines, except employees, are now prohibited from soliciting, accepting or using free transportation within the State. It is all on account of the railroad bill signed by the Governor Thursday. Instructions were received at the Southern Pacific offices here yesterday to call in all forms of free transportation held by other than bona-fide employees. Similar action will be taken at once by the Santa Fe and Salt Lake railroads.

Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Pacific Electric, obtained a copy of the bill late yesterday afternoon, and today an order will issue prohibiting the further issue of free passes and calling in those outstanding. This order will include the Los Angeles Pacific, the Los Angeles and Redondo and the city lines in Riverside, Redlands, and San Bernardino. Similar action will be taken by the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, and other steam and electric lines within the State.

HOTEL MEN KEEP UP FIGHT.

Special Representative of Los Angeles Association Goes to Sacramento to Oppose Several Bills.

C. C. Loomis of the Angelus Hotel left last night for Sacramento, as the special representative of the Los Angeles Hotel Men's Association to oppose several obnoxious bills.

One of these, the eight-hour bill for women employees, was killed in one form. There was another bill making it illegal to employ women in service more than ten hours a day. This bill was so deftly amended that it now means an eight-hour bill in all its sections, and it is to kill this second attempt of union laborites to foist themselves upon Los Angeles in devious ways that he is going North.

The rope bill is also one that the hotel men are determined to defeat. Every firs-class hotel in the State has wired representatives of the impossibility of the legislation on this affair.

There are several new pet measures of country legislators that are not looked upon favorably by the local hotel fraternity, who also have the backing of the San Francisco hotel men in their efforts to squelch the undesirable legislation.

If you have trouble in getting rid of your cold you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no

UNIVERSITY MEN ARE ARRAIGNED.

STANFORD PROFESSOR CONDEMNS STUDENT LIFE.

Says Average Collegian Devotes Too Much Time to Undergraduate Activities and Has Disregard if Not Contempt for Studies—Career of Freshmen Is Traced.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 10.—The average college student lacks definiteness of aim, has disregard if not frank contempt of scholarship, and is unproportionately engrossed in student affairs, are the charges made by Dr. O. L. Elliott, registrar of Stanford University, in a pamphlet entitled "University Standards and Student Activities," which has just been issued.

Dr. Elliott has built up a strong indictment of the modern college man. He terms students' affairs "the monstrous structure of student activities," and says entirely too much time is devoted to them by the average student.

He describes the career of a mythical freshman at a composite college.

"For days, weeks even, before the opening of college, old students have drifted in. They have not done this in order to consult the authorities the better to plan and prepare for the studies of the year. They have plans of their own. They are at starting the wheel within the wheel. They are about the planning of courses in athletics, in dramatics, in rushing, in tubbing, in college traditions generally. They have their own uses for the incoming freshman class and their own trying and elaborate admission requirements.

"While the academic sideshow of lectures and recitations is getting started in halting fashion, the freshman is in the fierce struggle and joy of real college life. As free of conventional wrappings as nature made him, he is paraded and tubbed in open daylight about faculty lawns and campus houses. When finally initiated into the university the main object of the freshman is to keep from flunking out; for as yet absolute immunity has not been achieved, and real college life is too pleasurable to be hazarded too far.

"Once in a while the committee—blankety symbol of all that is hateful in an otherwise lovely environment—connects with some luckless offender, who, bruised and bewildered, presently finds himself at the edge of the campus. All of which would be tragic, were it not so grotesque, for but a single head has been hit of a multitude just below the line of the breastworks. More and more absorbing are the activities of the college of student life; more and more the faculty's college and its obstrusive exercises become an incubus."

Dr. Elliott finds his solution for the evils of college life in a strict regulation of the student activities by the college authorities.

"The main point is the will and determination of Alma Mater to have and to have respected standards of is confidently recommended for all medium and large figures; they accomplish the reduction of hips and give a long, graceful, sloping figure below the waist without lacing or strapping in an uncomfortable manner:

The Rengo Belt is boned with double watch-spring steel, which is absolutely guaranteed not to rust. The reinforcing belt worked over the hips and front of the corset is in just the right place to form lines of newest style without the least uncomfortable stiffness or tightness.

We carry this corset in such a diversity of models that correct fitting is merely a matter of a short time, with the assistance of our corsetieres.

REAGAN SURE OF WINNING.

Confident of His Ability to Beat Young Rivers.

Has Been Working All Winter at Athletic Club.

Friends Think He Is in Very Good Condition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jimmy Reagan, ex-bantam champion pugilist of the world who has been a resident of Portland during the past several months, left for Los Angeles tonight to meet young Rivers, the young Mexican fighter, who recently defeated Danny Webster.

Reagan has been working consistently all winter and during the past few weeks he has taken his exercise at the gymnasium of the Portland Police Department Athletic Club. His many friends who have watched him say he is in perfect condition.

Before leaving Reagan announced that he was confident of winning and in the event that he is successful he intends to go East and camp on the trail of Frankie Conley and Johnny Coulon.

RIVERS WAKES UP.

SIGNS TO MEET REAGAN.

Young Rivers, the local featherweight who tried to hold up Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club for a fight with Jimmy Reagan and was turned down, came to his senses yesterday, interviewed McCarey and agreed to fight Reagan for the percentage originally offered.

Consequently the fight with Reagan is on for the Vernon arena on the afternoon of February 22. This seems to settle the fight card for the coming holiday unless there is another senseless squabble over weights, as there was a week ago between Chico and Austin. Both main eventers have now agreed on terms and weight and that should settle matters.

Naturally the Lauder-Mike Memsic card that was substituted Thursday has been called off in a way and yet part of it has been transferred. Instead of being on as top-liners Lauder and Memsic will fight the semi-final while Chico and Austin will open the show.

This seems like a cracking card and should provide the bugs with plenty of excitement for all of the pugs on it have shown to good advantage in the past. Little is really known here of Reagan and Mike Memsic, but the other boys have appeared in the local rings a number of times.

Wolgast and George Memsic are carded for the Vernon arena on March 17, but this bout is in doubt for Wolgast has just signed to meet Knockout Brown in New York for ten rounds on March 3 and if Ad survives that fight he will not be in shape to travel across the country and fight such a tough one as Memsic.

JOHNSON JOY RIDING.

RUNS AWAY FROM COPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An unbelievable and almost unthinkable thing has happened. Jack Johnson, incentive for "Hopes of the White Race," and motorcycle cops, exceeded the speed limit today, and did it with such gusto that he was not caught, but is to be arrested tonight on a warrant sworn to by Patrolman W. L. Celnar, who reported at the Central police headquarters this afternoon to tell a tale of "Spo'tin" Jack's iniquity.

The time was shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. Jack was in a hurry. He drove his big touring car down McAllister street at a recorded speed of thirty-seven and a half miles per hour, and when Patrolman Celnar saw the big smoke on the hill route he called out: "Stop, Jack; stop, I say." However, nothing like that happened. J. Johnsing just threw his car "into the high" and vanished in a cloud of gasoline and dust.

The officer at once reported at headquarters for a warrant, and hopes to be able to prove to the offender that a friendship spurned is an awful thing.

OLDFIELD GIVES IT UP.

Rebellion in Mexico Causes Cancellation of Auto Racing Dates—Jeff Also Flunks.

Barney Oldfield, who shipped four racing autos to Mexico City about ten days ago with the intention of giving a race meet there on February 18 and 19, has called the meet off and will bring his cars back to this city on account of the unsettled condition of affairs in the northern part of the republic. His cars were delayed some days at El Paso on account of the insurrecto trouble and, after he got them started toward the capital, he decided he would not make the trip.

One reason for his action was that Jim Jeffries, who had promised to make the trip with him, flunked out of it owing to some private business that needed his attention in this city. Barney will remain here for six weeks and then go to the northern part of the State to fulfill racing engagements that will take him up as far as Portland.

ON THEIR HONEYMOON.

Fast French Motorcycle Rider Brings Pretty Bride to See Him Race American Cracks.

Georges Renel, the French motorcycle speedster, who is matched to race F. E. Whittier at the Coliseum on Sunday, is just over from Paris on his honeymoon.

He married a pretty blue-eyed French lassie just before leaving the city on the Seine four weeks ago. Renel says he came over to beat Whittier and De Rosier, but those who have associated with him since he reached Los Angeles say he is emphasizing the honeymoon part of the trip as well.

Georges has hardly permitted the little French lady to be out of his sight since he arrived in the city. She is with him in the shop and at the track, where he has been trying out the new "Anzani" twenty-two-horse-power motorcycle.

PASADENA MATINEE.

Driving Club to Pull Off Races Which Have Been Postponed Several Times.

PASADENA, Feb. 11.—The driving matinee of the Pasadena Driving Club, which was scheduled for two weeks ago, and again for one week ago, but was postponed both times on account of a slippery track, is to be held at Tournament Park today. The track is now in prime condition.

There will be five races. Entries in the 2:40 trot are: Dena C, owned by Arthur Cuthbert; Bonnie, owned by J. W. Dubbs; St. Patrick, owned by Louis Schender.

The second race is a 2:30 trot; entries, White Sox, owned by W. G. Durfee; Dick, owned by L. N. Merritt; Pasadena, owned by W. G. Durfee; Cora, owned by C. M. F. Stone.

The 2:25 pace: Entries, Stormy Hal, owned by Harry Snow; Dolly Zombro, owned by William Whitney; Lottie, owned by W. G. Durfee.

The 2:20 trot: Entries, Crisis, owned by William Morgan; Lottie, owned by Revell English; Happy Clay, owned by Nesmith & Co.

Free-for-all pace: Entries, Blanch, owned by Clarence Berry; Welcome Mac, owned by Sam Watkins; Jeff, owned by Clarence Berry.

The comical feature of the matinee will be a burro race, in which the burros will be driven by well-known merchants of Pasadena.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET.

Four City Institutions to Compete at Hollywood—Entries Graded According to Classes.

An interscholastic relay and jump carnival between the four grades in the Los Angeles High Schools with no points awarded is to be held at the Hollywood High School field this afternoon.

The competition is to be strictly between the athletes of the same class in high school. Only ninth grade men can compete against those from the other schools in the same grade. This holds good for the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

L. A. High, Polytechnic, Manual Arts and Hollywood High Schools are to be represented. Four eight-men relay teams are entered from each. One team will represent each of the grades so that every running event will include thirty-two sprinters.

The relay races are to be alternated with broad and high jump contests. The competition is expected to be close as the athletes are well matched. Each man can compete in only one race according to the arrangement.

Other track and field events will be necessarily eliminated on account of the time. The relay and jumping with each class entered separate will make twelve events so that the programme will likely last as long as a regular field meet.

The relay races will be one mile each. Each contestant will have to run only 220 yards. Thus only the sprinters from the schools will have a chance to compete in these races.

HE'S AFTER M'ARDLE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nick Williams is after Harry McArdle, former shortstop for the Seals, for his Portland Northwestern Club. Nick had a talk with Danny Long yesterday, based on the assumption that Long is not altogether satisfied with McArdle. He received no definite promise and will not know whether the infielder will be turned over to him until after the spring training trip of the local team. Long has promised Cliff Blankenship of Tacoma first crack at any infielder he does not need.

Too Much Class.

BUNDY BEATS SINSY AGAIN.

Northern Champ Victorious in Straight Sets.

Titled Englishman Proves an Easy Victim.

Finals Are Scheduled for Decision Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With Sinsabaugh starting off with a rush that put Tom Bundy on his mettle those who had banked on the runner-up to Larned, the national champion, as the favorite to contest with Maurice McLoughlin for the Coronado Country Club championship, at first doubted their judgment. The two best tennis players of Southern California were engaged in the finals of the present tournament. The pace set by Bundy, however, was too hot for Sinsabaugh to follow.

He played through the first set with bulldog tenacity, and held his adversary to a 6-4 score. In the second set Sinsabaugh, like a race horse, appeared to be winded and finished the play far behind, Bundy winning 6-2. As the match was three best in five, Sinsabaugh came back strong in the third and forced his worthy opponent to exert himself. Both made brilliant plays. The largest crowd in attendance since the tournament opened cheered each player in turn. Each mixed up his work with fancy strokes with a rapidity that kept the applause continuous for several minutes at a time. Bundy was too speedy at the close, winning the set 8-6.

Another interesting contest was in the mixed doubles, Mrs. B. O. Bruce and Sinsabaugh defeating Miss Katherine Richards and Herd in fast playing 6-4, 6-2.

The challenge match between Bundy and McLoughlin for the championship and the challenge cup will be played at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Each of these players has won the cup twice and tomorrow's contest will decide the ownership. The finals of the women's singles will also be played by May Sutton and her sister, Mrs. B. O. Bruce. Semi-finals in the men's doubles and the mixed doubles are yet to be played. These are carded for tomorrow morning, to be followed by the finals.

Eligible for the mixed doubles are Miss Mannix and Sunberg, Miss Sherk and Young, Mrs. Bruce and Sinsabaugh, May Sutton and Mace. The hottest kind of a contest between May Sutton and Mace and Mrs. Bruce and Sinsabaugh is looked for.

In the women's specials singles Miss Fenton, Miss Richards, Miss Sherk and Miss Toedt will play the semi-finals tomorrow morning. The men's doubles will be a contest for the finals between Bundy and McLoughlin against Sinsabaugh and Wayne. This is looked forward to with considerable interest from the fact that four of the fastest players on the courts will be in the game at the same time.

Lord Innes-Kerr, the English polo ist, today made his first appearance on the court, being pitted with Cheever Cowdin against Bundy and McLoughlin. The latter pair disposed of their opponents in easy fashion. The results:

Men's singles: Sinsabaugh won from Mace, 7-5, 6-2; Bundy beat Young, 7-5, 6-4; Bundy beat Sinsabaugh, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6.

Women's singles: Mrs. Harvey beat Miss Richards, 6-1, 6-1; Mrs. B. C. Bruce Beat Miss A. Fenton, 6-1, 6-0; Miss Toedt beat Mrs. Curtis, 6-3, 6-3; May Sutton beat Miss Alice Mannix, 6-0, 6-0; May Sutton beat Mrs. Harvey, 6-0, 6-0.

Women's singles, special: Miss Fenton beat Mrs. Curtis, 6-3, 6-0; Miss Richards beat Mrs. Wilson, 6-3, 6-4; Miss Sherk beat Mrs. Barbee Hook, 6-0, 6-3.

Men's doubles: Bundy and McLoughlin beat Lord Innes-Kerr and Cheever Cowdin, 6-0, 6-4; Sinsabaugh and Wayne beat Waddell and Curtiss, 6-2, 6-0; Bundy and McLoughlin beat Gabrial and Sunberg, 6-1, 6-1.

Mixed doubles: Miss Mannix and Sunberg beat Mrs. Hook and Gabrial, 6-0, 4-5, 6-4; Miss Sherk and Young beat Mrs. Curtis and Mr. Curtis, 6-3, 6-3; May Sutton and Mace beat Miss Fenton and Kendall, 6-0, 6-0; Mrs. Bruce and Sinsabaugh won from Miss Richards and Herd, 6-4, 6-2.

MANY DOGS BARKING.

Number of Entries From Southern California in Canine Exhibit at Del Monte.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DEL MONTE, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The annual Del Monte Kennel Club event opened at Hotel Del Monte at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the fine weather bringing out many local people aside from men and women of prominence from San Francisco and other northern counties, directly interested in the canine show. Among owners of the large and small animals in attendance are Mrs. Forgues and Miss Jean Forgues, Los Angeles; Mrs. and Miss Hopkins, Sherwood Kennels, Menlo; Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Murphy, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Kobel, San Mateo; Mr. and Mrs. Anton Korbet and Mrs. W. A. Beck, Salinas; Harry Hastings, president of the club, San Francisco; Joseph King, Mrs. C. J. Lindgren, Mrs. Carl Curtis, John Peters, Mrs. Wm. Kohl, Mrs. J. G. Foster, McAle and John Peter of Pasadena.

Mrs. Rosenberg is managing the show with John Bradshaw, judge. Nearly every kennel in the State is represented, some 150 dogs showing up at their best. Some forty were decorated with ribbons during the afternoon and the judging continues through tomorrow night, when at 9 o'clock, the grand trophies will be awarded.

BROWN-WOLGAST RETURN MATCH.

BLACKS ARE TRIMMED.

McCormicks Defeat Them Again in Fast and Snappy Game on the Vernon Grounds.

The McCormicks again walloped the Giants by a 3 to 2 score out at the Vernon grounds yesterday afternoon in a game that drew a fair sized crowd of fans. Wade heaved eight innings for the McCormicks and then gave way to Lafferty who finished the game.

Mooney was the pitcher for the blacks and shut out his opponents until the eighth inning when they landed on him for three hits and these, with an error by the blacks gave the Macs three runs. McKay, Lindsay, Wright and Harris played brilliant ball at all times. Score:

U.S.C. TO MEET TWO.

Burbank and Glendale High Schools to Furnish Competition for University at Bovard Field Today.

The U.S.C. track team is to meet the combined teams of Burbank and Glendale High Schools this afternoon on Bovard Field.

Manager Warren Bovard has been vainly trying to get the S.C. cinder squad into action for the last month. Between rainy weather and cancelled high school dates he has failed so far, but is hoping that nothing will prevent the match this afternoon as the coach says the men are in need of some real competition to liven them up.

Citrus High School had promised to meet the 'varsity today, but for some reason called off the date and arranged to meet Pomona College. Pasadena was lined up next, but the manager cancelled the date late yesterday.

The Burbank and Glendale schools promised to send in their best men and with six pounds advantage in the weights they are expected to make it interesting for the 'varsity.

A number of the best runners on the U. S. C. team will not be present owing to the vacation during the last week. Grant Richardson and Montgomery are both out of the city, so that the Methodists will have no entries in the pole vault.

Crinklaw has not returned to school. Tommy Cohn, Cromwell's new 100-yard wonder, is in poor shape and the coach figures that he can win by only a small margin if at all.

MANY GOLF ENTRIES.

Large List of Players Lined Up for Big Week's Tourney on Links at Del Monte.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DEL MONTE, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The registration for the Del Monte Golf Club tourney, which opens a week's play here tomorrow, is much larger than for any similar winter event, some thirty-five male devotees already appearing on the list, in addition to ten ladies. Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Berkeley, Pasadena and Los Angeles, as well as Chicago and New York City clubs, have representatives.

From the North are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Peter Kerr and Edward Cookingham of the Waverly club, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ainsworth, G. R. Andrews, G. C. Ford, Ada Howsworth, Mrs. Elizabeth Ballee and Alexander Ballee, from Seattle; Archer Martin, from Tacoma; W. Northbean, from Victoria.

From the California clubs are the following: J. Crooks, Marin county; R. W. Steel, Marin; Carl H. Steel, Bryn Mawr; C. E. Maud, San Francisco; E. K. Johnstone, Linda Vista; H. S. Black, Ingleside; E. B. Murphy, Burlingame; Raymon Regstians and Dennis Seeman, Clairmont club; F. A. Wilkins, Pasadena; D. Grant, Burlingame; Myrtle Smith, Lafayette club; Mrs. H. R. Warner and Miss Alice Warner, Del Monte; Maj. W. K. Wright, Will Davis, C. A. Stewart and F. A. Wilkens, Presidio; Mrs. A. M. Lake, Pacific Grove.

It is anticipated a record-breaking contest will be enjoyed.

PLAYERS FOR PORTLAND.

CLEVELAND (O.) Feb. 10.—The Cleveland baseball club announced today the release of four players to the Portland Club of the Pacific Coast League. They are Pitchers Elmer Koestner and F. Breaden, Infielder Roger Peckinpaugh, and Catcher Jack Bradley. Koestner was bought from the Los Angeles Club in 1909, and was with the local club all of the 1910 season. The others joined the club at the close of the last season.

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada, that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

EIGHT HORSES ARE ENTERED.

Waterhouse Cup Race Today Draws Out Many.

Owners Keeping Nags Working for Getaway Money.

Sales Continue With Speedy Ones Under Hammer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eight shifty distance horses are candidates for the Waterhouse cup at two miles and a quarter, which will be run tomorrow at Emeryville. E. Moyne has entered three of his string for the prize, but, with the coming of the rain, he declared that Chester Krum is a doubtful starter.

In case the Sir Hercules horse is scratched Moyne will depend on Whidden and Star Actor. Azo has shown a preference for the distance. Sir John should also go well at the distance, while Clamor and Fulletta are in good shape and must be given a chance. Markie M. looks to have the speed of the field, but it all depends if he can travel the route.

The probable jockeys who will have mounts in the race are as follows: Mentry on Chester Krum, Martin on Markie M., Taplin on Sir John, Selden on Fulletta, J. McIntyre on Azo, Rosen on Whidden, Thomas on Clamor and Radtke on Star Actor.

The Emeryville owners are certainly keeping their horses busy these days trying to land getaway money. No less than eighty racers are entered for today's races, which is undoubtedly a record number for the bay track. Every one of the seven races, with the exception of the fourth, have twelve entries and Starter Dwyer will have his hands full handling the big fields.

Ed White expects to get under way Saturday for Juarez with the horses of R. J. MacKenzie. Jockey Eddie Taplin will likely remain over until Monday and then go south.

There will be a sale in the paddock at noon tomorrow in which a number of horses will be put under the hammer. "Conductor" McManus will sell Tom Flinn, Dublin Minstrel, Mr. Bishop, Squireda, Academist, Port Arlington and Prince of Bohemia. George Parker will put up Rosevale and Hooray. C. Horning will dispose of Ilex, J. S. Wilson's Howard Pearson, Beside, Luisa B. Albetto and Coonskin will go to the highest bidder and W. P. Maxwell will sell his saddle horse. J. A. Magrane will be the auctioneer.

Barney Schreiber's auction sale was not much of a financial success. Eleven head were sold for the paltry sum of $2,000. Dargin, winner of six races at the meeting, was put up for sale and brought a bid of but $150. Judge Henderson drew an offer of $250 and both horses were brought in. Most of the horses sold were untried two-year-olds which were bred on Schreiber's California farm.

Andy Blakely lost Ossabar after the third race, for J. F. Moore put in a claim for the mare and secured her for $75.

Riddle was suspended for three days by Starter Dwyer for failure to keep the post position in the sixth race while on Bambro. Twilight Queen reeled when the barrier was released, and Bambro was knocked sideways, which ruined whatever chance he had of winning.

Fogarty was fined $25 for misbehavior at the post with Sake in the fifth race.

OAKLAND RACES.

OFFERS LIMA BEANS TO SHOW.

MANAGER FOR THE GROWERS WRITES ABOUT IT.

Willing to Fill the Hall of the Pacific Land and Products Exposition With a Display of the Nutritious Legume and Give Stickpin Souvenirs and Recipe Books.

The Lima bean will play an important part at the Pacific Land and Products Exposition if the Executive Committee of the land show will let Ventura county have its way. From Oxnard, J. W. Waterman, manager of the Lima Bean Growers' Association, has written that if the management of the exposition will set aside one day between March 18 and April 2 to be known and advertised as Lima Bean Day he will make it his business to line up the boards of trade in his county for an exhibit that will make the Lima bean immortal in the memory of visitors to the big show.

"We will fill that exposition hall from floor to roof with Lima beans if you will let us," wrote Waterman. "Every visitor to the exposition will be presented with a Lima bean stick pin, and a cooking booklet telling a thousand or more ways for preparing this vegetable. The exploitation of Lima beans is our business in life and we don't care how much money we spend doing it."

Los Angeles realty men who are interested in Arizona lands, particularly in the territory tributary to Yuma, are desirous of having Arizona adequately represented at the land show. Among those who are taking a practical interest in the Arizona exhibits is Everett P. Teasdale, who is personally taking the matter up with representative Yuma Valley men. Teasdale is particularly anxious that Yuma shall have as good an exhibit as that from the Imperial Valley.

The Board of Trade of Wilcox, Ariz., will have a booth on the ground floor of the exposition hall. H. A. Morgan, secretary of the organization, conferred yesterday with officials of the land show relative to a fine display for the exploitation of the territory's resources.

A telegraphic request for information on the exposition was received yesterday from the Citizens' Club of Chehalis, Wash., an organization of boosters who do not want to miss any legitimate chance to advertise their particular part of the great Northwest.

The publishers of the West Coast Magazine have requested an allotment of space for a booth, their purpose being to advertise to good advantage that publication.

ENTICES CHILDREN TO ROOM.

Mexican Arrested After Door Was Smashed by Officer—Gives Liquor to Boy and Both Get Drunk.

Philip Carmona, a Mexican, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Lee Marden for enticing Efren Avalon, an 8-year-old boy, to his room, No. 716 New High street, and plying him with liquor. The little fellow was removed to the Receiving Hospital in an intoxicated condition, but was later able to return to his home.

According to the boy, Carmona enticed himself and two little girls to his apartments under promise of giving them candy. When he got them there he locked the door, and made the boy drink considerable cheap wine. The girls managed to make their escape, but the boy was held prisoner.

For over an hour Carmona is said to have kept the boy there. Neighbors finally because aroused by his screams, and the police were notified. Patrolman Marden forced in the door, and placed Carmona under arrest. He was intoxicated when taken into custody. Avalon lives with his parents at No. 719 North Broadway.

GIRL SOULMATE MISSING.

on Mrs. Norton by her husband's acts. Judge Conrey ruled, however, that the change of the name attached to it did not alter the intrinsic nature of the offense charged. He stuck to the statute and it seems to be up to the lawyers to find Miss Ewing.

IS SHE HERE?

So far as can be ascertained, the only basis for the reports that she is in Los Angeles or its vicinity are that she did live here at one time. They seem, however, to lose color in the light of Mrs. Norton's assertion that the alleged soulmate took up her residence here because the indignant wife made her, actually firing her bodily from San Francisco. During her stay here Miss Ewing was employed in a clerical position by one of the wholesale stationery houses on Los Angeles street. Her one-time intimates hereabouts know her no more, however. The art studio where she was employed in San Francisco has not seen her in months. It is commonly reported that she has left the State.

The trouble she is alleged to have stirred up in the Norton family dates from the time she took up her abode at No. 816 Fell street, San Francisco, more than a year ago. Barely a block from the paper man's residence, it is alleged that it was not long before a very considerable intimacy sprang up between them, without the knowledge of Mrs. Norton. The deposition of the landlady of the apartment-house where lived the "affinity," which will be introduced into the evidence, is reported to set forth a number of these things.

The situation got so torrid presently, according to the account, that Mrs. Norton's suspicions were aroused. She instituted an investigation with the result, she says, that Norton made a full confession to her about the middle of January of last year, setting forth the relations she alleges to have existed between them.

Mrs. Norton acted promptly. Forthwith, she says, she went to the home of Miss Ewing and told her she had to leave town. Miss Ewing demurred but there was nothing to it. She just had to go. Mrs. Norton saw to that. She went down and bought Miss Ewing a railroad ticket to Los Angeles, escorted her to the train and watched the last car pull out. Then she went back to her husband, she says, though she did not actually live with him after her alleged discovery.

GOES RIGHT BACK.

Less than two months later, it is alleged, Norton sent for the Los Angeles girl and she returned to him. According to the story, Mrs. Norton had already told him that he could choose between them. The new development appears to have been too much and this time Mrs. Norton herself left. She came to Long Beach, where she took up her residence with her mother in a modest home on Atlantic avenue, whence she is directing the campaign.

She is a quiet, soft-spoken, housewifely sort of person, apparently about 25 years old. Miss Ewing is 24, of a strikingly handsome and dashing type. Norton himself refuses to discuss the Norton himself is said to be nearly twenty years her senior.

Mrs. Norton refuses to discuss the case, as do her attorneys, Denio & Hart, of Long Beach, except to intimate that they hope for a rehearing next week, whether or not the Ewing girl is forthcoming.

"TRUSTY" MAKES HIS ESCAPE.

Becomes Tired of His Monotonous Life in City Jail and Flits Away. Police Expect to Capture Him.

Joseph McKenna, an ex-convict who has been serving a sentence of six months in the City Jail, made his escape yesterday afternoon. McKenna was employed about the stables under the City Jail as "head trusty."

McKenna is a well-known character, and the officers believe that he will soon be recaptured. He was arrested a month ago by Detective Carroll, while endeavoring to sell six watches to a ranchman for the munificent sum of $10. The rancher had been imbibing a bit freely, and McKenna was on the point of consummating his sale when the detective happened along.

So model a prisoner did McKenna make that he was chosen head stable man several days ago. His work took him into the basement during the afternoon hours. Just how he made his escape is a mystery, but it is believed that he was aided from the outside.

CHINESE BOY IN CUSTODY.

Father Has Been Searching Through State for Son Who Ran Away to Escape School.

Wong Bing, son of one of the most wealthy and influential Chinese in San Francisco, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Patrolman McCarron of the Chinatown squad, and lodged in the City Jail.

Bing was taken into custody upon the request of his father, who has been searching every Chinese quarter in the State for him. According to the police, Wong ran away from home because his parent insisted on sending him to college. Wong took an early dislike to school, and when his father refused to heed his request, packed up a few belongings, and decamped.

Wong will be held pending the arrival of his father today from San Francisco.

DAWN FISHER PLEADS.

Tells Court in Oakland That She Is Guilty of Horse Stealing—Parents Ready to Bring Girl Home.

Dawn Fisher, the 16-year-old Los Angeles girl, who was recently arrested in Auburn for horse stealing, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Wells in the Superior Court in Oakland and asked for probation, according to an Associated Press dispatch received by The Times last evening.

The girl's father and mother were in court, and said if they were permitted to do so, they would take her home. A report on her case will be made by the probation officers there next Tuesday.

OCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The first Imperial Valley asparagus of the ar arrived yesterday morning. It came om El Centro. Being of the very light- est variety, small and tender of stalk, it ells at 25 cents a pound as against 35 cents r the little northern asparagus which is oming in at the present time. The demand r the Imperial Valley asparagus was suf- ient to take up the five crates which ar- ived. It will be at least three or four weeks fore the vegetable of this kind is moving carload lots. Some of it is going East this time, where prices are high as 31 per und are reported. Mexican tomatoes are lling well and all of the houses which are sporting the stock have a good supply on hd. Prices are practically unchanged. Some the tomatoes jobbed as low as $2.65 per ur-basket crate. Cabbage receipts were very rge and one dealer, to clean up on his ck, sold a large number of sacks at 1½ nts each. The best price on cabbage yes- rday was 50 cents a sack.

There were no changes in the egg market. les of case count were reported at the reg- ar price of 27 cents, a few storages were d to take up the slack left by the cases ld in the week. Only 381 cases were reported in. The demand for butter was very light. here were no changes in quotations as re- rted. Northern prices are holding steady, hich insures a firm local market for a few ys at least. Receipts were 13,325 pounds. Northern storage cheese seemed to be a hite elephant and it was only when the ice was reduced to 18¾ cents that several od sales were reported. Eastern twins sold ery well. They brought 19½ cents a pound. ongorns sold at 18½ cents. Receipts of heese were only 789 pounds.

The potato market continued very steady, nsidering the number of arrivals in the st three days. Receipts yesterday were 8 sacks. Highlands sold at $1.85 in a job- ing way. Oregon Burbanks brought a flat ompoc sold at $2.15 and Idaho brought 15. This same price was realized on Colo- do spuds. Northern white rose jobbed at $ per hundred.

There were no receipts of onions reported. he demand for them was very heavy. Prices re steady. There was practically no change in beans and no arrivals reported. weet potatoes moved slowly. Arrivals in ne days past have just gone over the 300- ack mark. The demand for yellow sweets an exceeds that on red and white sweets ombined.

Arrivals of apples were 750 boxes or about car and one-third. They came from the orth. Spitzenbergs were in small bulk. Bell- lowers also sold well as did winesaps. There ere no changes on prices of apples, which re very firm.

Citrus fruits were all good sellers. The all particularly favored grapefruit. The best uality of this variety of fruit is bringing 3 a box. The low price being paid for ranges in New York is having an effect on he local market.

LITTLE ACTIVITY ON STOCK MART.

GOOD STEEL REPORT FAILS TO STIR SPECULATION.

Prices Open Fairly Strong and Buying Orders Bolster Business in Early Part of Session But Profit Taking Marks Decided Slump. Gould Stocks Active.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Wall street's indifference to the unexpectedly good January report of the United States Steel Corporation today demonstrated the apathetic condition into which the market has fallen. The increase of 34,000 tons in unfilled orders at the end of January was much above expectations and was the first increase to be shown since the publication of the report for the last quarter of 1909. The stock market did little all day. It opened fairly strong and advanced on distribution of buying orders. The rise brought little support and prices fell off when room traders took their profits. Movements thereafter were inconsiderable. Gould stocks were again active and Missouri Pacific advanced to its highest level for the present movement. The weekly report of copper exports showed a decrease of 400 tons, or more than half the total of exports of the previous week. Weekly movements of money to the close of business yesterday showed a cash gain by the banks of $2,262,900 from the interior, indicating that the loss in receipts was smaller than was generally expected. Indications are, however, that tomorrow's bank statement will show a smaller cash gain than has been the case for several weeks. Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,991,100. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members of the New York Stock Exchange, 115 West Fourth st., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The situation was quiet today with commission houses doing the bulk of the business. Price changes as a whole were insignificant. About 2000 Chino changed hands from 22 to 22¾. Giroux ruled fairly firm as did Inspiration and Miami, 2000 Miami sold at 20¾ closed 20¾@20¾. There was a slight improvement in Ray Consolidated in the early trading but later the price eased. Little Rose was the most active of the Cobalts. The Boston coppers were exceedingly dull and without feature. Liquidation in Giroux as a result of the unfavorable annual report seems to have about spent itself in the Boston market where it is now steady at 6¾.

RAILROAD RIDE AND SEA TRIP.

SANTA FE AND STEAMSHIP LINE INTERCHANGE TRAFFIC.

Agreement Reached by Pacific Coast Company and Steam Roads at Chicago Subject to Approval by Interstate Commerce Commission. Espee Creates Invitation Day.

Officials of the Santa Fe Railroad and the Pacific Coast Steamship Company reached an agreement for interchange of passenger traffic in Chicago yesterday. It means that the railroad company can sell tickets from any part of the country to include an ocean ride between any points traversed by the steamship line on the Pacific Coast, and the steamship company may sell tickets to any point on the Santa Fe system or connecting lines.

The telegram received yesterday states that following the usual thirty days required for filing notice with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the agreement will become effective. The arrangement applies not only to round trip, but also to one way tickets, and, it is believed, will enhance the pleasure of touring the West by way of the Santa Fe Railroad.

"Invitation Day."

The Southern Pacific has had printed 4,000,000 postal cards, including views taken in every county in the State. They will be distributed throughout the State March 1. That date is known as "Invitation Day," and all organizations in the State are to unite in an effort to induce every resident to mail one or more of the "invitation cards" to eastern friends with the view of interesting them in a trip to California. The movement originated in a meeting of representatives of the Southern Pacific held in San Francisco yesterday. March 1 was decided upon in order to give prospective tourists a chance to avail themselves of the low colonist rates in effect March 10 to April 10.

Postal Clerks' Outing.

The postal clerks are planning an excursion to Mt. Lowe the 22d inst. and from the plans as outlined, this will be one of the heaviest traffic movements on the mountain division of the Pacific Electric. There are about 400 postal clerks, and each is pledged to sell four tickets for the excursion. The proceeds of the outing are for the purpose of bringing the next annual convention of the organization to Los Angeles.

Shriners to Honolulu.

The memers of Al Malaikah Temple, nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who are going on the Shriners' excursion to Honolulu, will leave Los Angeles Sunday on board the steamer Yale, of the Pacific Navigation Company, for San Francisco. One complete deck on the big new ship has been reserved for the Shriners' special use, and the pleasure of their tour will begin from the minute they leave Los Angeles harbor.

New Golf Train.

The Southern Pacific has arranged to run a special coach to Castorville for the golf tournament at Del Monte. It will be attached to train No. 21 and will run daily through the winter season. There are a number of entries from Los Angeles for the golf tournament.

Arizona Railroad Building.

A dispatch from Phoenix indicates that the proposed Port Lobos Railroad is far from dead. It is shown by a payment at Tucson of $25,000, the third of that amount on a total of $100,000, due from Frank M. Murphy and associates to W. H. Thomson and others for a right of way southward from that city to the Gulf of California. The location surveys have all been finished, as well as all plans for terminals and docks at Port Lobos. It is probable that actual construction of the line will be affected somewhat, as to time and route, by the determination of the El Paso and Southwestern system upon the line of its western extension to a Santa Fe connection at Phoenix.

H. I. Russell has resigned as superintendent of the United Verde and Pacific Railroad, a line owned by ex-Senator W. A. Clark, connecting the copper camp of Jerome with the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix road at Jerome Junction. Though only about twenty-five miles long, the road has heavy traffic.

Mr. Russell has been in bad health and will retire from railroading and move to Los Angeles. He has been succeeded by Neil E. Bailey, who has been assistant superintendnt of the Sonora lines of the Southern Pacific, stationed at Empalme. Mr. Bailey is a well-known Arizonaan. For three years he represented Cochise county in the Territorial Legislature, in one session filling the chair of Speaker. He will be succeeded in Sonora by W. G. Bowman, formerly station agent at Nogales.

A large addition is being made to the Santa Fe roundhouse at Winslow, for the housing of the great Mallet compound locomotives lately added to the road's equipment.

Heavy shipments of wool are now being made over the Santa Fe from Phoenix and points to the northward of this city.

The Arizona and New Mexico Railroad Company, which connects Clifton, with the Southern Pacific at Lordsburg, has enlarged its capital stock from $1,500,000 to $2,300,000 in connection with the addition of the Lordsburg and Hachita Railroad to its assets. The Hachita line, forty miles long, was built by the Arizona and New Mexico for connection with the El Paso and Southwestern system.

New San Dimas Line.

The Pacific Electric will begin the operation of the new seven miles extension of the Covina line, from Covina to San Dimas, this morning. Until the rainy season is over and the new road-bed settles enough to carry the operation of fast through trains, the company will operate a "swing" car from Covina to San Dimas. The schedule on the new line call for six trips a day from the transfer point in Covina to connect with through trains. The first car will be 7:20 o'clock in the morning, and the last at 6:40 o'clock in the evening.

Elks to Ontario.

The Elks here from Salt Lake will close an active festival week in Los Angeles with a special excursion to Ontario and Pomona by way of the Salt Lake today. The party will leave the Angelus Hotel at 9 o'clock and board a special train and go direct to at noon tmorrow in which a number in a reception tendered by the Chamber of Commerce of that city. Then will follow a thirty-mile automobile

THAW III IN PASADENA.

Pasadena was not on the original pre-nuptial programme, which itinerary provided for a trip through the South, visiting New Orleans, thence to Southern California, thence directly to New York, where a steamer was to be taken for France, thence side trips to Italy and Egypt. This itinerary explains the reason for the anxiety of Pittsburgh friends, a few days ago, and started the "lost" report. The friends tried to locate Thaw and his bride, according to the arranged itinerary. They could find no trace of them in Paris or Rome or Egypt. They were positive that Pasadena would not hold them, and they never thought of making inquiry.

But "there is many a slip betwixt the cup and the lip," likewise with the pre-nuptial "water-wagon honeymoon" of the Thaws. They came to Pasadena. The weather was so nice and warm and balmy. It seemed like a dream and then Pasadena, too, is a temperance town, and just ideal for a "water-wagon" honeymoon." Mama Bradley was told about the city, and especially the temperance part of it, and her consent was readily granted.

Then the house was rented and an automobile purchased. A large retinue of Japanese servants was engaged and housekeeping in a California bungalow amid orange blossoms, palms and poinsettias was begun. Society opened its arms wide and the Thaws were given entre.

William Thaw stated yesterday that they will live in Pasadena for some time and may conclude to make it their permanent home. The European trip has been given up permanently and he states he hopes his friends will start no more jokes on him.
